Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 18. [To the Editor of The Times:] Secretary Stimson and the Japanese have conferred on their demands at the disarmament conference. That's like two jurymen getting together and agreeing on their verdict before the court even opens.

We mustn't be too hard on that poor misguided District Attorney at Laredo, Tex., who wanted to arrest Calles and almost caused us war. Maybe he was only following the usual District Attorney's methods. Trying to attract enough attention to become Governor. It's funny about that office, but in every State in the Union it's the same. There should be a clause in every District Attorney's contract "this office does not necessarily entitle you to Governorship ambitions. Keep your mind on your own job."

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

FLYERS DIE IN AFRICA

British Distance Pair Hit Peak

Aviators Striving to Reach Capetown for Air Record Meet Fate in Tunis

Natives Recount Plunge of Plane But Details Still Lacking on Causes

LONDON, Dec. 18. (AP)—Two distinguished pilots of the Royal Air Force met death in an attempt to fly without stop from Cranwell Airdrome in Lincolnshire to Capetown, and thereby establish a new world distance record.

Lord Thomson, Air Minister, late tonight announced that the plane which natives today had reported crashed last night in the Zaghouan region of Tunis, in Northern Africa, was the monoplane of the British pilots, and that both had been killed. He had no further details, but it appeared they had struck a mountain side soon after nightfall.

The men were Squadron Leader A. G. Jones-Williams and Flight Lieutenant A. H. Jenkins.

HOURS OF SILENCE

They left Cranwell early yesterday morning and had kept the Air Ministry informed by radio of their progress until they were about fifty miles northwest of the Mediterranean island of Sardinia yesterday afternoon

More than thirty hours of silence followed and anxiety for their welfare mounted rapidly here. After Lord Thomson informed newspaper men of the fatal ending of the flight he carried the news to the House of Lords, which still was sitting.

"I am sorry to say," he told the members, 'I have just heard that the Fairey-Napier monoplane crashed twenty miles south of Tunis (the city) and both occupants were killed. I have no further details. The report was undated and comes from the Consul-General at Tunis."

NEWS CONFIRMED

The Air Ministry announced that the crash occurred last night. The news was confirmed by the French resident-general at Tunis who reported to Paris that the airplane had been identified as the missing British craft.

The flyers already were credited with having made the first nonstop flight from England to Karachi, India. They covered those 4130 miles last April. It was partly to establish empire communications and partly with the hope of setting a new world distance record that they attempted the 6000-odd-mile flight to Capetown.

TACOMA AID NOT COSTING NAVY MONEY

Charge for Lexington's Power of $250 an Hour Covers Expense of Ship

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Officials at the Navy Department estimated today that Tacoma is paying $250 an hour for the power it is getting from the aircraft carrier Lexington, now tied up at that city to assist in supplying the community with electrical energy in an emergency brought about by a water shortage.

They said this approximate rate is deemed sufficient to pay the cost of the Navy's good Samaritan work and that the government therefore stands to lose nothing in the operation, provided there is no mishap to the power machinery.

The city of Tacoma, it was stated, has agreed to pay one-fourth cent per kilowatt-hour for a connected load of 20,000 kilowatts and 1 cent per kilowatt-hour for current delivered. From this rate it is roughly estimated that the power is costing the city around $250 an hour for a full load, if it is taking that.

Promoters Fight Over Television Device Patents

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Television patents said to be worth $25,000,000 are the pivot of a petition for an injunction and restraining order granted today by Superior Judge Conlan at the request of Eugene D. Core, New York promoter, against William F. Cox, also a promoter, and the Television Laboratories, Inc.

The injunction restrains Cox or the Television company from buying or selling the Farnsworth patents controlling a device for broadcasting radio pictures.

In Core's petition he states he and Cox entered into a partnership to purchase the Farnsworth patents, form a corporation, and market the television device. Core advanced Cox $13,000 to do the preliminary work, and now Cox refuses to make any accounting to Core or to tell him what progress has been made toward the purchase of the patents, Core's suit charges.

PRINCESS TO WEAR 'EM LONG

Marie Jose Decides on Skirts of Wedding Gown Giving Sure Tip for Fashion's Scale

BY ANN SOMERS HOUSE

(Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.)

BRUSSELS, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Princess Marie Jose of Belgium who, within three weeks will be the Crown Princess of Italy, decided today to favor long skirts. That is a sure tip for fashion's scale, as long as it is hovering undecidedly between long and short skirts. The Princess's wedding gown, it was learned today, will be a long, trailing white affair, with paniers of velvet, trimmed in ermine. It will be slightly decollete with no sleeves, but the Princess will wear very long white gloves. Her coat will be lined with ermine, a present of the bridegroom, Prince Humbert, and trimmed with emblems of the Savoy dynasty.

American, English, and Italian reporters are flocking to Brussels these days with the hopes of getting a peep at the Princess's trousseau, knowing that practically every bit of it is being done in Belgium. Flirting desperately with the Brussels couturiers, paying court to the humblest midinette, or forcing their way past the concierges, valets and court officials, the reporters meet everywhere with the most exquisite politeness but firmest silence. This correspondent managed to sneak into the couture houses, however, and get an idea of what the Princess's trousseau looks like.

IN ALL-WHITE OUTFIT

Leaving Brussels the night of January 3, tightly wrapped in a precious Canada mink fur cut along straight lines, Princess Marie Jose will change into a very different outfit shortly before reaching Rome, Sunday, January 5, at 10 a.m. A dazzling figure garbed in all white will be the Princess when she meets her fiance when she steps out of the royal train.

Her little white-draped hat will let her blonde curls peep out. A three-quarter length coat of white moire will be wrapped around her slender, tall figure and her white moire frock will be ankle length. Her coat will be trimmed with white fur.

Ensembles in pastel shades are the leading idea throughout the trousseau. One pink beige satin evening gown with a coatee to match is particularly charming. Gray silk velvet, pastel blue georgette or gold and pale blue lame will make up her formal frocks.

BRILLIANT RED

Only a few garments will be in brilliant red as, for example, a silk velvet wrap with white fur. All of her hats will be of soft, silken materials in colors to match her costumes. No frocks will be copies of Paris models, for the Princess has

DAM PLANS REPLY SENT BY ARIZONA

Governor Tells Wilbur of Surprise at Power Delay as Pact Isn't Being Sought

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Dec. 18. (AP)—Gov. Phillips, in a telegram sent to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur tonight, expressed surprise that final Boulder Canyon Dam power allocations are being held up by Wilbur in apparent belief that Arizona, California and Nevada are to attempt further to reach a tri-State agreement.

The telegram was in answer to one from Secretary Wilbur in which the Interior Secretary informed the Governor that pending completion of the tri-State negotiations, the allocations would be delayed. Gov. Phillips informed Secretary Wilbur that Arizona, California and Nevada have not conferred since the close of the power hearings held by the Federal government, and that he was not aware that Wilbur's expectation of further negotiations by the three States was holding up the allocation program. Arizona several weeks ago withdrew from the tri-State parley, with the expressed opinion that agreement with California is impossible.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. MANY PERISH AS STORM LASHES MIDDLE WEST

Death Stalks Abroad Amid Snow and Ice While Winds Rage; Chicago Suffers Heavily

BY JOHN P. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Accompanied by gales of cyclonic intensity, the Storm King, raging and snarling, swept into the Central States today and by nightfall was in full control for the first time in years. His path literally was strewn with death and destruction. While this section felt the full force of his devastating fury, his influence extended far to the west, the east and the south.

He unleashed everything in his destructive repertory — blizzards, cold, gales, snow, sleet, hail, rain and fog. Blizzards piled huge snowdrifts throughout the Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas and as far south as Texas. In other sections sleet and wind wreaked havoc, while heavy, souplike fogs paralyzed the East.

TRAFFIC DEMORALIZED

Everywhere throughout the affected area traffic is demoralized by the drifting, snow-blocked highways and streets and cold that has brought death and suffering. Telephone, telegraph and electric lines are down in many districts, while the wind, reaching at times a velocity of nearly 100 miles an hour, has swept air lines clear of traffic, paralyzing the air mail from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Coast. Railroad and street car service is hampered, trains running from ten minutes to three hours late in all directions.

The coldest weather was experienced in the Northwest, but the howling gales are bringing it east at a terrific pace. Williston, N. D., saw the mercury dwindle to 34 deg. below zero, while readings of 20 deg. below are not uncommon. At Devils Lake it was 32 below and at Havre, Mont., 28 below, while Moorhead, Minn., reported 22 below; Valentine, Neb., 12 below; Omaha, 5 below; Huron, S. D., 14 below; Edmonton, Alta., 16 below; Pierre, S. D., 14 below; Rapid City, S. D., 12 below; Medicine Hat, 24 below; Q'Appelle, 14 below; St. Paul, 4 below; Swift Current, 30 below. The coldest spot in North America was at Prince Albert, Sask., where the temperature fell to 38 deg. below zero.

STORM EXTENDS SOUTH

Oklahoma and parts of Texas, which have been enjoying a belated Indian summer, now are shivering in prairie gales that sent temperatures hurtling 30 deg. in fifteen hours.

At Goodland, Kan., the mercury fell to 2 above zero.

Throughout Illinois and Indiana and the other Central States the drop tonight was precipitate, Southern Illinois cities reporting a fall of 40 deg., and rising snowdrifts that gradually are closing what main highways still are open. Gales, varying from thirty to forty-five miles an hour, have banked the snow as high as eight feet across the roads.

Similar conditions prevail to the north of Chicago, where the gathering drifts are making automobile traffic impossible. Several roads in Wisconsin already are closed tonight and other highways are expected to be blocked soon as the fine snow continues to sift down. On the Geneva road running from Kenosha to Lake Geneva the drifts are six feet deep and the route is impassable.

SNOW IN CHICAGO

In Chicago, the snowfall at 7 p.m. was four and one-half inches after twenty hours of continued precipitation. Blown by a north-northeast wind, the snow piled high against curbs and across street-car tracks, whipped against windshields of automobiles and crippled transportation throughout the city. The gale, rising at intervals to sixty miles an hour, swept the snow from the streets into swirling eddies that made it impossible for motorists to see more than a few feet in front of them and added to the hazards of motoring. Scores of motorists who ventured out were forced to leave their stalled cars in the snow.

Seven lives were lost in the metropolitan section, two men dying from exposure and five being killed in accidents due to the storm. There were innumerable automobile accidents and injuries. Seven persons were hurt when a Lake-street street car, one of 200, jumped the rails because of packed ice and snow, and crashed into an ele-

REVOLUTION PUT DOWN

Chinese Rebels Scattered

Nationalist President Says Collapse of Government Has Been Averted

Reds Still Plundering Areas Left Unprotected After Period of Bloodshed

SHANGHAI, Dec. 18. (AP)—President Chiang Kai-Shek announced today that the back of the rebellion, which brought the Nationalist government "to the brink of collapse" has been broken. The government forces, he asserted, have been victorious over the rebels in the several areas in which they took up arms.

The revolt, however, said Chiang, was the most serious crisis which the government has experienced. For a time, he admitted, "our fate hung by a single hair—the loyalty and bravery of officers and men of the Nationalist army, whose courage never faltered."

REBELS CRUSHED

Asserting that rebellious and mutinous troops have been crushed in widely separated areas, the Nationalist military headquarters stated that the Pukow mutineers, whose numbers reached many thousands as they threatened to march against Nanking, have been dispersed by Nationalist troops. Under the insurgent commander, Gen. Shih-Yu-San, the rebels are fleeing toward the western part of Anhwei Province.

Nationalist troops, said advices from Hankow, are driving northward through Honan Province and are expected to end quickly the revolt under Tang Sheng-Shi, mutinous Nationalist general.

TROOPS SCATTERED

Badly defeated by government troops, the Kwangsi Province rebels and mutinous "Ironsides Division" troops were scattered and their menace against Canton ended, said Canton advices, after they penetrated a few days ago to within a few miles of the city.

Communists, or Red troops, however, continue to prey on unprotected areas, which they plunder. The government dispatched 1600 soldiers from Wuchang to break up a formidable organization in Hupeh Province. The Communists are believed to have units throughout the Yangtze Valley, and are expected to give the government serious trouble before being dispersed.

BLAST BODIES TAX MORGUE

Fifty-nine Killed in Oklahoma Mine Brought Out; Two Rescue Leaders Overcome

McALESTER (Okla.) Dec. 18. (AP)—The bodies of fifty-nine miners, some seared and broken by the violence of the explosion which yesterday made a tomb of the Old Town Mining Company here, and some the victims of afterdamp, the poisonous gas which follows such a blast, taxed morgues here to the utmost tonight.

Weary rescue workers for a time continued the search for two bodies at first believed to be buried in debris and then were called out, leaving the mine deserted. Hugh Rice, owner and manager of the mine announced that all men known to have been in the mine are accounted for.

Only five survived of the men who were in the workings when the explosion, apparently caused by a spark from a cutting machine, occurred. Two fled to safety before the onrushing billows of smoke and gas and three were rescued from a chamber of the mine in which they had been imprisoned for hours. The mine book-keeper expressed belief after the bodies of fifty-nine had been removed, that two more were burried beneath coal and earth in the wreckage of a cutting machine, which had not been found.

RESCUERS OVERCOME

The rescue work, which proceeded slowly in the gas-filled chambers, was not without its casualties. Bob Rutherford of McAlester, district mine inspector, was overcome by gas, but was brought to the surface and revived. Tom Newton, foreman of the Pierce Coal Company, and a volunteer to aid in the recovery of bodies, also suffered from the gas. He was given first-aid treatment. His condition is not dangerous.

Miller D. Hay, chief State mine inspector, who worked thirteen hours in the depths of the mine, returned to the surface today to express the opinion that an explosion

REVENGE KILLER SPREADS DEATH

Three Men Fatally Shot in West Virginia Town

Women and Child Wounded by Released "Drunk"

Vengeance for Jailing Said to Have Been Motive

ROMNEY (W. Va.) Dec. 18. (AP) Seeking vengeance, authorities believe, on those who had sent him to jail, an intoxicated man set forth with a shotgun and a "death list" here today, killing three men and wounding two women and a child.

Walter Crabtree, 35 years of age, the killer, who was released from the County Jail two weeks ago after serving a sentence for possessing liquor, is held tonight in a cell at Keyser, in an adjoining county, authorities fearing the possibility of violence.

NAMES ON LIST

On his persons Sheriff Saville said, a list of names including those of two of the men slain, was found. This is regarded by the Sheriff as a "death list," which Crabtree had intended to complete by adding Saville and former Sheriff Ruckman to his victims.

The slayer first visited the home of Asa Wolford, 28, and killed him as he sat at the bedside of a sick father. The killer then shot and slightly wounded Mrs. Grace Wolford, mother of the man slain, and Mrs. Carrie Wright, a visitor.

From the Wolford place, Crabtree went to the home of Mrs. Blaine Hott, where he shot and slightly wounded Mildred Hott, 11. The reason for Crabtree's attack on this home likewise is a mystery.

OTHERS SLAIN

Crabtree next went to the home of Justice of the Peace H. C. Inskeep, 50, the Sheriff said. Inskeep, who had figured in Crabtree's arrests, was called to his door and killed.

The last victim was Ben E. Miller, county jailer, who was summoned from his quarters at the jail and slain.

Crabtree returned to his home after shooting Miller, the Sheriff said, but set out again. He went to the home of Dr. J. S. Easton, where the physician was treating Mrs. Wright. When a knock at the door was unanswered, Crabtree fired through the door, investigators said.

Crabtree was arrested about an hour later at his home by the Sheriff and a State policeman. He offered no resistance.

A Test Every Man Past 40 Should Make

Medical authorities agree that 65 per cent of all men past middle age (many much younger) are afflicted with a disorder of the prostate gland. Aches in feet, legs and back, frequent nightly risings, sciatic pains are some of the signs—and now a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science has written a remarkably interesting free book that tells of other symptoms and just what they mean. No longer should a man approaching or past the prime of life be content to regard these pains and conditions as inevitable signs of approaching age. Already more than 50,000 men have used the amazing method described in this book to restore their health and vigor—and to restore the prostate gland to its proper functioning. Arrange immediately for this book. Call in person if possible, otherwise mail your request to the Electro Thermal Company, Dept. 8-162, 303 Van Nuys Bldg., Los Angeles—the concern that is distributing this book for the author—it will be sent to you absolutely free, without obligation. Simply send name and address. But don't delay, for the edition of this book is limited.—[Advertisement.

Sea Cheated of Victims as Passenger Liner Sinks

Ship Sent to Bottom and Some of Its Survivors

the vessel probably would have to remain in the channel all night.

In the meantime conflicting reports of just how the collision occurred came out of the fog. Exactly what happened is not known.

The collision occurred shortly before 4:30 p.m. The Fort Victoria was struck amidship on her port side and all messages agreed that before she sank she was listing badly. The Algonquin had a large hole in her bow, but this was reported to be above the water line.

NEARLY MOTIONLESS

Passengers from the Fort Victoria said the ship was practically motionless near the fairway lightship when the Algonquin suddenly slid out of the fog and struck her. Apparently the Bermuda-bound ship had slowed down to drop her pilot.

The impact, as the black bow of the 388-foot Clyde liner with the weight of the ship's 6000 tons behind it, cut into the waist of the Fort Victoria, an even larger vessel of 412 feet and 7800 tons, was tremendous.

After a hasty survey of the huge hole cut in his ship's side, Capt. Francis immediately ordered his wireless men to request all ships to stand by, and, almost at once, followed it with an SOS.

The response was immediate and seagoing tugs and Coast Guard boats were soon on the scene.

Two groups of the Fort Victoria's passengers arrived at pier No. 95 in the North River in two tugs. While the flashlights of photographers boomed, the passengers left the tugs, many of them laughing as though nothing had happened while others wore frightened or bewildered expressions.

Most of them had lost their baggage when the liner went down but all expressed thankfulness for their rescue.

occurred in the west part of the mine, where burned and mutilated bodies were found, by dust ignited in the vicinity of a cutting machine, by a spark. This explosion, he thought, created dust which, in turn, exploded with terrific violence centered in the region of the seventh entry.

RED CROSS ACTIVE

Arnold Kissinger, Joe Ponsella and Frank Gonzales, the three men who were taken alive from a room in the mine, after they had nearly succumbed to the oncreeping gas, were improved today.

Mrs. C. V. Shuman of St. Louis, field representative of the American Red Cross, took charge of relief work today among the families of the dead miners. The work hod been started by the American Legion and the local chapter of the Red Cross.

A plea was circulated for $20,000 for relief fund. Mrs. Shuman said that the families, while not suffering at this time for want of food and shelter, will need money to tide over subsequent requirements.

Woman Takes Death Plunge

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Mrs. F. W. Thompson, 43 years of age, leaped to her death late today from the eleventh story of the California State Life Building. Her body was picked up at the bottom of the light well of the building.

Her husband, an employee of the State Department of Agriculture, identified her four hours after the accident. Thompson stated she had been despondent over ill health for some time.

KELLY PUT NEARER PAROLE

Opinion of Webb Gives Slayer of Mrs. Mellus Credit for Old Time on New Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Possibility that Leo (Pat) Kelly, Los Angeles slayer, may be eligible for parole from San Quentin soon as the result of the recent Supreme Court order changing his conviction from first-degree murder to manslaughter, is seen in an opinion by Atty.-Gen. Webb today to the State Prison Board.

Webb declared the year and three months served by Kelly before his death sentence for the murder of Mrs. Myrtle Mellus was changed is to be included in the new sentence of one to ten years. Under the indeterminate sentence law, a year having been served, the board of prison directors may now fix the exact term he is to remain in prison. Should the board decide to fix a light sentence Kelly will be eligible for parole in the near future.

The Supreme Court's decision ordering the judgment to be modified from murder to manslaughter was based on the finding that there was insufficient evidence to support the murder verdict. In October when Kelly was taken to Los Angeles to be resentenced county officials indicated new evidence had been found which might exonerate Kelly of the crime, but the investigation did not meet with success.

In his opinion Webb also holds that the time Kelly was absent from San Quentin in Los Angeles is to be included in the new sentence.

everything especially designed for her.

A correspondent of the leading Brussels daily, Le Soci, sent a report today stating that Princess Marie Jose asked Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy to grant a general amnesty to all political prisoners on her wedding day. The royal court declares, however, that nothing is known of any correspondence between the Princess and Il Duce. Well-informed personalities doubt the story because such an amnesty would include a man who tried to assassinate her fiance, Crown Prince Humbert.

FIRE TURNED ON HOPKINS IN SENATE

Kansan's Nomination Hit by Tydings, and Capper Rallies to Defense

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (AP)—Opposing the nomination of Richard J. Hopkins to be a Federal judge in Kansas, Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, told the Senate today he will prove the appointee violated his oath of office while Attorney-General of Kansas.

Hopkins, the Maryland Senator said, failed to turn over to the State Treasurer's office fees he had received as required by Kansas law.

"He collected $3086 more in two counties of the State than the total of $11,132.01 he turned over to the State Treasurer for the whole State," Tydings said.

Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, who supported the nomination in the opening debate yesterday, replied that every statement made by the Maryland Senator was "refuted" by the records kept by the offices of the Attorney-General and Treasurer of Kansas.

Taking up statements that Hopkins had worked for the Anti-Saloon League while he was on the Kansas Supreme Court bench, Tydings said "No judge should have any strings tied around him."

"He has shown a disregard for fine ethics," Tydings asserted, "which alone ought to bar him from office."

He added that if the work had been done for an organization which was working against the prohibition amendment that opposition immediately would have been evoked.

Tydings said that while Hopkins was serving as Attorney-General for Kansas, he allowed an assistant in his office to be on the pay roll of the Anti-Saloon League for $100 a month.

MICHELSON ANXIOUS TO WORK AGAIN

Famed Physicist, Just Out of Hospital, Plans New Experiments on Light

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Although but recently released from a hospital room, Prof. Albert A. Michelson, world-famed University of Chicago physicist, will observe his seventy-seventh birthday tomorrow evincing an eagerness to return to his research on the speed of light.

First American to win the coveted Nobel prize and one of the few men who understands the Einstein theory, Prof. Michelson broke an interviewer's moment of silence with:

"I am afraid I am a back number. I believe men make their greatest contributions to the world during the twenty-year span of life between 25 and 45."

Prof. Michelson is more than thirty years past this mark, but he hastened to say that after a rest in the South he will go to California to resume his work in calculating at a greater accuracy the speed of light.

The famed professor gave out his philosophy of life when he said: "Keep amused. Don't take life too seriously."

Some of his pastimes are chess, painting and solitaire.

"Solitaire," he said "is a sort of idiot's pastime but it's a great sleep inducer."

Remus's Liquid Assets All Wet

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Treasure hunters, armed with drills and State and county authority, forced open two safety deposit vaults today in a search for the liquid assets of George Remus, ex-bootlegger. The liquid assets proved to be one quart of Best's Scotch whisky, seven "fifths" of French cognac, Roche's cherry, Walker's dry gin, Gordon's Picadilly cocktail, Haig's dimple whisky, Hennessey's brandy, Hilltop Scotch and various other memories of the pre-Volstead era.

But the millions of dollars the one-time lawyer and convicted murderer declares were hidden by the wife he killed still eluded the searchers.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Two Thompson submachine guns, model No. 21, with extra carrier clips, compensators, magazines and other necessary accessories have been purchased for use at Folsom prison, A. R. Heron, State Director of Finance announced today. The two guns cost $408.60.

With the addition of these weapons guard posts at Folsom prison are equipped with the total of eighteen machine guns. Since the 1927 outbreak at the prison the State has equipped strategic posts with machine guns and rifles, while the less important posts were armed with rifles alone.

LAKE RAGING

The high winds lashed Lake Michigan into a raging sea exceeding that of last October. Towering waves from the lake fell across the outer driveways adding to the destruction of two months ago.

The violence of the biting winds made walking almost impossible and only those who were forced into the street through necessity braved the storm. Public buildings, charities and jails gave refuge to hundreds of homeless persons.

Kansas City reported air traffic at a standstill.

The snow and ice on sidewalks made walking precarious.

In the East, New York City and vicinity were enveloped in a dense fog that delayed several incoming ocean liners and all other harbor traffic, paralyzed air mail service, caused trains to run behind their schedules and caused several fatal accidents.

Unusual weather conditions prevailed today throughout the State. A score of cities upstate were cut off from communication with the outside world by the breaking of ice-laden telephone and telegraph wires.

ICE BREAKS WIRES IN NEW YORK STATE

ALBANY (N. Y.) Dec. 18. (AP)—A score of cities and towns throughout Northern and Eastern New York were cut off today from communication with the outside world, telephone and telegraph lines being broken by the weight of ice.

Seven persons were injured in Schenectady last night either by falling or being struck by falling branches of trees.

Balston Spa was practically isolated. Trolley cars from Schenectady and Saratoga Springs approached to either edge of the village but were unable to force their way through the streets, which were littered with trees and branches.

Saratoga Springs had been without lights since 10 o'clock last night, the wires having given way beneath the weight of tons of ice.

Rain continued to fall throughout a large part of Eastern and Northern New York.

Bay City Women Have Knife Duel

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Two young women slashed each other with the same knife as a climax to an argument today at O'Farrell and Mason streets. Badly cut, both were taken to Central Emergency Hospital, where they were placed under arrest on charges of assault lodged against each other. The duelists gave their names as Miss Thelma Mitchell, 23 years of age, dancer, and Mrs. Le Roy Lockwood Haines, 26.

Miss Violet Rowland, actress, said Mrs. Haines first attacked Miss Mitchell, cutting her arm and leg. Then Miss Mitchell snatched the knife and started cutting Mrs. Haines. Miss Rowland said before the quarrel they attended a party in a downtown hotel.

HOOVER LINKED TO SUGAR FIGHT

Letter Purports to Tell of President's Efforts

Aid Given Cuban Interests, Committee Informed

Lakin Questioned About His Lobby Activities

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (AP)—President Hoover was represented as having sought to bring members of the House Ways and Means Committee and representatives of Cuban sugar interests together during consideration by the committee of the pending tariff bill, in a letter introduced today into the record of the Senate Lobby Committee.

Another letter named Gen. Enoch Crowder, former Ambassador to Cuba, who favors a low sugar duty, as having prepared a memorandum on limiting sugar imports from the Philippines, and as having learned "that the plans of the general staff provide that in case of war any attempt to keep a traffic lane open between the Philippines and the United States would be promptly abandoned."

LAKIN ON STAND

Both communications were written by H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba Company, which deals in Cuban sugar, who was testifying when they were presented. The first purported that the President had instructed Walter Newton, one of his secretaries, to establish the contacts. It was written last April to Mason B. Starring of New York, president of the California and Pittsburgh Utilities Corporation, and was taken from Lakin's files by a lobby committee investigator.

Lakin expressed the belief that nothing had been done in the matter of the contacts. The letter read in part:

"Several members of the committee have appealed to President Hoover and he has instructed his secretary, Mr. Newton, to establish a contact between the committee and ourselves.

"I understand that some suggestion of this came from individual members of the committee. We are to be a little doubtful about this step but in the end would, of course, have to do what President Hoover desires, especially as he seems to be genuinely interested in our cause."

ONLY ONE WITNESS

Lakin, who was the only witness at today's hearing, said he thought the reference was to negotiations for a sliding scale which was suggested as a means of solving the problem of what duty to place on sugar in the tariff bill.

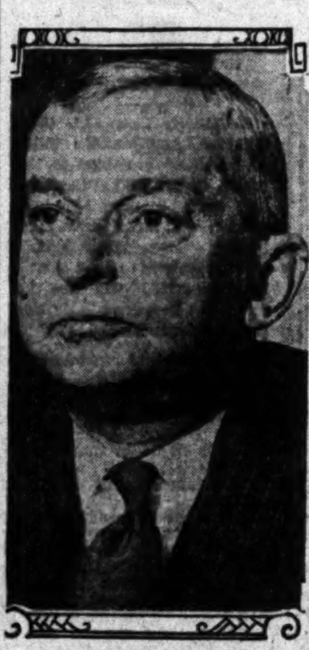
"That is to say," Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, put in, "that Mr. Newton was to bring you and some members of the committee into contact with each other, so that you could discuss the sliding scale with them, is that the idea?"

"Well, I am confused about it," Lakin replied. "It was written a long time ago."

"It is the same matter you are interested in, right now," Walsh said.

Lakin, who has been the witness for several days, has testified that he has been active in advocating a low duty on sugar. His company has extensive sugar holdings in Cuba and Lakin employed Edwin P. Shattuck, New York attorney and friend of President Hoover, to assist in the low sugar duty campaign.

SUGAR MAN TELLS OF LOBBY EFFORTS



H. C. Lakin

"The President gave directions to his secretary to do certain things and they were not done?" Senator Walsh inquired.

FAILS TO REMEMBER

"I am not sure that it was done. I don't remember anything," Lakin replied.

The letter mentioning Crowder was written to M. C. Rionda of the Czarnikow-Rionda Company of New York. Referring to the former Ambassador's memorandum in limiting Philippine sugar imports and the purported information about war plans of the General Staff of the Army, the document said:

"We plan to use this memorandum and this information when we can do so to the best advantage—probably after the matter gets into the Senate. We are inclined to believe that the Secretary of War would support Stimson because any limitation on exports from the Philippines would tend to create political disturbances in the Philippines and increase the work of the War Department."

STIMSON IN PHILIPPINES

Now Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson formerly was Governor-General of the Philippines. He has opposed limiting Philippine sugar exports.

"Where did you get the information that Gen. Crowder had learned what the plans of the general staff were?" inquired Senator Walsh.

"It must have been from him," Lakin said.

The chairman of the lobby committee, Senator Caraway of Arkansas, commented that Crowder "found as a retired officer what the plans were and gave them to you." He asked Lakin, "he was helping you in the tariff fight?"

"Yes," Lakin replied.

HULL MENTIONED

Pressed to tell who had given him the information about the supposed instructions President Hoover had given Newton, Lakin said it might have been Representative Hull, Democrat, Tennessee, a member of the House Ways and Means Committee. Hull denied having given any such information.

Examination of Lakin was completed today and Shattuck was directed to appear tomorrow for examination.

Lakin was questioned by Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, about the employment of Shattuck, partly because of the latter's friendship with the President.

"Is it fair to bandy the name of the President around this way in your correspondence?" the Senator asked.

NOT JUDICIOUS

"Perhaps it hasn't been judicious," Lakin said, "I don't see anything unfair in it."

Lakin said it all "boiled down to whether anything improper had been done?"

"I don't think anything improper was done," he asserted.

"Do you think you have been fair to the President?" Robinson demanded.

"I don't know whether I have or not," Lakin said.

Lakin wrote Dr. Luis Machado of Havana that "through your Du Pont connections" Machado should attempt to persuade the Delaware Senators and Representative to vote on behalf of Cuba.

Machado's reply and a copy of a letter he had written Irenee Du Pont was then read into the record.

Machado's letter to Du Pont requested Du Pont to present the whole sugar question to Senators Hastings and Townsend and Representative Houston, all of Delaware.

The letter said the Cuban cause was just and added "I know you share my views."

M'CORMICK SUIT IN JUDGE'S HAND

Plea to Dismiss Doctor Under Advisement

Dehy Promises Earliest Possible Decision

Final Arguments Hinge on Cure for Millionaire

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 18. (AP)—Superior Judge Dehy took under advisement tonight Mrs. Katherine McCormick's suit for dismissal of Dr. Edward J. Kempf, New York psycho-analyst, as personal physician of her incompetent multimillionaire husband, Stanley McCormick, and removal of Stanley's brother and sister, Harold F. McCormick and Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine, as co-guardians.

Judge Dehy, transferred here from Inyo county to preside over the hearings, which have been under way for nearly a month, said that if "the press of other business does not interfere too much" he will give his entire time to consideration of the evidence until he reaches a decision. He gave no intimation of when he will make public his ruling, but said it will be as soon as possible.

The hearings, which had been in recess since last Saturday, to allow Judge Dehy to attend routine affairs in his own court, came to an end after a day of argument by Newton D. Baker, heading Mrs. McCormick's staff of attorneys, Oscar Lawler, chief counsel for the defending guardians, and others of counsel for both side.

Baker argued that neither of the two physicians now in direct charge of Stanley's case—Dr. Kempf and Dr. William A. White of Washington, D. C., consultant—had held out any hope on the witness stand for eventual cure of the patient. He quoted Harold F. McCormick and Mrs. Blaine as having stated that such assurances previously had been given them by the two doctors.

Combating Baker's arguments, Lawler told the court that Mrs. McCormick had promised Dr. Kempf she would co-operate with him, "and what wonderful progress," he said, "was made during the months she did co-operate. In the fall of 1927 she ceased co-operating. She put her paramount authority ahead of her husband's treatment."

HOSPITALS BILL GIVEN APPROVAL

Senate Passes Measure Authorizing $15,950,000 for Construction Work

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (AP)—Without a word of debate, the Senate today passed the Rogers bill authorizing $15,950,000 for construction of new veterans' hospital facilities throughout the country.

The measure was returned to the House for concurrence in Senate amendments, adding $1,950,000 to the bill. The added sums would provide $700,000 for a new general hospital in West Virginia; $400,000 for a new institution at Salt Lake City, Utah; $400,000 for an addition at Memphis, Tenn., and $450,000 for supplementary construction at Camp Custer, Mich.

The remainder of the authorization would be used for building new hospitals in New York City and Western New York, Alabama, Indiana, Albuquerque, San Francisco and Texas, and for additional facilities at Tucson, Ariz., and other points.

While the legislative machinery was working swiftly for hospital construction, the House bill authorizing an additional $230,000,000 for new public buildings ran into obstacles in the Senate Public Buildings Committee and little hope is held out for its final adoption before the Christmas recess.

DIVORCEE WILL WED FRESHMAN

Santa Monica Student at Nevada School Licensed to Marry Mrs. Hoyt

RENO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Eugenia Bankhead Hoyt, daughter of Representative Bankhead of Alabama, told the truth the other day when she obtained her divorce from Morton M. Hoyt, when she said she is not going to remarry Hoyt again, but that she is going to Honolulu.

Today, under the name of Jeanne B. Hoyt, she obtained a license to marry Lawson Butt, who gave his address as Honolulu. The license was obtained shortly after noon and the couple then started out to be married, but apparently went to a neighboring town, for they have not been wed here, canvass of ministers and judges indicated.

Butt is a freshman student at the University of Nevada, and is the son of Mrs. L. M. Butt of Santa Monica, Cal. The couple intend to go to Honolulu.

State Marriage Records Raised

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Marriages during the first ten months of 1929 totaled 43,454, a gain of more than 4000 over the corresponding period last year, Gov. Young was informed by the Department of Public Health today.

"These figures would indicate," the report given to the Governor by W. M. Dickie, department director, said, "that the lower marriage rate that prevailed following new legislation pertaining to marriage licenses enacted in 1927 has been overcome in part. There is every indication that the marriage rate for 1929 will be higher than that for 1928.

So Let's Stop Stopping and Stop Snobbing

SACRAMENTO Dec. 18, (Exclusive)—Artificially created traffic arterials or stop boulevards produce motoring snobs, and promote rather than relieve motor vehicle congestion, B. B. Meek declared today. He said the unnatural arterials in cities cause traffic jams through the concentration of cars along these favored routes.

"The craze for establishing arterials," declared Meek, "will be carried to such a ridiculous conclusion that eventually the theory will collapse under its own weight. Natural arterials are necessary to protect through traffic, but artificially created traffic lanes are unsound in principle.

"In addition to slowing up traffic in many instances, these arterials create motoring snobs. When drivers get on protected streets in the cities they regard their position as supreme and refuse to yield to the motorists desirous of crossing the arterial."

What success the other planes had or whether they also were obliged to return because of adverse weather conditions will not be known for some time owing to the curtailed use of radio in the Far North.

ROAD PROGRAM GIVEN IMPETUS

House Committee Reports Dowell Bill Favorably

Compromise on Colton-Oddie Measure Also Reached

California Slated for Huge Highway Fund Benefits

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—California's road-building program received a double impetus today when the House Committee on Roads favorably reported the Dowell bill and a working compromise and plan of action were reached by the proponents and opponents of the Colton-Oddie bill.

Under the Dowell bill California stands to get an annual increase of approximately $1,750,000 in Federal aid highway funds. The measure calls for additional appropriations for the national Federal-aid highway program of $125,000,000 for the fiscal year 1932, a like sum for the fiscal year ending in 1933 and an additional appropriation of $50,000,000 for the fiscal year ending in 1931. This last item brings the appropriation for the next fiscal period up to $125,000,000, keeping it on a parity with the other increases.

PROSPECT WITH CENSUS

Judging by past allocations to California, which are definitely prescribed by law, the State is due to receive an additional Federal-aid highway fund of close to $1,750,000 annually on its present basis of population. But as one-third of the allocation is based on the ratio of State population to that of the nation, the figures in the forthcoming census may give California an additional share of the increase.

Representative Englebright of Nevada City, Cal., has agreed to withdraw his opposition to the Colton-Oddie bill and Representative Colton of Michigan, sponsor of the measure in the House, has agreed in return to protect the forest land road appropriations threatened by the bill as it was first submitted.

SUPPLEMENTARY BILL

To perform his share of the bargain, Representative Colton has introduced a supplementary bill protecting the annual appropriation of $7,500,000 for forest land roads and allocating an additional $5,000,000 annually for Federal-aid highways in unreserved and unappropriated public lands, nontaxable Indian lands and other Federal reservations with the exception of forest lands. The $5,000,000 is to be spent under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture, co-operating with Federal and State agencies.

Instead of transferring funds from forest land roads to Federal-aid highways, involving long delays to California's forest road system and the indefinite postponement of the payment of large appropriations, these roads will be built as scheduled, and in addition more than $12,000,000 will be spent on highway construction in the specified lands within the State under the revised Colton-Oddie measure.

TWENTY PROJECTS

Roads of this latter class involve twenty projects in California. On eight of these the estimated cost of construction is $12,922,000. Estimates have not been completed on the other twelve, six of which are in Southern California.

The six projects of Federal-aid forest land highway systems coming under the influence of the Colton-Oddie bill are:

Ridge route project from Castaic Canyon to the north boundary of Angeles Forest; Cajon project, a fifteen-mile road from Devore to summit in San Bernardino National Forest; Cuesta Pass project, a four-mile road from Cuesta to San Luis Creek in Santa Barbara Forest; Cuyama project, a fifteen-mile road from Dutard ranch to Cuyama Creek branch in Santa Barbara Forest; El Cajon-Jacumba project, a twenty-eight-mile road from Alpine to El Posta ranch in the Cleveland Forest, and the Mariposa-El Portal project, a sixteen-mile road from Briceburg to El Portal in the Sierra Forest.

The date for the hearings on the Colton-Oddie bill by the House committee is tentatively set for early in January. It is expected that opposition will be raised by the middle western element in the House but now that the westerners have joined forces it is believed that the bill stands a good chance of passage.

Ortiz Rubio Now 'Up and Around'

BALTIMORE, Dec. 18. (AP)—Pascual Ortiz Rubio, President-elect of Mexico, today is reported "up and around" at Johns Hopkins Hospital, which he entered as a patient Sunday for rest and observation.

It is said examinations had shown a certain amount of digestive discomfort but nothing of serious importance. Rumors that an operation had been performed were denied.

GREAT HUNT MADE FOR KILLER-SUSPECT

Fred R. Burke

WATCH KEPT AT BORDER FOR BURKE

Early Capture Expected of Man Wanted in Many States for Crimes

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Michigan State police were watching at Ecorse tonight for Fred R. Burke, who is hunted for murders and bank robberies in several States, to cross over into Canada at that point. Since the murder of Policeman Charles Skelly at St. Joseph last Saturday and the discovery that the slayer is the man hunted as the leader of the Chicago massacre last February in which seven men were killed, Michigan authorities have been searching for him while Chicago authorities are proceeding on the possibility he may be hiding here.

Chief Investigator Pat Roche of Chicago received information today that made him hopeful of capturing the killer. Several of his men are on secret missions and he said tonight he is expecting developments any minute.

Burke's capture is expected to precipitate a scramble for his custody and the opportunity of putting him on trial. New York, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky are each seeking Burke for one crime or another.

Eastman Confirmed But Southern Senators Request Delay on Jones

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (AP)—The Senate today sent back to the Interstate Commerce Committee for further study the nomination of Robert M. Jones of Tennessee to be a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission after confirming Joseph B. Eastman of Massachusetts for another term on the commission.

Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, made the motion to recommit the Jones nomination. He objected to "rushing" the appointment through the Senate and requested that the committee investigate fully Jones's qualifications for the post.

Black was joined in the motion by Senator George, Democrat, Georgia, who said the Southeast has been without "any active and energetic representation" on the commission for years.

City Utilities Lay Plans to Fight Tax Rise

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Representatives of the city of San Francisco, the Los Angeles Bureau of Water and Power Commissioners and the Modesto Irrigation District met here today in the office of City Attorney O'Toole to discuss preliminary steps to combat proposed taxation of municipally owned public utilities. The Los Angeles delegation was headed by S. K. Decker and the Modesto visitors by A. W. Stratton.

An agreement was reached for the representatives of utilities owned and operated by municipalities to prepare and submit a brief to the State legislative tax committee, now engaged in an investigation of all phases of the California taxation problem.

MANY TO SEEK AGE PENSIONS

At Least 6000 Requests for State Aid to be Made

Applications to be Acted on After First of Year

Erroneous Reports Cause Department Worry

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Mrs. Anna L. Saylor, director of the Department of Social Welfare, today told Gov. Young that while less than 200 applications have been received for State aid under the Needy-Aged Act passed by the last Legislature, reports from county officials indicate that approximately 6000 applications are being investigated and probably will be forwarded to the department after January 1.

While no applications will be approved before January 1, Mrs. Saylor said the department already has started on the task of registering, indexing, reading and determining action on cases. No State funds will be expended until after July 1, when claims from county auditors will be received and audited.

Upon "misleading publicity" Mrs. Saylor placed the blame for widespread misunderstanding relative to the operation of the act. Constant correction and explanation has been necessary, she said, to refute reports that the State will pay money direct to old people, that all payments will begin in January, and that every applicant will receive the maximum amount of $30 per month.

Aid may be granted under the act, she pointed out, to any person 70 years of age or more, who has been a citizen of the United States and of California for at least fifteen years prior to making application for aid, who is not an inmate of a jail or asylum, and who has no children to support him or her. In no case will the amount of aid when added to the income of the applicant from all other sources allow him more than $1 per day.

New York Only 600 Ahead in Passenger Vehicles

Figures Show Rapidity of Increase

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—California's automobile registration has passed the 2,000,000 mark and the number of passenger cars in the State is now only 600 less than in the leading State, New York, B. B. Meek, State Director of Public Works, announced today.

On November 30, 2,015,413 motor vehicles were registered in the State, an increase over the same date in 1928 of 184,813, or more than 10 per cent, said Meek. New York has 1,872,677 passenger cars and California 1,872,099.

The increase in motor vehicles in California by periods was listed by Meek as follows: 1909, 10,600; 1914, 123,516; 1919, 477,450; 1924, 1,350,752; 1929, 2,015,418.

VASCONCELOS VISIONS WAR

Defeated Mexican Candidate Asserts Revolt on and Predicts Practically Bloodless Coup

EL PASO (Tex.) Dec. 18. (AP)—The revolution to install him as President has started, and with "100 men to every gun, will be practically 'bloodless'," Jose Vasconcelos, defeated candidate in the November election said today before leaving for Tucson, Ariz.

Vasconcelos said he will go from Tucson to Los Angeles and spend the holidays with his family there, returning shortly after Christmas to Mexico to lead the revolt.

"Hundreds of my supporters have launched an armed revolt," said Vasconcelos, "and constantly are engaging Federal forces throughout Mexico. Only the generals, all of whom are in league with the tyrannical and corrupt Calles government, will remain loyal to their leader when we strike. The officers and the men will join us without hesitation."

Vasconcelos said he soon will have ample supplies of arms and munitions.

"They are being bought for us right now by Gen. Joaquin Amaro, Secretary of War."

There was a merry twinkle in Vasconcelos's keen, piercing eyes as he said that, and he added with a laugh:

"No, I don't mean Amaro is buying munitions directly for us but the government stores will be in our hands shortly after I return to Mexico. My supporters will see to that."

Vanconcelos came here from San Antonio. At Tucson he will be joined by his two children, Jose, 19 years of age, and Carmen, 18, who are students at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Valls Frees Man Coaccused With Calles

LAREDO (Tex.) Dec. 18. (AP)—Merchants of Laredo, in the midst of their holiday shopping season, today learned that Mexicans living south of the Rio Grande no longer will be permitted to carry small imports—household articles and similar goods—duty free from the American to the Mexican side of the boundary line at Laredo.

Notice of this latest move in the retaliatory measures adopted by the Mexican government against Dist.-Atty. John A. Valls for his attempt to arrest former President Plutarco Elias Calles was posted on the Mexican side of the international bridge.

FOOD ALSO ON LIST

The restriction takes from the free class not only seasonal merchandise and household articles, but food and all other small packages. Trade from Nuevo Laredo and other Mexican points constituted a considerable portion of Laredo's retail commerce.

This step follows closing of the Laredo Consulate, the Mexican customhouse at Nuevo Laredo, and the canceling of Laredo's Chamber of Commerce privilege to issue tourist passes.

MURDER SUSPECT FREE

Charges of murder against Duke Carver, San Antonio constable, in connection with the murder of Gen. Lucio Blanco here in 1922, were dismissed today by Dist.-Atty. Valls. Valls had sought to arrest Calles on the same charge.

In dismissing the case, Valls issued a statement which said in part:

"If my government will throw its protection around the arch conspirators in this drama of guilt and murder, then why should I prosecute American citizens jointly charged with Calles, who are not able to secure diplomatic immunity from their government?

"American citizenship will never be a handicap in my district."

CALLES ACCORDED IMPOSING RECEPTION

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 18. (AP)—Former President Calles returned here today after a five months' absence to be greeted in the Colonia station by one of the most imposing receptions ever accorded here.

Practically the entire Portes Gil Cabinet and members of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies were present along with all the high ranking military officers in the Federal district. There also were several State governors who came to greet the former President.

REDS' ENVOY MAY MEET PRINCE SOON

London Paper Gossips on Ambassador's Delay in Presenting Credentials

LONDON, Dec. 18. (AP)—The society gossip column of the London Daily Express today said there is much speculation as to reason for delay of K. Sokolnikov, new soviet Ambassador, in presenting his credentials. The delay, it was said, is due neither to either government nor to M. Sokolnikov himself.

The writer said he understood the Prince of Wales will deputize for King George and receive the Ambassador from Moscow for presentation of credentials probably before Christmas.

Many Englishmen regard the execution of the Russian Czar Nicholas and other members of the royal family under the soviet regime as unjustified. The Czar was a cousin of King George. King George has not until now been confronted with necessity for recognition of a soviet Ambassador.

Store Employee Shot to Death by Shoplifter

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. (AP)—An ex-convict killed one man, wounded two others and spread consternation among Christmas shoppers today after he was caught shiplifting on the fifth floor of a Loop department store. He was captured.

Seeing that he was observed in the act of stealing a pair of gloves, the shoplifter shot Douglas Richardson, superintendent of maintenance for the Boston Store, and struck John Concannon, superintendent of the cashier's office, on the head with the revolver.

Running through the excited crowds he shot James Freeman, store detective, in the leg as several other detectives closed in and arrested him. Richardson died later. His assailant gave the name of J. E. Grant.

Hearing Set for Suspended Chief of Vital Records

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Hearing of the demurrer filed by L. E. Ross, suspended chief of the bureau of vital statistics, in answer to charges preferred against him by Dr. Walter M. Dickie, Director of Public Health, was tentatively set by the Civil Service Commission today for Friday.

Ross was charged with dishonesty, inefficiency and incompetency.

Dep. Atty.-Gen. Hession declared today he was only interested in the ouster matter and that reports that he might press criminal charges against Ross were unfounded. Criminal charges probably would be based on the charge that he sold birth and death records, keeping the proceeds himself. Ross has denied doing this.

Sargon Scored After All Else Had Failed Her

Many who wisely put Sargon, the new and different medicine, to the test, return to express amazement at the speed with which this modern compound goes to the very source of their ills and brings relief before they fully realize that Sargon is at work.

MRS. MINNIE GLEWWE

Sargon is not designed to give temporary relief. It is not that kind of medicine. Its aim is new, abundant and glorious health. The wonderful story of Sargon is now being told by the Sargon man who is in Los Angeles to meet those who seek to escape from pain and suffering. The Sargon Man is at the Owl Drug Store, 6th and Broadway, where he is talking to throngs daily, telling of the remarkable accomplishments of this new, scientific formula.

Sargon stands on its own record of matchless achievements. Learn why it is hailed as "the medicine with a million friends." See what it has done and is doing. Find out about any number of happy experiences like that of Mrs. Minnie Glewwe, 150-E. 84th Place, Los Angeles, who said recently:

"I suffered with biliousness for as far back as I can remember and in time, this brought on indigestion that was so bad I was almost afraid to eat anything. Then my nerves seemed to go 'all to pieces' and for years I seldom ever slept well except in the early morning hours. I was listless, lacked energy and would tire out before the day was half over. I suffered with dreadful headaches and simply felt wretched nearly all the time. No medicines helped me, and when I heard friends all around me recommending Sargon I decided to try it. Five bottles along with the pills completely corrected my indigestion, my nerves returned to normal, I have a splendid appetite, sleep fine and my whole system is strengthened and invigorated! Sargon Pills completely rid me of biliousness and for the first time in 10 years my headaches are over and I feel like a different person!"

So it goes. Such triumphs as these are what made Sargon famous; such victories account for the fact that Sargon has become the real sensation of the drug trade and is rapidly becoming a household word through America.

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl drug stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—The White House, it was learned today, is expecting Alf Oftedal to ask that his nomination for Collector of Internal Revenue at San Francisco be withdrawn so that embarrassment to the administration and himself may be avoided.

If he does not make this request it is indicated President Hoover will find it necessary to take the action on his own initiative. Mr. Hoover is understood to be already casting about for a suitable substitute for the appointment, having determined in any event not to continue the office in the hands of John P. McLaughlin, who has been collector the last eight years.

CAN'T BE DONE

The President has lost none of his confidence in Oftedal but simply is bowing to the inevitable fact that he cannot be confirmed by the Senate in view of the recent disclosure that he legally is a citizen of Maryland, have voted there for Hoover in last year's Presidential election and having paved the way for this exercise of franchise by declaring himself a resident of the State.

The law requires that a collector must be a resident and citizen of the State and district in which he serves.

Oftedal's Maryland residence and the fact he broke his California citizenship by voting in another State, were lost sight of when his nomination was sent to the Senate. As a matter of fact, President Hoover in making the nomination and Senator Shortridge in supporting it were entirely unaware of these circumstances.

JOHNSON COUNTS COUP

It is understood that Oftedal will be asked to return to Washington and take a responsible position in the Treasury Department, where he served as assistant Federal Prohibition Commissioner for two years prior to his resignation, which went into effect October 29, last, and which was tendered in anticipation that he would become the collector at San Francisco. He has been in San Francisco several months preparing to take up his proposed new duties.

Senator Hiram Johnson is responsible for blocking Oftedal's appointment but he can glean scant comfort from his victory because of the fact he will again be ignored when a substitute name is sent to the Senate. Johnson fought the Oftedal nomination from the start, chiefly because it was a move to oust McLaughlin, who had been a Johnson political wheel horse for many years.

NEW YORK CRIME FREE, POLICE SAY

Commissioner Whalen's Report Asserts Hardened Criminals All Locked Up

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. (AP)—Reviewing the first year of his administration of the New York Police Department, which was completed today, Commissioner Whalen declared there are no hardened criminals operating in the city now.

"Every business must take stock at regular intervals," he said. "Our stock in trade is the criminal element. Through bringing the gangsters and other known criminals into headquarters we eliminated the criminal from New York. There are no hardened criminals operating in New York today.

"The crime we have now is of spontaneous origin and is done chiefly by the youths of 17 and 18 years of age."

In the list of what he considers the major accomplishments of his administration he placed foremost the new bureau of crime prevention, which is to begin operation January 1. This bureau is designed to study causes and suggest remedies for crime.

Second, he placed the reorganization of the department, with elimination of super-authority and restoration of responsibility to precinct captains.

Other innovations in the department have been establishment of a police college and a secret-service bureau.

PLAN FOR HAITI QUIZ APPROVED

Hoover's Recommendations Acted on by House

Senate Vote Not Expected Before Christmas

Racial Question Injected in Three-Hour Debate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (AP)—Approval of President Hoover's recommendation that a commission investigate conditions in Haiti was given today by the House.

Action on the proposal moved to the Senate where a vote is not expected until after the Christmas holidays due to the absence of many Senators from the city.

The House accepted the resolution sponsored by Representative Porter, Republican of Pennsylvania, without a record vote.

Action was taken on the measure at almost the time a report was received that the 500 marines ordered by President Hoover to Haiti to reinforce the 700 stationed there during recent disorders are being returned to this country without having gone farther than Cuba.

Opposition to the measure was led by Representative Huddleston, Democrat, Alabama. The racial question was injected into the three-hour debate by Representative Fish, Republican, New York, who suggested that two negroes be appointed to the commission.

This suggestion was approved by Representative De Priest, negro, Republican, Illinois, who made his first speech from the well of the chamber.

"I am very pleased at the suggestion made by the gentleman from New York," De Priest said, "when he recommended that one or two members of the commission should be from the racial group that I am identified with and I am not surprised to hear other gentlemen object to it."

PASADENAN CHOSEN AS GOVERNOR'S AIDE

Harold Landreth

YOUNG PICKS SOUTHLAND SECRETARY

Pasadena Bank Official to Succeed Keith Carlin on January 1

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Harold Landreth, assistant trust officer for a Los Angeles bank, was appointed private secretary to Governor Young today, succeeding Keith Carlin, resigned. The appointment becomes effective January 1, next.

A few weeks ago Gov. Young was known to be looking for a Southern California man to fill the private secretaryship vacated by Carlin when he resigned to enter law practice in Los Angeles.

Landreth is an assistant trust officer for the Security-First National Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles at its Pasadena branch. He has practiced law in Los Angeles and Pasadena and resides in the latter city.

Landreth is well known in both of these cities. He is a past Commander of the Pasadena post of the American Legion, past president of the Pasadena Rotary Club, a trustee of Occidental College and the California Association for Adult Education and a director of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses. He also was president of the Occidental College Alumni Association in 1916.

He is a graduate of Stanford University and Occidental College and received his early schooling in Pasadena and Los Angeles.

As private secretary to the Governor Landreth is expected to have much to do with the Governor's political campaign after the latter formally announces his candidacy for re-election. Although the Governor has not yet done this, the fact that he was looking to Southern California for Carlin's successor was taken in Capitol political circles as a reliable indication that he fully intends running again and that the aid of a prominent Southern Californian will be of particular assistance to him against his southern opponents.

CONVICTS TELL CAUSES OF RIOT

Mutual Welfare League Airs Factors in Outbreak

Excessive Sentences Placed in Grievance List

Diet at Auburn Cited as Disturbing Element

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. (AP)—A report issued today by the National Society of Penal Information contains an explanation by the convicts themselves of the underlying cause for recent prison outbreaks.

The explanation was given in a report by the executive committee of the Mutual Welfare League of Auburn prison, where two outbreaks in recent months have taken the lives of a dozen prisoners and keepers. The Mutual Welfare League is an organization of the prisoners, to which is intrusted many details of prison management and discipline.

Their report lists five reasons for prison discontent:

Excessive sentences with the inducement of earning time off for good behavior cut to a negligible amount by recent laws.

Men actually innocent of the crime for which they have been found guilty who brood over their wrong and spread discontent.

Monotonous and insufficient diet, for which the warden is not responsible, since supplies are obtained through a purchasing agent and contractors. They also charge the money allotted for food is insufficient.

Applying to convicts sentenced under the old laws the more stringent provisions of recent legislation, the most severe being the rule that earned good time compensation does not take effect until after the minimum sentence has been served.

Withholding from long-term prisoners the compensation they earn in prison until their discharge.

JURY GETS FRANKLIN DEATH CASE

Arkansas Judge Advises Verdict for Defendants if Doubt Exists

MOUNTAIN VIEW (Ark.) Dec. 18. (AP)—Judge Bone instructed the jury in the Connie Franklin murder trial tonight that if there is any doubt as to the identity of the man who testified he is the Connie Franklin assertedly slain by the four men on trial, it is the jury's duty to give the defendants the benefit of the doubt and acquit them.

Under the instructions, the jury also may find them guilty of either first or second-degree murder.

The case was given to the jury shortly after 10 p.m. and the jury was locked up for the night thirty-five minutes later.

The man who says positively he is the Connie Franklin supposed to have been mutilated and burned to death, sat on the witness stand two hours today while prosecuting attorneys delved deep into his story that he merely was stunned the night, nine months ago, he was asserted to have been slain.

Yesterday the jury heard Tillar Ruminer, 17-year-old former sweetheart of the Connie Franklin, who disappeared, testify that the witness is not the Connie Franklin she knew.

The statement followed announcement of his physician yesterday that he will attempt to persuade Vare to abandon his intention of entering the Pennsylvania Senatorial primary next spring.

"Father has not retired from politics, and any statement to that effect is untrue," said Miss Vare today at the Vare summer home.

Pilot Little, first to fly transcontinental mail from the Bay District east, avoided a serious crash by remarkable handling of his plane, according to advices.

Edward Blom, assistant pilot, and the two passengers escaped with only minor injuries, it was reported. G. W. Renish of Omaha, was one of the passengers and the other a woman whose name was not sent to company offices.

Money Wizards Flee Warrants

HANCOCK (Wis.) Dec. 18. (AP)—Elmer S. Huckins and his son, George, operators of an "investment syndicate" which paid dividends ranging from 20 to 52 per cent, tonight were listed as fugitives from justice. Mrs. Amelia Huckins, jointly sued with her husband and son for more than $73,000, also is missing.

While authorities at Excelsior Springs, Mo., sought traces of the son, the elder Huckins with his wife disappeared in an automobile three hours after warrants charging the father and son with obtaining money under false pretenses were sworn out in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

THOMPSON FOE WINS FIGHT

Chicago's Former School Head Vindicated After Being Ousted in Row Started by Mayor

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Former Superintendent of Schools William McAndrew today won his long fight for vindication when Superior Judge Pam quashed the verdict of the school board ousting McAndrew on charges of insubordination and conduct unbecoming his office, after a seven-months' trial, the climax of Mayor Thompson's war on King George. In sustaining a writ of certiorari Judge Pam held that the former superintendent was not guilty of insubordination and that the "America first" charges were prosecuted illegally before the board.

Following the decision Attorneys Busch and Shannon, representing Mr. McAndrew, announced that he will not press his claim for $6000 in back salary since exoneration was his sole aim in bringing the suit. In support of this position, Mr. McAndrew's $250,000 libel suit against Mayor Thompson was dropped by stipulation before Chief Justice Taylor of the Circuit Court after Judge Pam made the ruling.

The decision will not be appealed. This was assured by Attorneys Frank S. Righemer and Thomas V. Sullivan, representing the school board, when it was stated that no action will be taken to recover back salary.

The famous case against McAndrew opened August 29, 1927, with his suspension on charges growing out of his opposition to school board members in their efforts to replace extra teachers with civil service employees. His suspension was a culmination of campaign promises of Mayor Thompson to "kick that stool pigeon of King George out of the schools."

On September 29 the additional charges of contaminating school histories with pro-British propaganda, fostering anti-American courses of study and unbecoming differences of opinion with teachers were filed.

EXTENSION BILL PASSES SENATE

Oil and Gas Permit Measure Forwarded to House

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (AP)—The Senate today passed and sent to the House a bill introduced by the late Senator Warren of Wyoming, to extend for three years oil and gas prospecting permits already issued by the government for use on public lands.

Action was asked by Senator Kendrick, Democrat, Wyoming, and Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, who blocked consideration of the bill yesterday, made no objection. The bill would permit Secretary Wilbur to extend the permits where meritorious claims for extension are presented.

CONGRESS GIVES FRUIT-FLY FUND

Both Houses Pass Bill for Expense to June 30

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Emergency legislation appropriating $1,290,000 to carry on the fight against the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida was passed by both houses of Congress today.

The sum appropriated is intended to make up a $290,000 deficit in fruit-fly funds and finance the eradication campaign for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30, next, while giving the appropriations committees and Congress sufficient time to make a thorough study of the $15,000,000 authorization for next year recommended by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

VINEYARDISTS ELECT BOARD

Co-operation in Marketing Stressed by Members

District to Have Three Members as Directors

Latimer, Guasti and Ballou Chosen by Growers

ONTARIO, Dec. 18.—A more closely welded marketing organization means a more bountiful year for California grape growers and shippers in 1930, was the opinion of leading vineyardists of Southern California meeting at the Chamber of Commerce here last night to elect a new advisory board for the Sixteenth District, California Vineyardists' Association.

H. W. Wrightson, corporate secretary for the C. V. A., was principal speaker at the meeting and in the course of the evening outlined the hardships the association had met during the past year in marketing its products in the East. Solutions have been reached for most of the problems and the growers and shippers enter the 1930 season with more confidence and anticipation of greater returns. Greater co-operation is promised the shippers and growers from eastern terminals.

The Sixteenth District which embraces practically all of Southern California, will have three members on the State board of directors this year instead of two. Charles Latimer and Secondo Guasti, Jr., are present members of the board. Benton Ballou, Ontario, was elected to be the third director from this district.

Those elected to the advisory board for the next season are: T. H. Wiggins, Herman Myer, B. E. Barton of San Bernardino; Charles Latimer, Benton Ballou, Ontario; N. Miglietta, Secondo Guasti, Jr., Guasti; George F. Johnson, Frank Ellen Ellena, Nick De Carlos, John Colobero, J. H. Jones of Etiwanda; Sim C. Dickson, E. K. Ryan of Escondido; L. A. Weller, H. H. Thomas, R. R. McKennett, Harry Deberard, Cucamonga; John McClure, Homer Laughlin, Los Angeles; W. H. Stout, Fontana.

Traveling Tree to Visit Sick on Christmas

SIERRA MADRE, Dec. 18.—As an innovation to other years, the "Traveling Christmas Tree," with a group of thirty serenaders will make its debut here this Christmas when Volunteer Firemen will spread cheer among the sick and needy next Monday.

Through the co-operation of city nurse, Mrs. Ellen Coll Barker, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal of city schools and W. R. Humphries, chairman of Sierra Madre Chapter of American Red Cross, the firemen have made a list of thirty-five different persons destitute and ill who will be visited by the traveling Christmas tree and entertained by the serenaders, composed of thirty voices from the Congregational Church junior choir.

The lighted Christmas tree will be transported on a truck and moved from home to home where there are sick who will be unable to participate in the municipal Christmas-tree festivities. Santa Claus will also ride with the tree and will distribute gifts.

Big Profits in Valley Alfalfa

RESEDA, Dec. 18.—Frank Alvos, secretary of the San Fernando Valley Alfalfa Growers' Protective Association, today announced the yield for the season at around 87,000 tons, with a market value of $1,860,500. The crop was cut from 7000 acres, planted in various sections of the valley.

It takes its place as one of the major ranching activities in the valley area. According to the report of Alvos, 6500 acres of the total are irrigated by the Los Angeles city water system. Private pumping plants take care of 500 acres.

Eight crops a year were cut from the planting of old acreage, while the newer fields yielded five crops. About 15,000 tons of this year's crop will be used by dairy concerns in the valley, the Adohr Stock Farms being one of the largest buyers.

GRAND OPERA AT LION FARM

Artists Prove Truth of Old Saying

Galileo Parigi and Leota Castello Serenade Numa in his cage at El Monte.

EL MONTE, Dec. 18.—The old adage, "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast," was definitely proven here today, when stars of the Columbia Grand Opera company, now playing in Los Angeles, tried out vocal arias on Numa, jungle monarch at Gay's lion farm.

Leota Castello, soprano; Galileo Parigi, baritone, and Etorre Ghisletti, tenor, entered the cage which Numa calls "home" and burst into song to test the ancient proverb.

"Poor Butterfly" seemed the most effective to lull Numa's leonine emotions, when sung as a duet by Parigi and Signorina Castello. His animal highness failed to enjoy the Toreador song from "Carmen," perhaps instinctively sensing that the melody was written, directed more or less at a gentleman member of the bovine family.

"The Barber of Seville" selections also irritated rather than soothed the namesake of the former king of Alba, whose daughter, Rhea Silvia, gave birth to Romulus and Remus. Perhaps the winter season approaching made Numa dislike any musical suggestions that he might lose his mane of whiskers through tonsorial demolishment.

After proving that the savage breast could be soothed with certain selections, however, the songbirds left for Los Angeles in high spirits, heading for their evening renditions at the Biltmore Theater.

Santa Claus to Begin His Visits Early

GARDENA, Dec. 18.—Santa Claus is to begin his visits early in this locality, where he is expected to be on hand to distribute gifts and goodies at the annual community Christmas tree and party tomorrow night.

The event will take place at the high school beginning at 7:30. A chorus of 300 high school students will assemble for the Christmas carols, assisted by the high school band under the direction of R. D. Crawford. Awarding of the cash prize offered to school children for the best trade-at-home essay will also be a part of the program, the essay written by Grace McClellan having been selected.

On Friday evening Boy Scouts of the Moneta district will have a public Christmas tree and bonfire as a part of the community's holiday observance.

Christmas entertainments in the Americanization schools under the direction of Miss Ruth Close will take place on Thursday afternoon for Mexican women of the school, and on Friday Japanese and Greek students will have their Yuletide programs.

YOUTH IS HURT WHEN GATHERING MISTLETOE

VAN NUYS, Dec. 18.—Walter Brandenberger, well-known Van Nuys youth and a De Molay, is in the Burbank Hospital with a possible fractured spine, received when he fell from a tree while gathering mistletoe for a Christmas party. According to report young Brandenberger crawled out on a dead limb, which gave way under his weight.

INDIAN RELICS FOUND

Old Squaw Lookout Discovered and Explored Near Ventura

VENTURA, Dec. 18.—Discovery of an ancient Indian squaw lookout near the summit of a peak in the Rincon Mountains towering above Ventura was confirmed today when William P. Gregory, civil engineer, led a party to the site and uncovered numerous trade beads and pieces of shell wampum. Here for centuries, ceretainly since the arrival of the white man, dusky squaws congregated to work with beads and leather while they scanned the shore, hills and valleys below for the approach of friend or foe.

Situated on the apex of a lofty spine projecting from Rincon Ridge at an elevation of about 800 feet, the lookout was reached only after a steep and dangerous zig-zag climb. Gregory, casting about in the hills for Indian relics, came upon the spot several weeks ago and found many beads and traces of occupation when he led two local newspaper men to the scene for investigation of the find. Beads and wampum were thick in the ground for a depth of eighteen inches. The trio excavated and sifted earth for several hours, getting enough perforated ornaments to make a string three feet long.

Trade beads uncovered were of blue, red and green glass and china. Wampum was of clam and abalone shell, chipped into disks about one-fourth of an inch in diameter and with a tiny hole drilled in the center for stringing. Gregory found a bead of bone with an Indian maize plant carved on it in red—a rarity.

In the belief that the spot was perhaps a grave or a praying ground a zig-zag trench thirty inches deep was dug across it, but nothing was found below the eighteen-inch level, and nothing but beads were disclosed.

An abrupt drop of 300 feet down a vertical earth cliff into a canyon below made work on the site dangerous. That a chain of similar peak sentry posts encircles Ventura there can be no doubt. The Rincon lookout would afford ample guard against approach from the west or along the coast, but it would not protect the east.

Lemon Growers Receive Final Pay for Crop

ORANGE, Dec. 18.—Final payments on the 1929 lemon crop were made by the Central Lemon Association at Villa Park this week, $118,081.85 being paid out to growers. This sum does not include payments on culls. The total returns for the year are $546,422.95. Returns from last year's crop totaled $469,000.

According to Roy Runnells, manager of the association, the year has been one of the best experienced in several seasons. Shipments this year reached 435 cars, forty-six cars more than were sent out last season.

Final payments on culls will be made next year, it was said. Prospects for the coming year are good and indications are that the crop will be short, Runnells declared. The manager stated that the lemon market is still very satisfactory.

COUNT SHOWS MANY INTERESTING FACTS

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 18.—The new city directory, distributed yesterday, estimates that there are 39,000 persons residing within the corporate limits of the city and that the population is 2000 more than it was nineteen months ago.

The new directory carries the names of 224 Smiths, while only 104 Johnsons could be mustered. The Browns number sixty-three and the Joneses fifty-seven.

Members of the gentler sex outnumber the males by an even 1900, the males numbering 18,550 and the females 20,450.

Native-born residents of Santa Barbara comprise 14 per cent of the city's population, the directory asserts, and the altitude of the city ranges from sea level to 4000 feet. There are eight parks in the city, comprising 90.13 acres. The directory's survey shows that there are 10,520 telephones in operation, giving practically one telephone to every four inhabitants.

The directory also shows that there are 163 miles of streets in the city, 94.19 miles of which are paved. Two hundred teachers in the public schools are instructing 5500 pupils and there are twenty-three churches and twenty-six hotels, the directory shows.

VAN NUYS FINISHES MILES OF SIDEWALKS

VAN NUYS, Dec. 18.—Work on the construction of new sidewalks in the Van Nuys townsite is nearly completed, it is announced today by District Engineer L. O. Turner, who states that the project totals more than ten miles of cement walks and about two and a half miles of curbs. When the last few remaining walks are laid next week, all sidewalks in the town will be paved.

For the last three years there has been a drive on to pave the walks. This was done under individual contract by various home owners. When the drive was completed the remaining walks were paved under a general contract ordered by the city. John Papac received the contract. Bills will now be sent to property owners.

DIRTY FACE, OFFICER'S TIP

Description of Lad Given Police Leads to His Arrest

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 18. An eyebrow mustache, a dirty face, a red necktie and a purple handkerchief yesterday led to the arrest of a youth wanted on alleged forgery-and-theft charges.

Following a request of the Sheriff's office to police to arrest a 19-year-old boy answering such description, Detective Harlan Kimzey and Police Officer Robert Riggs arrested R. Hunter in a room in a lodging house on State street. Hunter admitted to Undersheriff Jack Ross last night that he stole a $77 check and $23 in cash from a bunk house at Point Concepcion a few days ago. Hunter cashed the check here yesterday, when he purchased a suit of clothes, he said.

ARMY AVIATOR HAS NEW RECORD

Rockwell Field Flyer Takes Plane to 31,700 Feet

Fifteen Hundred Feet Higher Than Monday's Flight

Temperature Encountered Below the Zero Mark

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 18.—Lieut. George E. Price, Rockwell Field aviator, today lifted a Boeing P-12 plane to an altitude of 31,700 feet, exceeding by 1500 feet the altitude attained yesterday by Lieut. Hal Bundy, who established a record when he soared to 30,200 feet. The altitude records by Rockwell Field flyers are being made and broken in rapid succession. Lieut. Norman Ives recently wrote his name in the record book by attaining an altitude of 29,000 feet. His feat was duplicated here Friday by Lieut. I. A. Woodring, but on Saturday Lieut. Ives went up 1000 feet higher, to establish a high mark of 30,000 feet. Yesterday Lieut. Bundy went Lieut. Ives 200 feet higher only to have his record shattered by Lieut. Price's ascent to an altitude of 31,700.

An average length of time required to make the record ascents in the pursuit planes, each of which carries a full military load, including machine guns, is about forty-five minutes. Each of the flyers report experiencing minimum temperatures ranging around 10 deg. below zero and during Lieut. Price's flight the oil gauge on his plane froze.

Active Career of Oxnard Man Comes to Close

OXNARD, Dec. 18.—James P. McLoughlin, prominent rancher of the Oxnard district, died at 6 o'clock last night at St. Vincent's Hospital, Los Angeles, following an illness of nearly a year.

Mr. McLoughlin was born fifty-three years ago in September on the same ranch on Gonzales Road where he resided until his death.

He was recognized as one of the prominent bean, walnut and citrus growers of the county. He was a member of the advisory board of the Security-First National Bank of Oxnard, a director of the Bank of Oxnard, and a director in the Ventura county water conservation district.

Mr. McLoughlin was a member of the Catholic Church, and was particularly active in the Knights of Columbus, having been a Past Grand Knight of the Oxnard lodge. He also was a Past Exalted Ruler of the Oxnard lodge of Elks, a director in the Ventura County Walnut Growers' Association, and a director in the Oxnard Lemon Growers' Association.

Those who survive him are his widow, a son, James P., Jr.; two daughters, Marie and Beverly Jane; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Borchard and Mrs. Frank Borchard of Oxnard, and Mrs. Albert Noble of Camarillo.

Funeral services are to be conducted tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the Santa Clara Catholic Church in Oxnard. Burial will follow in the mausoleum in the El Rio Cemetery.

Here's Place to Get Mistletoe

OWENSMOUTH, Dec. 18.—In keeping with a Christmas custom established a few years ago, R. L. Glover, owner of a large tract of wooded foothill land back of Chatsworth Lake, will give away bunches of holly and mistletoe to motorists who stop at his home at Lakeside Park in the western end of San Fernando Valley, any time next Sunday.

The gifts are intended for individuals only, and not for dealers, who last year called in trucks to carry away the greens. There is an abundance of mistletoe this year. Holly has been slow to ripen because of lack of rain this fall, and will not be as plentiful as last year, Mr. Glover says. Hundreds of bunches of the greens are being gathered now, to be ready when motorists call.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING AT SAN BERNARDINO

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 18.—Construction of a six-room school at Leroy and twenty-eighth streets early in 1930 to cost $40,000 was announced today by the Board of Education, when Howard E. Jones, an architect, was retained, to prepare the plans. The school will be erected in a rapidly developing residential district north of the city proper.

The building will cost approximately $40,000 and will be built on a large tract purchased some time ago by the board. The funds for the erection will be provided by a bond issue passed more than four years ago for this and other elementary school buildings.

TWO FINED IN DEATH OF DEER

MOORPARK, Dec. 18.—Two young men from the Tapo district, near here, were fined $25 apiece for causing the death of a female deer. According to their defense, they were strolling in the woods when the doe jumped up and ran. One of the boys had a lasso and roped the deer.

It fell and broke its neck. Finding themselves in a quandary, they skinned the animal, divided the meat and took it home. Both were later arrested by a game warden and taken before Judge Charles E. Colston.

An' Look at That Smile of Grandpa's

Introducing San Diego's youthful grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lavin, beaming upon their 17-year-old daughter, Mrs. A. R. Harrison, and her husband who is so fondly holding his 11-day-old son.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 18.—A 31-year-old grandmother was the unusual discovery here today in the person of Mrs. Robert Lavin, which should set a record of some kind for three-generation families.

Mrs. Lavin is the mother of Mrs. A. R. Harrison, 17 years of age, who is the mother of a 11-day-old son. The father is a sailor attached to the Naval Training Station here.

Redlands Seeks Less Rate for Phone Service

REDLANDS, Dec. 18.—A hearing on the petition of the city of Redlands for a reduction in the telephone rates of the Southwestern Home Telephone Company in Redlands will be held by the State Railroad Commission here on January 21, it has been announced. The local company is a subsidiary of the Western Utilities Corporation of San Francisco.

The Western Utilities firm has filed with the commission its answer to the complaint that was sent to the commission recently by City Attorney Walter J. Hartsell. This, too, was announced yesterday. The reply denies most of the claims set forth by the city, which believes that the rates asked in Redlands by the Southwestern Home Telephone Company are "among the highest charged by any public utility for similar service within the State of California." The city's complaint further contends that "said rates are disproportionate to the value of the services rendered and are inequitable, excessive and unfair."

In view of the forthcoming hearing, the city's case against the telephone firm will be prepared immediately by Mr. Hartsell and Barry Dibble, who has been serving in the capacity of consulting engineer during the city's appeal to the phone company and the Southern California Gas Company for lower rates. Mr. Dibble will remain in the city almost constantly until January 21 to aid in preparation for the commission's hearing.

The Western Utilities firm is equally vigilant. A. N. Jahns, who is in charge of the corporation's telephone interests, has returned from the east in order to direct the proceedings from his San Francisco office.

So far, the Southwestern Home Telephone Company has not been called upon to help its parent concern in the preparation of evidence, Manager B. D. Starkweather says.

Monte Blue in New Role

COVINA, Dec. 18.—Girls and boys of the Masonic Orphans' Home here were thrilled with the announcement today that Monte Blue, popular screen actor, will play the role of Santa Claus at a Christmas party to be staged in their honor on the evening of the 23rd inst., with the Los Angeles Association of Masters and Wardens as hosts.

Holiday festivities for the children began tonight with a minstrel show staged in the amusement hall of the home by the Goodyear Company minstrel troupe.

On the 20th inst. the children will be guests of the Monrovia Masonic Lodge, who will entertain with a Christmas party in the social hall of the Monrovia Masonic Temple. A caravan of Masons' automobiles will furnish transportation to and from the party for the children.

In addition to the parties, John M. Downen, superintendent of the home, further announced today that the children will have their own small Christmas trees in their rooms. The children will be divided into eleven groups with a tree for each group.

REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 18.—Sale of the city library bond issue of $50,000 to the R. H. Moulton Company of Los Angeles on a premium bid of $589 has been approved by the City Council. The issue, the report of City Treasurer George Anderson shows, brings the city bonded indebtedness to $228,775 of a permissible indebtedness of $1,476,618, under the laws governing cities of the sixth class.

State Grants More Time to Water Users

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 18.—The Tricounties Conservation Association has been granted an extension by the State division of water rights, of one year in which to complete its filing on 250,000 acre feet in the upper Santa Ana rivers and two years in which to put the water to beneficial use, it was announced yesterday by Francis Cuttle, chairman of the conservation committee.

This will give the association ample time, said Mr. Cuttle, in which to complete the construction of the weir and conduit to the spreading grounds in the Santa Ana Canyon and utilize whatever water may be available to replenish the underground supply by sinking on the debris cone.

In the meantime, Mr. Cuttle continued, the State Engineer's office will co-operate in further preliminary investigations as to the most feasible sites for the weir and other engineering information to enable the association to continue with the project. The construction of the weir, which will spread and permit the flood waters to sink into the artesian basin, is being financed jointly by San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties with State aid.

"It is gratifying to note that the State, through the engineer's office and division of water rights, is co-operating in every reasonable way to bring about better conservation of water of the Santa Ana River," said Mr. Cuttle.

Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday signed the easement over the former's trackage for the 1000-foot cut-off which will remove the dangerous reverse curves on the San Pedro-Wilmington road near the Los Angeles Shipyards. Construction, to cost $11,000, will start immediately.

The Harbor Board yesterday denied the request of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce that Badger avenue be widened from its present thirty-foot width from Anaheim Boulevard to the bascule bridge. The request was denied on the grounds that the thoroughfare is wide enough to accommodate all through traffic and that space for parking is unnecessary.

The liner Malolo is due back from a cruise around the Pacific with a good-will delegation of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce aboard; the Japanese liner Shinyo Maru is coming in from the Orient, and the steamer Makura is slated to arrive from the South Sea Islands.

TACOMA, Dec. 18.—The Tacoma Association of Dock Operators was formally organized here today. H. C. Slater, manager of a Tacoma dock for the Pacific Steamship Company, was elected chairman; Carey R. Jones, harbor master, vice-chairman, and R. N. Kennell of Shaffer Terminals, Inc., secretary.

The association, the first of its type ever organized in Tacoma, will seek to bring about unity between Tacoma shippers and standardization of terminal rates as well as proper recognition of the harbor as a world port.

On her maiden voyage, the Reardon-Smith liner Prince Rupert City arrived from Vancouver, B. C., this afternoon to load refined copper and general freight for London and other United Kingdom ports.

PORTLAND, Dec. 18.—Scheduled to return to this port the 28th inst. to load for Antwerp, Havre and London, the Norwegian steamer Hektor sailed today for British Columbia and Puget Sound to discharge commodities for those districts. Martin Bruusgaard, brother of Einar Bruusgaard, head of the steamship company which bears his name, is a passenger on the vessel. He is studying Pacific Coast marine conditions.

Addition of two wheat ships to the Yamashita shipping company's line-up at this port for January was announced today by officials of the line here. The steamer Tamahoko Maru will report January 23 and the Kuroshimo Maru two days later.

PEACEFULLY, OIL KING AWAITS CALL TO NEW LIFE

Golfing, Motoring, Working and Visiting With Friends Fill Rockefeller's Time

This is the twelfth and final chapter of The Life of John D. Rockefeller.

BY JOHN K. WINKLER

[Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

Rockefeller makes his only regular public appearance of the year during his three months at Ormond. People go to the golf course in sightseeing busses to look him over and receive his dimes. Last winter he greeted everyone he saw for a week by whistling a tune that was running in his mind and asking them to identify it. No one could and he never found out what it was.

Some one began calling him "Neighbor John" a couple of years ago and John D. glowed. Now, each Christmas, he throws open his rambling, unpretentious home, the Casements, to residents of Ormond Village and plays Santa Claus.

Whenever possible, he has 13-year-old David Rockefeller, youngest son of John D., Jr., down for the holidays. Little David has a clear, fresh voice. John D. loves to hear him, and together, each Christmas-tide, they lift their voices in "Holy Night, Silent Night," and other touching Christmas carols. Last Christmas some of "Neighbor John's" guests from the village were so affected that they wept from sheer joy. John D. bade them dry their eyes and then distributed little trinkets to the children from the huge Christmas tree.

TYPICAL DAY

Intriguing as is the temptation to continue the tale of "Neighbor John," let's return to our narrative of a typical day at Pocantico:

John D. returns from his golf game by noon. He changes again into a business suit, rests for a few minutes, handles whatever matters of business have been brought to his attention, and is ready for luncheon at 1:30.

This is the "heaviest" meal of the day. He is likely to consume two or three spoonfuls of a favorite soup, dip into several vegetables, and nibble at a small leaf of lettuce with a few drops of olive oil. He still holds to the belief, as we have pointed out, that olive oil is a good unguent for the aged. He may top off the meal with a bit of cheese.

Again, our rejuvenated invalid spends an hour over a meal the average person would down in three gulps. "I never leave the table right after a meal," he says, "always sit for a time. It is not good for the digestion to hurry. I have disciplined myself to eat sparingly and find it pays."

After luncheon John D. again rests for a few minutes. Then he attends to matters connected with the management of his dukedom (and he overlooks not even the smallest item;) talks perhaps with his son or a representative in New York; and at 3:30 sharp goes motoring.

LIKES SPEED

Often he motors for two hours. Even while pleasure bent, he likes to cover ground. Thirty-five miles an hour is the minimum speed that will satisfy him. Over the great boulevards traversing the Florida Peninsula, he travels at a faster clip.

John D. likes scenery, but is not a born naturalist. Though a country boy, he never wandered about the woods nutting, stealing birds' eggs, hunting woodchucks. He knows a great deal about flowers and trees, but even to this day catches himself thinking of them in terms of possible usefulness: honey, paper pulp, maple sugar.

On his motor jaunts, he often comes across trees that he covets. He carefully notes the location and a few days later a poorly clad, farmer-like fellow appears and makes a bid. The owner, whether he refuses or accepts the offer, has not, of course, the slightest inkling that his splendid oak or maple is purposed to embellish the velvety expanse of Pocantico!

"BABS" LIKES SPEED, TOO

John D.'s fondness for fast traveling is a trait apparently handed down to his pet grand-daughter, Abby Rockefeller Milton. In fact, I am not at all certain Abby's former occasional tangles with the traffic police were not due to an inherited taste for "getting there quickly." Both Abby friends call her "Babs") and John D. have a positive aversion for "slow-poking through life."

But "Babs" Milton's grandfather, with whom she is a favorite, delights in moving as fast as the law and the elements of safety permit. Invariably, John D. times his trips to town and often when he steps into the big semiopen car at Pocantico, he roguishly addresses his chauffeur, watch in hand:

"Phillips, we got to town Monday in one hour and seventeen minutes. Let's see what we can do today."

CHEERED "BABS"

When the speeding proclivities of Babs Rockefeller got her into a police court mix-up a few years ago, "Grandpop" was the first to comfort her. He wrote an encouraging little note.

Babs Rockefeller travels fast for excitement. Her grandfather was schooled to fast motion for efficiency's sake. John D.'s theory, from the time he purchased his first fast trotter, has been: "The sooner I can arrive at a given destination, the sooner I can accomplish the purpose that has led me there."

Shortly before her marriage to young David Milton, Babs Rockefeller was aided by her grandfather in pursuading her father, Rockefeller, Jr., to lift his hitherto stern ban against her motoring. The young Miltons promptly purchased an $8000 car out of their combined personal income of $23,000. The motor was a powerful streamline, American-made machine of battleship gray.

John D. knew of the couple's ambition to take the car abroad with them on their honeymoon, knew also the young people's pockets were not lined with gold. So, at the conclusion of the wedding ceremony in May, 1925 (during the recital of the Lord's Prayer, John D. wiped his eyes time and again) grandpop drew Abby to one side and pressed a bit of paper into her moist hand.

ONLY ONE CHECK

That evening, after the wedding fans had been eluded successfully, several chums joined the Miltons in a private apartment at the Hotel Plaza for a wedding supper. These intimates included some well-known figures of stage and screen; Marilyn Miller, Walter Catlett and others. Describing some of the wedding presents to them Babs exclaimed:

"The gifts were splendid but Dave and I need a little jack. Do you know, people, only one person gave us a check—grandfather. An understanding old dear! He knew we were broke and he knew I am just dying to buy one of those beautiful French cars that do a mile in less than nothing! Grandfather has promised to ride with me when we get back."

John D.'s check was large enough not only to purchase the beautiful car of Babs's dreams but also to finance the honeymoon trip.

HE DRESSES FOR DINNER

Again to return to John D.'s day! Motoring, as a rule, consumes two hours of his afternoon. Then comes the usual ten-minutes' rest, a brief session with his secretary, another talk or two over the phone with his son or a representative, and he is ready to dress for dinner. He always wears formal dinner clothes, a habit of years, whether he is dining alone with Mrs. Evans or whether there are a dozen guests.

Dinner is served promptly at 7:30. For the master of the house it is perhaps the lightest meal of the day. But again a full hour is required to consume the tiny grains of food he permits himself. A short rest while the table is being cleared in the great dining-room, with its heavy, simple, old-fashioned furniture. Then comes the evening's chief amusement.

A long life of devotion to pietistic principles excludes all though of card playing or gambling from the mind of John D. Rockefeller, though, of course, he has lost and won many nickels from Gen. Ames and others on the golf course. Somewhere in his soul there must be a lingering weakness for games of chance. For he passes most evenings, between dinner and bedtime, with an interest that never flags, in a parlor game called Numerica.

EXPERT AT GAME

It is difficult to score a count of fifty-two in one round of the game. A moderately good player makes the maximum count one time out of three. John D. is so expert at shifting and building that he has been known to make several perfect scores in succession.

When he makes his 52, John D. laughs as joyously as he did sixty years ago over the purchase of an important rival refinery. These evenings, when he wins the round at Numerica, Rockefeller gloatingly transfers a shining buffalo nickel from the right pocket of his dress waistcoat to the left. The left pocket holds his "winnings."

Half a dozen or more games have generally been played by 10:30, when John, the valet, appears, to remind Rockefeller of bed. The Numerica expert walks cheerily to the elevator, mounts to his suite and is peacefully slumbering by 11.

ADMIRES FORD

Within a very limited circle, John D. likes to cast back upon his business career. Those in intimate touch with him say that if he were carving out his great fortune today, he would follow Henry Ford's example of distributing a portion of his wealth while he was actually accumulating. He has watched with wonderment Ford's attainment of popular esteem while piling up hundreds of millions for himself and family. He subscribes thoroughly to the Ford system of high wages and short hours, believing that it stimulates production.

Roughly, Rockefeller and his son have given away $750,000,000. The principal charities are: $183,000,000 to the Rockefeller Foundation endowed "to promote the well-being of mankind throughout the world;" the General Education Board, $129,000,000, to assist colleges in increasing their endowments; the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial, $74,000,000, to promote the welfare of women and children; and to the University of Chicago, $50,000,000. In addition he endowed the Rockefeller Institute, devoted exclusively to medical research, for $10,000,000, and also gave an immense sum to increase teachers' salaries throughout the United States.

TWO COMBINED

The Spelman Memorial recently merged with the Foundation. The combined assets of the two institutions, based upon market value of their stock and bond holdings, land and buildings, equipment, etc., reach the staggering total of $313,173,762. The figures furnish a rather good index of John D.'s prescient investing vision.

There was a time when clouds of depression swept over Rockefeller. These gloomy spells were particularly noticeable when his wife, his brother William and his friend John D. Archbold, died. Now he looks upon death as calmly as one watches an autumn leaf fluttering to earth. Thus, three years ago, he took the passing of his old crony, Dr. Biggar, the man who forced him to drop active business.

"I don't let anything bother me," he says, "I keep cheerful. It is true that I am saddened now and then by the death of an old friend but I make new friends and people are very kind."

HE LIKES YOUNG PEOPLE

It is noticeable that John D. more and more cultivates acquaintance with young people. He seems to shy at forming new and deep friendships with the old—perhaps he wants to spare himself the shock of surviving them.

Occasionally he has an organist out from New York to play upon the magnificent instrument at Kijkuit. Another of his favorite grandchildren, Fowler McCormick, frequently goes to Pocantico to play the organ. On these evenings the oil king, abandons his passion for Numerica and sits wrapped in delight as old-fashioned songs and hymns caress his ears.

Ho a greater extent each year, John D. enjoys family gatherings. Sometimes he is aglow with reminiscence. Then the younger grandchildren listen, wide-eyed, when he describes how boys in his childhood were awakened by the sound of woodchoppers' axes at 4 o'clock of winter mornings; how they rose by lantern light and heard brittle snow squealing under sled runners.

FOND OF PREACHING

He is fond of preaching thrift and religion through homely parables. The parables are not "snappy stuff" but have the rugged appeal of "Poor Richard."

Except for the books and papers I have mentioned, John D. does no reading. He has practically no knowledge of general literature, little appreciation of art, no indulged weaknesses, no pet luxuries. With increasing years, he has grown more liberal in his religious and social views. He is an intense disbeliever in divorce, for instance, yet is extremely fond of Harold F. McCormick, who was divorced some years ago from his youngest surviving daughter, Edith.

He believes very firmly in a personal God and a "permanent" hereafter, where the good will be rewarded and the wicked punished. He is quietly positive his own good deeds will be recognized when the roll is called up yonder.

HIS PHILOSOPHY

His philosophy is completely summed up in a five-line verse he attempted on his eighty-sixth birthday:

"I was early taught to work as well as play,
My life has been one long, happy holiday,
Full of work and full of play—
I dropped the worry on the way—
And God was good to me every day."

John D. is passionately fond of Pocantico Hills. He has spent millions upon millions, certainly twenty, perhaps forty, upon Pocantico. His pay roll has averaged $30,000 a month for twenty-five years. When he was told by Dr. Biggar in 1899 to slow down his pace or die, he threw himself into the pastime of acquiring a great estate. He found the work an outlet for tortured nerves.

WANTED LIGHT AND AIR

He built Kijkuit, the great manor house, with a view to light, air, beauty and comfort. He wanted the house constructed in such a way that he could be certain to obtain light in his favorite rooms at such hours as he needed it. To this end he ordered a small, box-like structure to be built and placed upon a turntable on the center of Kijkuit Hill.

Ingeniously arranged mechanism made it possible for Rockefeller, seated in this box-like affair, to turn it about by means of levers. After much experimenting he composed a time table. This was the result of many days spent in the temporary structure. By the time the table was completed Rockefeller had learned when the sun would shine into each room. The time table was based upon his own daily scheme of life.

For instance, he wanted light in his dining-room in the morning and at noon. The only time he insisted upon having light in his den or office was between 2 and 3 in the afternoon. He wanted his own bedroom dark between 3 and 4 in the afternoon, the hour in which he then took his only daytime nap.

The architects followed this plan faithfully in building the house. Rockefeller gave personal attention to a thousand other improvements and details, and Kijkuit is a flawless country home, set upon a flawless estate.

In his lovely hilltop palace, this "man of figures" sits awaiting the call to another palace. He is serenely confident the mansion that has been reserved for him in the sky will make Kijkuit look like a laborer's hut!

Publisher's Wife Begins Divorce Suit

RENO, Dec. 18. (AP)—The divorce suit of Mrs. Dorothy Binney Putnam, wife of the publisher, George Palmer Putnam, was filed in the District Court late today, the complaint charging failure to provide.

They were married at Sound Beach, Ct., October 26, 1911, and have two sons. An agreement made out of court provides, it is understood, that Mrs. Putnam shall have their custody most of the time. There is no request for alimony.

LAUGHLIN ARRIVES AT POST

MADRID, Dec. 18. (AP)—Irwin Boyle Laughlin, newly appointed American Ambassador to Spain, arrived here with his family today and proceeded to the Embassy residence after an informal reception at the railway station by members of the embassy.

EDGE ASSUMES ROLE AS ENVOY

Simple Ceremony Marks Induction in Paris

Real Feeling Characterizes Doumergue's Welcome

Unity for Peace Theme of President's Address

PARIS, Dec. 18. (AP)—Walter E. Edge, who succeeded the late Myron T. Herrick as the American Ambassador to France, presented his credentials to President Doumergue in a simple but impressive ceremony today.

Mr. Edge dispensed with the French cavalry escort usually provided for such occasions and went to the Elysee Palace in one of the President's automobiles. He was accompanied by M. De Fouquieres, master of ceremonies at the palace.

President Doumergue greeted him with more than ordinary cordiality and replied to his remarks with real feeling.

UNITED BY IDEALS

"Common struggles for glory in the past and the love of liberty and justice have united us forever," he told Mr. Edge after assuring him that the French people are animated by the same cordial sympathy toward America as the Ambassador had expressed for France. He continued:

"If France was able in other days to give precious aid to the United States, let's take good care not to forget the efficacious and glorious part that American arms took in the victory that terminated our last war. Nor have we forgotten the multiple proofs of solidarity and generosity given on that occasion by the whole American people.

GOOD WISHES EXPRESSED

"In the course of your mission, which I hope will be long and fruitful, the collaboration between France and America for the realization of the ideal of peace common to both governments will continue to strengthen the pact of Paris. The pact of Paris, moreover, traced the path for the development of policies that respond fully to the aspirations of the entire world.

"I am persuaded in advance that you will work to that end as a worthy emulator of the great Ambassador whose place you occupy today."

President Doumergue concluded with a word of personal thanks to President Hoover for the good wishes brought for him by Ambassador Edge. He asked Mr. Edge to transmit to Mr. Hoover "the wishes I entertain for his personal happiness as well as that of the entire American people."

SCHURMAN HONORED BY GERMAN SCIENTISTS

BERLIN, Dec. 18. (AP)—Jacob Gould Schurman, American Ambassador to Germany, was elected an honorary member of the Prussian Academy of Sciences, which is a rare honor only once before conferred on an American, the late Andrew White, who, like Ambassador Schurman, was both Ambassador at Berlin and previously president of Cornell University.

HECKE ASSAILS BUG PROFESSOR

Stanford Quarantine Critic Scored by Director

Magazine Article Declared Aid to Importers

Blow at State Plant Pest Barriers Visioned

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Meeting here in advance of the opening of a convention of fruit growers and farmers tomorrow more than two score county agricultural commissioners today heard G. H. Hecke, Director of Agriculture, declare that importers of foreign fruits and plants are renewing attempts to break down quarantine barriers.

Hecke named G. F. Ferris, associate professor of entomology at Stanford University, as the author of a widely circulated attack, particularly in Florida, on Federal and State quarantine policies. An article by Ferris, published in a scientific magazine, has been seized upon by importers of foreign fruits and plants as a base for a new attack upon quarantines, the director declared.

He said that these are attaching double importance to the article because it was written by an educator in a State known for its quarantine leadership. Enemies of quarantine are declared by Hecke to be using the article to break down efforts to eradicate the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida.

Hecke read to the commissioners a letter from Robert E. Swain, acting president of Stanford University, denying that Ferris's published demand for national investigation of quarantine and his charge that it is administered by bureaucrats, are sanctioned by the university.

Prof. R. W. Doane, ranking Ferris in the Stanford chair of zoology, was quoted by Hecke as deploring the impression that the attack on quarantine apparently had been made with university sanction.

FERRIS HITS BACK AT ATTACK OF HECKE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Gordon F. Ferris, associate professor of entomology, struck back tonight at G. H. Hecke, State Director of Agriculture, for the latter's attack on Ferris's recently published criticism of plant quarantine systems. Ferris charges Hecke made "a purely personal attack" on a basis of thought used "by those who have profited by the plant quarantines and the agricultural bureaucrats."

Investigation of the quarantine problem by a national fact finding commission is demanded by the Stanford expert, who, in an article in a recent issue of Science, questioned the value of the methods employed because of their costs.

FURY AROUSED

"The fact that the little note which I published," Ferris said, "would arouse the concentrated fury of those who have profited by the plant quarantines and the agricultural bureaucrats who are behind these measures and who are willing to go almost any length to whip up support for them, was well enough known to me when the article was prepared.

"The question has been diverted skillfully from any consideration of the merits of the matter and has become a purely personal attack upon me.

SANCTION NOT ASKED

"The statement that my article had no official sanction from Stanford University is an example. Of course it had no such sanction.

"No member of the faculty of Stanford University has ever felt called upon to ask for university sanction for what he might wish to say in scientific and public interest. Nor, as far as I know, has the university ever expected anything of the sort."

FOUR DIE AS AUTO ROLLS OFF FERRY

Man, Woman and Two Children Drown in Mishap in Contra Costa County

MARTINEZ, Dec. 18. (AP)—Four persons, a man, woman and two children, were drowned today at Jersey Island, twenty miles above Pittsburgh, when the closed car they occupied fell from an auto ferry, trapping them beneath fourteen feet of water.

The dead are: J. S. Rowen, 55 years of age, unmarried; Mrs. Sagara, a Japanese woman; two children of Mrs. Sagara, a daughter, 14, and son, 6.

Rowen was driving the car, which suddenly leaped forward when Rowen apparently stepped on the throttle instead of the brake. Manuel Cardoza, operator of the ferry, narrowly escaped death or serious injury when he leaped from the car's path as it shot past him.

The ferry, a cable one, is operated between Persey Island and the mainland by Contra Costa county.

Mrs. Farnum's Suit Continued

BAY CITY FACES CAR FARES RISE

City Engineer Warns About Municipal System

Meeting Deficit by Taxation Only Alternative

Four Points Emphasized in Unification Move

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Street-car fares in San Francisco must be increased or the burden of meeting the deficit in operation of the municipal railway system must be met by taxation, it was said today by City Engineer O'Shaughnessy.

O'Shaughnessy's statement was backed by figures supplied by John P. Hannan, superintendent of the bureau of accounts of the Board of Public Works, and came as a review of the situation caused by the city's proposal to acquire the lines of the Market Street Railway Company.

The two experts said there are four major points to be considered in connection with the proposed unification. They are:

A proper depreciation and reserve fund necessary to meet replacements and any emergency which might arise. At this time there is only $347,690 in the fund.

The actual deficit from operations of the municipal system during the last fiscal year was $88,624.

The book deficit, including taxes that would have to be paid if the system was under private ownership, was $427,795.

The increase in the book deficit was $135,338 over the previous fiscal year. The increase is attributed to a $114,900 rise in operating expenses and a $20,377 drop in revenue.

"From the figures given," the City Engineer said, "it is inevitable that even if the two lines in San Francisco are not unified the municipal system must have additional income."

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Little Meriem could scarcely recall any other existence than that of the stern cruelty of the Sheik and Mabunu. Dimly, though, in her childish memory lurked the blurred recollections of a gentle mother. "Oh, Geeka," she would whisper to the doll, "why have I no mother, and why does the Sheik, my father, not love me?" Today as she poured out her troubled heart to Geeka she heard the sounds of wrangling beyond the village gates.

With the curiosity of childhood, Meriem listened. Presently she heard the crowd moving up the street toward the Sheik's tent. Cautions she stuck her little head around the edge of the tent. She saw two strangers—white men They were alone; but as they approached she learned from the natives' talk that they possessed a considerable following that was camped outside the village and had come to trade for ivory.

The old Arab met them at the entrance to his tent, his eyes narrowing wickedly as he listened. Then the Sheik said: "I have no ivory." Meriem gasped. She knew that in a nearby hut the great tusks were piled high. She took a step forward to get a better view of the strangers. How yellow their hair was! How white their skins Suddenly one of them saw her. Meriem noticed the look of shocked surprise crossing his face, as she dodged from sight.

The Sheik saw it too, and guessed the cause of it. "I have no ivory," he repeated. "I do not wish to trade. Go away. Go now." It would have been suicide to have disobeyed. The two strangers turned and left the village. The Sheik walked to where Meriem hid, very frightened, clutched her by the arm and dragged her into the tent, beating her ruthlessly. "Stay within," he growled. "Never let the strangers see thy face again or I shall kill you."

REFINERIES NEXT PROBLEM

Oil Trade Not Yet Ready to Give Industry Clean Bill of Health; Gasoline Stocks Mounting

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Many well-posted men in the oil industry are not in agreement with the advisers to speculators and investors who actively tout the oil stocks these days. Probably because there is not much else to exploit, the reader of the daily grist of stock market comment in the brokerage offices is likely to receive the impression that the oil shares are due in the early part of 1930 for the long-awaited move, predicated on the final curing in the last few months of the industry's ills.

In the oil trade, particularly since the Chicago convention of the American Petroleum Institute, the immediate sentiment about oil securities is tempered with sizeable doses of skepticism. This is not true as relating to the long pull, or perhaps the final quarter of 1930, but it is applicable to the present situation and the immediate future. There are still several important jobs of healing to be done before a certificate of good health can be given the petroleum business.

ONLY ONE SIDE

Those who advise the purchase of oil stocks now for early appreciation in price are looking solely at the important strides made in the curtailment of crude oil production throughout the United States. California, with the exception of Santa Fe Springs, the Mid-Continent and the West Texas and Gulf fields are hewing close to the production limits set up by the industry as desirable, and the production situation is in better shape than it has been in years.

There is another side to the picture, however, and it must be given consideration before the oil trade can begin to figure on more dollars of profit. Refineries in this country, as the figures on current output and stocks of gasoline show, are operating at a rate to endanger whatever benefits are yielded by the curtailment of crude oil output. Close students of the economics of the industry are badly worried over the substantial increases made this year to the nation's stock of gasoline and the resultant threat to the gasoline price structure.

ADJUSTMENT URGED

Saner heads are advising and have advised for some time that refineries adjust their rate of operations to the trend of demand for gasoline. They urge refiners to reduce the ratio of plant operations during the winter months, for example, when consumption is seasonally lower, instead of running at capacity and building up large stocks in storage. They point to the progress in technical improvements that permits larger extraction from a barrel of crude oil, thereby allowing refineries to run with only a relatively small supply of gasoline ahead without running into the danger of a shortage.

This plan of adjusting the rate of refinery operation to swings in the demand for gasoline is not a new principle. The same idea cured the steel industry of glutted markets. In the steel business mills run at rates of capacity varying from week to week in accordance with unfilled orders. They are not anxious to pile finished goods up into expensive inventories.

Efforts to apply this principle to the refining of gasoline are going ahead and responsible leaders are hopeful of success, but until the refining end of the business is brought into adjustment it is idle to talk about a healthy industry and a bull market in oil shares.

FARM BOARD PLANS FOUGHT

Grain Traders Fear Loss of Business in Program for Creation of Market Co-operatives

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—The grain trade is i na quandary. The grain business has been handled for more than fifty years by grain dealers. The Farm Board, anxious to build up co-operative institutions, has agreed to loan co-operatives such money at low rates of interest as is necessary to carry their grain until sold.

The grain traders, seeing the handwriting on the wall, have protested to Chairman Legge and the Federal Farm Board that its policy would destroy their efficiency and their business.

When Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the United States Chamber of Commerce and one of America's largest exporters of wheat, told the Senate Lobby Committee that, while he was sorry that the Farm Board's policies had to be discussed at this time, "because business was willing to give the board a chance to get started," he had objected in person to Chairman Legge to the board's plan of lending money to wheat co-operatives at the current grain price, with the understanding that the producers were to share in any subsequent increase.

Mr. Barnes's statement is a clear statement of a definite point of view. The position which he takes is the one held largely by the grain dealers.

But the Farm Board, faced with the largest problem that any governmental board has had to deal with since the war, may have to overrule the objections of many of America's most influential leaders.

A reading of the Barnes statement yesterday brings this fact out very decidedly.

When W. W. Aldrich, lawyer and financier, brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was elected president of the Equitable Trust Company to succeed C. A. Austin, who died suddenly last week, it recalled the part which the new Equitable president's father had in developing the idea of a central banking system for the United States.

For it was Mr. Aldrich's father, the late Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, who, as chairman of the Finance Committee of the United States Senate, made an exhaustive study of all the central banking systems of the world, as a preliminary to the introduction of one in the United States.

The Aldrich "plan" for a central bank was not passed. It was considered by Congress too centralized, not democratic enough, although it had the support of many leading American bankers.

After a stalemate of several years the Federal Reserve System was brought into being. It was more liberal in its interpretation, provided for twelve Federal Reserve banks instead of one and had more democratic control, or at least it was supposed to have.

Only this week in Montreal, the president of the Royal Bank of Canada, Sir Herbert Holt, made reference to Senator Nelson W. Aldrich in his conversation with the writer, when he said:

"The groundwork of the Federal Reserve Bank of the United States

Turnover in Sessions Only 2,284,850 Shares

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. (AP)—Speculative apathy penetrated further today and the volume of trading on the stock market dwindled close to the minimum level of the year. Only 2,284,850 shares were traded, the lowest level since the lethargic days of early June, when for three successive days transfers fell close to 2,000,000 shares a day.

The day's industrial and corporate news was rather undecisive, and distinctly not of a character to inspire ambitious market campaigns.

Operators for the advance still awaited more definite business developments, and it was indicated in some quarters they were preparing to wait until after the turn of the year. The bears know that it is dangerous business to sell a dull market, and were temporarily hibernating.

The weekly iron and steel trade reviews indicated further slackening of steel mill operations, and some easing of pig iron prices, but Iron Age stated "Mills believe that customers will be forced to enter the market in January, possibly in sufficient numbers to creat a rebound in demand commensurate with the recent slump in buying."

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Prices Hold Steady Tone on Listless Session of Local Stock Market

Price fluctuations were held within a narrow range as the volume of business on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday continued at a low ebb and no movement got under way in one direction or the other. The small fractional changes at the close indicated a market in which traders were content to hold a steady level of prices and await further developments.

Richfield featured the activity among oil shares, followed closely by Rio Grande, both showing a small fractional recession, closing at 27 1-8 and 19 3-4, respectively. Union Associates and Union Oil, the combined trading in which represented only 500 shares, firmed up slightly, ending at 45 1-4 and 46 1-4, respectively. Standard of California eased 5-8 to 61 7-8.

Transamerica, which continued to lead the activity of all the issues on the board, yielded 3-8 net to 43 5-8 after trading at 44. Seaboard National Securities Corporation jumped up 1 7-8 to 52 3-8. Security-First National Bank firmed up fractionally to 113 5-8, while Citizens' National traded unchanged at 112 1-4.

Two hundred shares of Southern California Edison common crossed the board at 56, unchanged from the previous day. Pickwick Corporation moved up 1-4 to 7½, and Aero, 5 cents to 2.80. North American Investment, an inactive trader, crossed the board at 117, off 20 points from its last sale here.

Sales totaled 22,926 shares, valued at $249,774; previous day, 38,975 shares, valued at $213,298.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Claude Neon Electrical Products featured a quiet session on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday in which no definite trend of prices was established. Activity in the Neon issue accounted for a turnover of 1200 shares and the stock worked up to a high and close for the day at 36 1-2, an advance of 1 1-4 points.

The only other changes among the major issues were declines of 1 3-4 points for Cities Service, which fell to 25 1-2; Electrical Products of Washington and Gladding McBean, each down 1-2 to 12 1-2 and 60, respectively; Intercoast, off 3-8 to 22, and Samson Tire down 1-4 to the year's low point at 5 1-2.

Bach Aircraft, among the lower-priced issues was sold to the extent of 28,000 shares and slumped to a new low record at 20 cents. Exeter Oil advancing 5 cents to 2.05 was the only other issue to show a gain on the day excepting San Francisco Gold, which firmed up 1-2 cent to 7 cents. Universal Oil sold off 5 cents to 1.40, and United States Oil and Royalties sold actively to drop 1-2 to a new low at 5 cents.

Sales totaled 81,199 shares, valued at $166,862; previous day, 56,500 shares, valued at $98,007.

PAVING
"Main Street"

FINANCIAL STATEMENT
(Officially furnished)
Assessed Valuation of Land (approx.) . . . $1,587,158.00
Bonded Debt, This Issue Only $146,545.94
Population (estimated) 9,000

NEW paving on "Main Street" is an important step in the growth of the smaller city...bringing increased business for merchants and greater civic pride on the part of every citizen.

Improvements of this character in California are usually financed by the issuance of District Bonds which are payable from a direct ad valorem tax levied annually on all lands in the issuing district, collected with and as a part of general taxes.

Since the issuing district includes the business area...the most valuable and highly improved property in the city...the security behind such an issue is of the highest character.

Among our current offerings are district bonds of a populous and growing suburban city less than ten miles from Los Angeles, issued for the paving of its main business thoroughfare which is also a through boulevard. The exceptional character of the issue is indicated by the above financial statement.

Priced to yield 5½% completely tax free, this issue offers a rate of return materially higher than is available today in other tax-exempt municipal and district bonds of comparable strength.

at Bargain Prices

A certain well-known investment trust fared much better in the market break than many of its competitors. The following facts are enlightening:

October 19th— two days after the first serious market break, resources of the trust were as follows: 82% in cash or call loans; 12¾% in stocks; 5¼% in bonds.

October 29th— over $12,000,000 of the corporation's resources had been invested in selected common stocks at bargain prices, and approximately $6,000,000 or one-third of its resources remained in cash.

Today— with large holding of choice stocks purchased practically at the bottom of the market, the trust is in a position to benefit from any future rise in price. It presents a real opportunity for the investor seeking bargains.

We shall be pleased to furnish detailed descriptive information.

Don't Sell Uncle Sam Short

IF, in a moment of pessimism, you are tempted to underrate the productive and constructive powers of the American people, or to feel that the saturation point has been reached in the development of any major industry, weigh the following facts:

Economic experts, backed by incontrovertible statistics, say—"America is fundamentally sound—American business, prosperous and progressive."

Paper profits or losses are no barometer of the country's economic condition. The steel industry reports an excellent year, with 1930 promising a normal volume of business—the railroads are enjoying remarkable prosperity, and are preparing to spend a billion dollars on betterments—the electric light and power companies are expanding their facilities, undisturbed by the feverish fluctuations of the stock market—agriculture, America's backbone, has no misplaced vertebra—the bearded wheat fills the granaries to bursting—and myriad acres of fleecy cotton have whitened under the sun.

What does this mean to the keen, discriminating investor? It means OPPORTUNITY. The zero hour has struck. Bargain lists of the foremost stocks of the country are for sale at prices insuring a yield that is in most instances unprecedented. The pendulum is swinging back. The up-and-coming investor will not pass these golden, gainful opportunities.

Let the great American Investment Trusts serve you at this timely, propitious moment. We will gladly send you full information.

STOCK VALUES UNEVENLY OFF

the first week of December were below the like week a year ago. Crude-oil production figures for last week showed another moderate decline, bringing the output close to the level of this period a year ago.

Announcement of the Republic Steel merger had long been expected, and was somewhat less inclusive than anticipated in some quarters. Receivership for the American Piano Company was an unfavorable development.

Credit conditions remained unchanged, with call money holding at 4½ per cent. Forecasts of the probable showing of the brokerage-loan compilation tomorrow were vague and varied, but a decline sufficient to cancel last week's $33,000,000 gain was expected.

The stock market was steady to firm early, slumped during the early afternoon with renewed pressure against Fox Film, rallied briskly around 2 p.m., when strong support appeared in pivotal industrials, but sold off rapidly in the last half hour.

STEEL RALLIES

General Electric was bid up 8 points to 241, but closed at 236, up 3 net. United States Steel sold off nearly 2 points, rebounding for a net gain of more than 2, but closed unchanged at 171 1-4. Alpha Portland Cement sold up 3 points when the regular dividend was declared, despite unsatisfactory conditions in the industry.

Republic Steel dropped nearly 5 points. Fox Film A sold off about 4 points, possibly reflecting indications the Class A stockholders' committee may oppose the plans of the trustees. Allied Chemical, American and Foreign Power, A. M. Byers, Auburn Auto, Canadian Pacific and Purity Baking dropped 3 to 5 points. International Combustion dropped to a new low at 28.

Commodities were dull. Wheat futures sagged ½ to nearly 1 cent on upward revision of Argentine estimates. Corn prices held barely steady. Cotton futures sold up about 5c cents a bale on short covering and reports of better consumption.

Foreign exchanges moved in narrow ranges. Latin-American exchanges rallied a little from yesterday's low levels resulting from virtual suspension of gold payments by Argentina. Sterling cables were a shade lower at $4.88 1-8.

was laid by Senator Aldrich and his committee. The Rhode Island Senator has not been given enough credit for the work which he did in creating public sentiment in favor of a central banking organization, without which the United States could neither have survived the great war nor its aftermath."

This new Equitable Trust Company president is 44 years of age and a graduate of Harvard both in arts and law. He was admitted to the New York Bar in 1912 and has practiced there since. He is a director of many institutions, particularly banking and railroads. Among his directorships are the Bankers' Trust Company, Western Maryland Railroad, Western Pacific and Delaware and Rio Grande Railroad.

The Aldrich family has been for generations one of the most distinguished in the business life of Rhode Island.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Securities markets in San Francisco today were exceptionally quiet. Sales totaled only 36,378 shares on the stock exchange, including a fair volume of Transamerica rights. The market value of stocks sold was just over $1,000,000.

Oil stocks, which had been considered for some time as likely leaders of a possible upswing, produced further disappointment today by slipping further downhill on the averages chart. Sutro & Co.'s oil averages put the group only a little more than a point above its low for the year, set November 13. Today's figures were

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. (AP)—Emphatic weakness in Argentine government securities, which broke 2 to 6 points, was the outstanding development of the day in the bond market. The selling was on a moderate scale and mostly for speculative accounts. It was an aftermath of Argentina's announcement that the conversion privilege had been suspended at the gold exchange and accompanied material declines in Argentine obligations in London.

The South American republic has many 6 per cent coupon issues listed on the New York Stock Exchange and virtually all of these figured in the day's downward movement, which sent them to new lows for the year at around 90, contrasting with the highs of a fraction above par. Two of the three Buenos Aires 6s traded in the session declined to the same extent. Chilean and Colombian bonds lost 1 to 3 points in sympathy. Brazilians were steady.

The domestic list scored a small advance, although buying activity was limited to the first-grade rails and the prime utilities. United States government issues eased. This apparently confused trend was taken as indication of public buying in sound issues, which offer larger yields than the Liberties and Treasuries.

In the rail group gains averaging half a point came out in Atchison general 4s, Baltimore and Ohio Gold 4s, Chicago and Illinois Central 4¾s, Missouri Kansas Texas 4½s, Northern Pacific general 3s, Pennsylvania 4½s, Texas and Pacific 5s, and St. Louis San Francisco prior lien 4s.

Inquiry for the utilities supported American Telephone 5½s, Detroit Edison 5s, New York Edison 6½s, Pacific Telephone 5s, Pacific Gas 5s, and Southern Bell Telephone 5s.

In the industrial section numerous high-grade loans took an upward turn, but the improvement was only nominal. Standard Oil of New Jersey 5s rose a point.

Convertibles were mixed and dull, with the result that net changes were fractional.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

ONE OF THE LOS ANGELES INVESTMENT GROUP

The Logical Investment
at today's low prices

...lies in the common stocks of America's greatest corporations...whose services are interwoven with the very fiber of American business...whose products form the very life-blood of American trade.

These stocks should be bought as a group and held as a group...a course impossible for most investors save through the medium of a strong fixed investment trust whose price is based directly on the current price of the underlying stocks. Such an investment is found in CORPORATE TRUST SHARES which represent ownership in the common stocks of 28 outstanding American corporations deposited with the Equitable Trust Co. of New York, Trustee.

Note below the age of these companies, indicating a long history of successful operation, their dividend record showing stability of earnings, their size, and consistent growth:

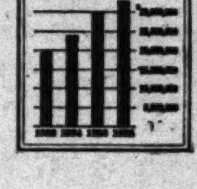
Diversification

More than $290,000,000 of public utility properties operating in 26 states and providing the necessities of power, gas and water to a population estimated in excess of 4,585,000 give a high degree of diversification to the earnings protecting the securities of Tri-Utilities Corporation.

Illustrating the widely varied sources from which the Corporation's revenues are derived, one of its important subsidiaries, American Natural Gas system, includes among its industrial customers electric light and power plants, oil refineries, cotton gins, cement plants, brick and tile plants, smelters and glass factories. Yet notwithstanding this diverse industrial load, 68% of the sales of this system are to domestic and commercial users.



Deliveries of gas by the American Natural Gas system for the ten months ended October 31, 1929, were 9% in excess of those for the corresponding period of 1928 while the number of consumers served increased from 113,900 to 124,400.

Consolidated revenues of American Natural Gas Corporation for the twelve months ended October 31, 1929 were reported as $10,940,794 as compared with $10,208,908 for the twelve months ended October 31, 1928, an increase of $731,886 or approximately 7%. Gross corporate income, after operating expenses, maintenance and local taxes, was $4,533,354, against $3,877,079, an increase of $656,275 or approximately 17%.

LAND VALUE INSURANCE ESSENTIAL

Just as title insurance is insisted upon by every intelligent purchaser of property, so is land value insurance rapidly becoming a required part of real estate sales. It assures the purchaser that he is paying a fair price (each parcel of land insured has been appraised by the insurance company), and that he will be able to get back his original purchase price at the maturity of the policy if his property has depreciated in value.

NINE EXPANSIONS IN FOUR YEARS

That is the record of growth of one Central Manufacturing District firm ...Gaffers & Sattler ..manufacturers of gas stoves and heating appliances. Their location in the strategic hub of the fast growing Southwest market has been a considerable factor in their growth....and this enterprising organization plans yet a far greater expansion.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. (AP)—Desultory trading characterized today's curb market, with the general trend of prices downward. Small investors and speculators displayed little interest in the day's proceedings, brokers reporting that many of them were content to stand on the sidelines until the market emerged from the narrow trading area within which it has been floundering for a week or more.

"Tax selling" continues to make its appearance, at intervals, and probably accounts for some of the new low records established each day by relatively obscure stocks. Several pools have temporarily suspended operations because of their difficulty in attracting an outside following.

Public utilities continued to lead in activity. Cities Service sagged 1⅛ points to 25⅝, which compares with the year's low of 20 established in last month's break, and the high of 68⅛, recorded early this fall. Electric Bond and Share closed fractionally lower after moving within a range of about 2 points, but American and Foreign Power warrants reacted 1¼ and Brazilian Light and Traction 3⅛.

Humble Oil improved slightly, but most of the other petroleum shares were rather sluggish. Little or no interest was shown in the aviation and motor issues.

Aluminum Company of America and Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea each dropped 20 points. Maryland Casualty fell 18⅛ to a new low at 90 as against the year's high of 175 and Deere & Co. fell 9½.

Fox Theaters sagged to within a fraction of the year's low on selling inspired by the resumption of pressure against the motion picture shares on the "big board." New lows for the year were registered by Blums, Inc., Cooper Bessemer, Fajardo Sugar, Gorham, Inc. A, National Bank Service, and Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

If last price omitted, low and last are same. If low and last are omitted, high, low and last are same.

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

The Santa Barbara county coast is about to experience a new and extensive drilling campaign by a group of operators and individuals searching for deep production on tideland permits.

Last week the big increase in the number of drilling permits was due to those issued for drilling wells along the coast near Carpinteria in Santa Barbara county, where a few weeks ago eight permits were taken out.

The latest permits call for wells to run in a direct line along the ocean's edge—some on the Franklin and Baillard properties, where the Continental Oil Company has a tideland permit. The following permits are announced: Lucien M. Higgins's Tideland Permit No. 121-1, Carrie M. Higgins's No. 122-1, Theresa Franklin's No. 123-1, Kittie C. Baillard's No. 124-1, Myrtle Baillard's No. 125-1, Catherine Baillard's No. 126-1, Benjamin F. Baillard's No. 127-1, Mary B. Hall's No. 128-1, Charles E. Baillard's No. 129-1, Oakburn Drilling Company's No. 168-1, No. 169-1, No. 171-1 and No. 172-1.

George F. Getty's No. 120-1 and No. 130-1, located on the McDonald and Casper leases spudded in a week ago but since suspended, having validated the permit. No date has been set for operations to be resumed. In the majority of the recent permits granted a small portable outfit will be used to spud in and then shut down.

The Continental Oil Company is constructing a pier to facilitate building derrick for a tideland well near Carpinteria. This test will be drilled at the edge of the ocean and is only a short distance from the company's Franklin No. 1 and Kittie C. Baillard No. 1, the latter having lately been abandoned.

Farther north along the Santa Barbara county coastline the eight tideland permits include W. L. MacLaine's No. 175, R. S. Kurkee's No. 176, W. Cunningham's No. 177, W. C. Van Fleet's No. 179, F. J. Bickey's No. 180, C. E. Sampson's No. 181, A. F. Hayes's No. 182, G. L. Ratcliffe's No. 183.

The General Petroleum Corporation recently spudded in Bank No. 1, a tideland test three miles southeast of Elwood. It is near General's More No. 1, now suspended with bottom at 4533 feet, and its More No. 2, drilling ahead below 2450 feet, on the More ranch.

Small Extension

Completion of the Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation's Hartman No. 5 in the Ventura-avenue field has extended the northerly flank of the field several hundred feet. The new well, which is a second-line job, came in for about 4500 barrels of oil per day from a depth of 7550 feet. According to field reports, the flow is cleaning up.

Decline Steady

A steady decline of production at Santa Fe Springs is noted. Yesterday's total output was 173,933 barrels, against a total of 185,200 barrels three days ago. The field's present production is coming from 208 wells.

The week's completions included the Union Oil Company's Bell No. 44, now yielding 2500 barrels daily; Union's Bell No. 38, 5600 barrels, and Howard No. 9, 3000 barrels; Superior Oil Company's Wardman No. 5, 5500 barrels; Texas Company's Mattern Three No. 15, 1400 barrels; Santa Fe Oil Company's Estle & Jameson No. 1, 600 barrels; General Petroleum Company's Community No. 179-G, 5800 barrels; General's Santa Fe No. 186-E, 1000 barrels; H. A. Bardeen's No. 3, 3000 barrels; George F. Getty's No. 39, 3000 barrels.

One of the principal operators at Santa Fe Springs has a daily production of 16,000 barrels, and if allowed to put out what its fourteen wells could really make, its daily flow would jump to 40,000 barrels. In a number of cases, good producers have been killed to enable the various companies to conform to the curtailment order.

Spuds in Test

The Western Gulf Oil Company recently spudded in Diamond Bar No. 1 wildcat on Diamond Bar ranch between Walnut and Puente, on Valley Boulevard. This project now is drilling below 550 feet. It is on an 1800-acre lease.

Western Gulf's test is one of several that have sought production near Puente. The Richfield Oil Company has considerable acreage in that vicinity, where it drilled its Didier No. 1 below 6000 feet without success. Under a drilling agreement, part of its acreage is being prospected by the State Company which is drilling below 3000 feet in its Richfield-Puente No. 1. After the first of the year, Richfield plans to prospect what is thought to be the north structure of its acreage near Puente.

Running Tubing

The Lincoln Drilling Company is running six and one-quarter-inch tubing into its Medcliff No. 1 west of Santa Barbara. About 500 feet of perforated tubing will be run to bottom of the hole at 2430 feet preparatory to a production test.

Lincoln Drilling's test filled with oil more than a month ago, springing a real surprise, because preparations were under way to abandon it. It is now thought to be good for at least seventy-five barrels of 19 deg. gravity oil per day.

Permits Increase

The State Mining Bureau issued twenty-five drilling permits last week compared with fifteen the preceding week. Sixteen in last week's list were for Santa Barbara county, two in the fields of Kern county, two in Ventura county, one in San Bernardino county, two at Signal Hill, one in the Richfield district and one in the Newhall district.

Deep Test Down

The Seaside No. 1, a deep test being drilled by George F. Getty, Inc., at Summerland, is in sandy shale at 1437 feet and to date has not encountered oil sand.

Getty's Becker Fee No. 1 in the old Summerland field is producing about fifty barrels of oil a day. Its Becker Fee No. 2 broke a pump jack recently and production is off temporarily. Sand is being bailed in Permit No. 18-1, while Permit No. 16-1 is putting out approximately 150 barrels of oil a day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—L. E. W. Pioda, chairman of the board of directors of Golden State Milk Products Company, today announced the closing of subscriptions to stock recently offered employees as part of the company's expansion plans. Offerings under the employees participation plan has resulted in approximately 44,000 shares of stock being placed with employees. No further offerings are contemplated at the present time.

Wheat Futures Off on Bearish Bureau Report

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Wheat prices underwent a late setback today, influenced by correct surmises that the government crop report showed almost 15,000,000 bushels more wheat was harvested this season than had previously been forecast from Washington. However, notwithstanding this excess, the total United States wheat production for 1929 is 108,000,000 bushels below the 1928 output.

Closing quotations on wheat today were unsettled, ⅛c to 1c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to ¼@⅜c off, oats a shade to ⅜c down, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5c.

In contrast with the late downward trend of wheat prices, the market earlier averaged higher owing largely to a more or less uneasiness displayed as to possible effects of a sudden severe drop in temperatures over domestic wheat territory. Snowfall was widespread. The price of July deliveries representing the 1930 crop showed relative firmness compared with quotations on nearer-by deliveries that call for wheat already in store.

Pre-holiday slackness of export demand for wheat from North America tended further to bring about late declines in wheat prices. On the other hand, transient price advances earlier were to a considerable degree associated with suggestions from a Chicago trade authority that the United States is likely to be called upon to supply 160,000,000 bushels of wheat for export between January 1 and July 31. Reiteration of reduced crop estimates from Argentina and Australia were also a subject of notice.

Corn and oats eased toward the last, influenced by wheat weakness.

Provisions were firmer because of upturns in the value of hogs.

A letter from Mr. C. O. G. Miller, President of the Company, copies of which will be furnished upon request, is summarized by him as follows:

History and Business

The Company, which was incorporated in California in 1907 as successor to Pacific Lighting Company (organized in 1886), controls through stock ownership Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, Southern Counties Gas Company of California, Southern California Gas Corporation and certain smaller companies.

Through these companies the Company does practically the entire gas business in southern California, including Los Angeles, and also serves a large part of Los Angeles with electricity.

Of gross revenues for the twelve months ended October 31, 1929, 85% was derived from the sale of gas and 15% from the sale of electricity.

Properties

The properties of the Company's subsidiaries include 10,601 miles of gas gathering, transmission and distribution lines, nine gas manufacturing plants with 134,202,000 cu. ft. aggregate daily capacity, two electric stations with an aggregate capacity of 136,100 kw. and 2,468 miles of electric transmission and distribution lines.

Substantially all of the gas distributed at the present time is natural gas and is purchased from independent producers. On the basis of present reserves and past experience in the opening from time to time of new fields and deeper sands, it is believed that the territory will provide large amounts of natural gas for an extended period.

Capitalization

Outstanding with public after giving effect to this financing.

Subsidiary companies:
Funded Debt	$106,249,500
Preferred Stocks	32,872,827

Pacific Lighting Corporation:

$5 Dividend Preferred Stock	306 sh.
Common Stock	1,461,831 sh.

The two classes of preferred stock rank pari passu in respect to cumulative dividends at their respective rates and in respect to assets in voluntary or involuntary dissolution, each share of each class being entitled to $100 per share and accrued dividends in preference to the common stock. The present authorized amounts of the two classes are 2,500,000 shares $6 preferred and 500,000 shares $5 preferred. Holders of all classes of the Company's stock are subject to the usual liability of stockholders of California corporations.

Purpose of Issue

The proceeds of this issue are to be used to pay current indebtedness incurred in making advances to subsidiaries for property additions and betterments and other corporate purposes.

Aggregate annual interest and dividend requirements on present funded debt and preferred stocks of subsidiaries and on preferred stocks of Pacific Lighting Corporation, including this issue, are $8,358,233. Net earnings for 12 months ended October 31, 1929, amount to more than 2 times such requirements.

After deducting the requirements of subsidiaries, the balance of such net earnings is in excess of 12½ times annual dividend requirements on the preferred stocks of Pacific Lighting Corporation.

ANAHEIM, Dec. 18.—Establishment here of a branch of the White-Stokes Candy Company, a manufacturing concern, was announced today by C. Peske, superintendent. Machinery was installed this week for the plant, which will supply candy for the district from San Diego to Seattle.

The company's main plant is located at Chicago. The location of the plant here is said to have followed the successful operation of the Mutual Citrus Products Company, a concern engaged in manufacturing pectin from lemons and oranges. Pectin enters largely into the formulae of the candy company, Mr. Peske said.

Foreign Secretary Says No Complaints Received About British Prisoners

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Times.]

LONDON, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—A lurid newspaper story of Britishers rotting in American jails was aired in the House of Commons today when Annesley Somerville, Conservative member, questioned Foreign Secretary Henderson on the subject. The newspaper charge was leveled especially at the Los Angeles jail, where it was asserted British subjects whose visas have expired are herded with common criminals.

"No complaints have been received at the Foreign Office in the last two years," answered Henderson. "Most British subjects held for deportation in United States immigration stations have rendered themselves liable to heavy penalties, including a term of imprisonment, by effecting illegal entry into the United States. If arrested in a place where there is no United States immigration station deportees necessarily are confined in local jails, but I understand ordinarily they are separated from common criminals."

NO BRITISH SUBJECTS IN JAILS OF CITY

No British subjects are being held in Los Angeles jails, according to a check by the authorities last night. One prisoner, a Canadian, is awaiting deportation proceedings, and is under a charge of transporting machine guns across the international border.

Court Dismisses Local Charges Against Convicts

SAN RAFAEL, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Superior Judge Butler today dismissed the cases against fifteen convicts now serving terms at San Quentin prison, charged with prior convictions by Assistant District Attorney Jordan of Los Angeles county. The convicts were to have been tried under the amended Penal Code of 1927 holding that prisoners in a State prison can be resentenced as habitual criminals on proof of prior convictions unknown at the time of their sentence.

Attorneys for the convicts filed a demurrer on the ground the charges did not mention whether or not these prior convictions were unknown at the time of their sentence to San Quentin. Jordan then moved the charges be withdrawn.

Tresidder was selected as first president of the Public Utility Operators' Association formed following the Washington conference.

Alega Vasconcelos que Ha Comenzado una Revolución en su Favor

EL PASO (Tejas), Diciembre 18. José Vasconcelos, candidato derrotado en las elecciones de Noviembre, dijo hoy, antes de salir para Tucsón (Arizona), que ha comenzado ya la revolución para llevarlo a él a la presidencia, y que será casi incruenta, pues habrá 100 hombres para cada fusil. Agregó que iba a Los Angeles a pasar la Navidad con su familia, y que, poco después de esa fecha, se marcharía a dirigir la revolución en Méjico.

"Centenares de partidarios míos se han alzado en arms", dijo Vasconcelos, "y constantemente están peleando con las tropas federales por todo Méjico. Sólo los generales, paniaguados del gobierno corrompido de Calles, permanecerán con éste cuando demos el golpe. Los oficiales y la tropa se nos incorporarán sin vacilar.

Agregó que el ministro de la Guerra, general Amaro, estaba comprando buen surtido de armas y municiones para su movimiento, pues todas las que está almacenando en los depósitos del gobierno caerán pronto en manos de los partidarios de Vasconcelos.

Los Enviados Rojos Remisos en Presentar sus Credenciales

LONDRES, Diciembre 18.—Decía hoy el Daily Express en su columna de Rumores Sociales, que se discute mucho sobre el motivo que haya para que se esté dilatando en presentar sus credenciales el señor K. Sokolnikov, nuevo embajador soviet. Parece ser que no debe atribuirse la demora ni al gobierno ni al embajador.

Muchos ingleses consideran injustificada la ejecución del Zar Nicolás y de otros miembros de la familia real por los soviets. El zar era primo del Rey Jorge, quien, hasta la fecha, no se había visto ante la dura necesidad de recibir a un embajador soviet. Parece que en vista de esta circunstancia, va a representar a su padre el Príncipe de Gales, y a recibir, quizá para antes de Navidad, al embajador de Moscú.

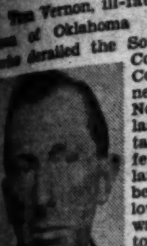
VERNON GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Train Wrecker Denied All Parole Chances

Fitts Wages Battle to Send ex-Convict to Gallows

Prisoner Granted Ten-Day Stay of Execution



TOM VERNON

Tom Vernon, ill-fated 45-year-old ... of Oklahoma cattle-rustlers, ... derailed the Southern Pacific Company's West Coast Limited near Saugus, November 10, last, and obtained only a few paltry dollars in the robbery that followed, yesterday was sentenced to spend the rest of his life in prison as the penalty for his double crime. Judge Aggeler pronounced the sentence in Superior Court at the conclusion of an appeal by Defense Attorney Cooper for leniency and another by Dist.-Atty. Fitts for a sentence of death. On motion of Attorney Cooper, the court then granted a ten-day stay of execution.

Fitts based his plea that Vernon be hanged on the assertion that all his life the confessed wrecker has been "a vicious and dangerous man" with a crime record that has rendered him unfit for association with society. He described the rifling of train passengers' pockets as a "sordid, putrid robbery." The fact that Vernon's motive was revenge for a fancied wrong, and not robbery, as he had explained to deputy sheriffs, did not constitute an extenuating circumstance, Fitts said, nor did the fortunate fact that no lives were lost in the derailment.

PLEA FOR CRIMINAL

The District Attorney then cited that the State Legislature saw fit to make the crime of train-wrecking in California punishable by life imprisonment or death in the discretion of the court and urged that in this case the defendant be sentenced to hang.

Defense Attorney Cooper, who entered the case at the eleventh hour as the appointee of friends of Vernon, launched into his entreaty for mercy. He pointed out that Vernon had received an honorable discharge from the Army, and after recounting how the confessed wrecker had seen his own mother and father hanged for cattle-rustling, the attorney called the court's attention to the fact Vernon once had risked his life to save fellow-prisoners from leaking gas in Folsom. This act of bravery, he declared, figured in his subsequent parole.

In conclusion, Cooper said Deputy Sheriff Tom Higgins had shown Vernon the only kindness he ever had known and had stressed to him the Los Angeles District Attorney's offices' reputation for fair play. It was this, Cooper said, that had caused Vernon to hope following his arrest in Pawnee, Okla., that he would be extradited to California, rather than to Wyoming, which wanted him for wrecking a Union Pacific train near Cheyenne a week after the derailment at Saugus.

NO CHANCE FOR PAROLE

Judge Aggeler reviewed at length the history of the case from the wrecking and attendant robbery to the arrest of Vernon in Oklahoma, reciting the original indictment against the defendant and the amended indictment in which five previous felony convictions of Vernon were named. He revealed Vernon's pleas of guilty to the charge of train-wrecking and to one of three counts charging robbery, and his admissions of the prior convictions. Then, invoking the habitual-criminal law, which prescribes life imprisonment without eligibility for parole, the court passed sentence.

Attorney Cooper thereupon moved for the stay, which the prosecution, represented by Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart and Chief Trial Deputy District-Attorney Beecher, in addition to Fitts, did not oppose.

NEW SLANT ON BEAUTY TAKEN

Briton Mixes Curves and Angles

"NOW from this angle—what! what!—we get a most unusual view of Miss Loos, most unusual, you know," said Hollywood's latest English arrival last night.

He's Cecil Beaton, 24-year-old London-society-amateur - modernistic photographer, painter and sketcher and a most modernistic author.

For he is in Hollywood—this is a secret—to find the two most beautiful women in motion pictures to discuss and photograph, so he can complete his "Book of Beauty."

And he will be shown Hollywood, inside and out, by Anita Loos, herself a modern author, and her actor husband, John Emerson.

The trio arrived at the Roosevelt last night from New York, and Cecil, camera in hand, couldn't wait until his bags arrived to show visitors how he achieves his futuristic photographic results with an ordinary pocket camera.

Illustrating His Subject

Cecil Beaton (aloft) illustrates how he obtains modern effects in photography. Anita Loos is his subject; her husband, John Emerson, standing by.

"You have to know your angles and lights and what-not, but it is great fun and what a jolly time I will have photographing some of your Hollywood girls," Beaton beamed.

"But speaking of beauty—especially of that exemplified by American and English girls.

"There are many more attractive girls, taken on the average, in America than in England. American girls have smoother skins and higher coloring than our English girls; they have better shapes and smaller and more graceful hands and feet.

"In cases of striking beauty, however, I have found that the features of English girls are finer.

"But Hollywood may change my opinion; eh what, Anita? That is if I can get out safely after choosing just two girls out of the thousands I understand are here."

This is Beaton's first trip west of New York. He stopped there a month following his arrival from London and plans to be here at least a month before going to Palm Beach, Fla.

"Is it true that you are a member of the 'Bright Young Things?'" he was asked.

"Well, now, that is a bit like something out of a clear sky, you know," Cecil responded. "But I am. We have formed a club among the young artists and what-not of London—but I did not know we were known in Hollywood. Remarkable. Will have to let the members know—make them cheery, don't you think?"

Baba, Beaton's young sister, is expected to join her brother in Hollywood soon. She is scheduled to be presented at court next year, to receive the same mark of Eng-

PLAN FOR WIDENING APPROVED

Council Adopts Report on Method of Handling Great Second Street Project

The City Council yesterday adopted a lengthy report of its Street Opening and Widening Committee outlining the method of widening Second street between Figueroa street and Glendale Boulevard, handling the complicated Glendale Boulevard-Beverly Boulevard crossing and approving the tentative assessment district map therefor.

The committee recommends that the City Attorney and City Engineer proceed at once to institute proceedings to condemn the land necessary to give Second street a sixty-foot roadway between Figueroa and Boylston streets and a seventy-foot roadway between Boylston street and Glendale Boulevard.

The matter of paving the street after the widening proceeding is completed is left to the Public Works Committee. It is recommended that the suggestion of City Engineer Shaw that First street-Beverly Boulevard traffic be carried over Glendale Boulevard-Second street by a viaduct be referred to the Tunnels, Bridges and Viaducts Committee. This bridge, Maj. Shaw suggests, should be financed from the bridges bond fund. An allocation of $100,000 toward the Second-street widening project still stands.

FLEET'S MANEUVERS FIXED

Ships to Leave for Winter Tactics in Caribbean February 14 and Return in June

Complete plans for the winter concentration and maneuvers of the United States fleet in the Caribbean area, for which the battle fleet will depart San Pedro on February 14, next, were announced yesterday by the Navy Department. Only thirty-four units of the battle fleet will participate, while the total force of the United States fleet at the concentration will be 104 ships, as against 180 vessels at previous winter maneuvers.

The program of recommissioning the destroyer forces of both the battle and scouting fleets, together with battleship overhaul and modernization work, is responsible for the fleet's small size on the cruise, which will include a visit to New York in May. Previous suggestions to abandon the cruise on account of the small force available, are said to have been discarded.

The battle fleet's movements for the cruise will be as follows: Depart San Pedro-San Diego area, February 14; engage in tactics en route to the Canal Zone; transit canal about February 25 to 28; remain at canal from March 1 to 9 for army and navy exercises; March 10 to 15 engage in fleet problems en route to Guantanamo Bay; March 16 to April 30, United States Fleet concentration at Guantanamo and maneuvers in Caribbean, followed by visits to West Indian ports.

April 30 to May 7, combined United States fleet en route to New York; May 8 to 19, United States fleet at New York, after which battle fleet will depart for San Pedro, arriving here about June 10.

When the dreadnaught squadron returns to the home base next June it will be strengthened by return of the modernized battleships Oklahoma and Nevada and by the New York and Texas, again giving the Pacific a battleship force of twelve ships. The flag of the commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, now carried by the Texas, will be shifted to the Pennsylvania upon completion of her modernization now under way at the Philadelphia navy yard.

There follows the tentative list of Widespread interest is being manifest in the daily broadcasts of Christmas carols and chimes through the downtown area, and numerous inquiries are being answered every day as to the hours of the various programs, according to E. C. Mitchell, secretary of the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association. He yesterday released the following schedule: Daily, morning, 8:30 to 9:30; 10:30 to 10:45; afternoon, 12 to 12:15; 2:30 to 2:45; 4 to 4:15; 5:30 to 5:45; 6:30 to 7; evening, 8:30 to 9, and Sunday, from 5 to 7 p.m.

FILM UNION CHIEF HELD IN WILD ROW

Carothers Accused of Striking Stenographer on Head With Telephone

Charged with being drunk on private property, after he is asserted to have struck his stenographer over the head with a telephone, F. Carothers, well-known union labor leader here for more than twenty years and head of the Hollywood bureau for the handling of union interests in motion pictures, yesterday was booked by the Hollywood police following an asserted rampage in his offices.

Carothers, who is 62 years of age, also is secretary of the Motion Picture International Committee, said to be the official name of the union film city organization, and has offices at 6370 Hollywood Boulevard. The accused union leader resides at 511 Maple street, Monrovia.

The attention of police officers to the scene of the asserted drunken attack was caused when Policeman Darnell, walking his beat, observed a woman leaning out of a window and screaming hysterically for help.

Hurrying to her aid, the policeman found Carothers drunk, according to his report, and the woman, Mrs. J. R. Palmer of 1025 North St. Andrews Place, bleeding from a scalp wound.

Mrs. Palmer, almost hysterical with fear, explained to the officer that she is the stenographer to the head of the union bureau. She said that yesterday afternoon Carothers summoned her to his private office to take dictation. She had barely arranged her notebook and seated herself in her chair when her employer suddenly seized the desk telephone and without a word of warning crashed the instrument down on her head. She was unable to defend herself and ran to the window to scream for help.

Darnell placed Carothers under arrest and as they started for the station the latter started to fight the police officer. Finally the unionist was subdued, but not until after he had stuck his foot through a glass door panel.

Mrs. Palmer's head wound was treated at Dickey & Cass Emergency Hospital. Her husband announced that he will file an assault and battery complaint against Carothers.

CHIROPRACTIC GROUP WILL GET DIPLOMAS

Announcement of the graduation exercises of the Southern California Chiropractic College, 1406 West Seventh street, was made yesterday by Dr. Charles A. Cale, president of the institution. They will be conducted on the 20th inst., at 8 p.m. in the Danish Auditorium, 1359½ West Twenty-fourth street, and will mark the completion of a two-year course in chiropractic training. The twelve members of the class will receive their diplomas.

AIM OF SCHOOLS TOLD TEACHERS

Fit Pupils to Use Creative Powers, Says Lecturer

How to Think, Not What to Think, Held Ideal

Important Sessions Planned for Institute Today

"Can the schools afford to teach boys and girls to think?" This is one of the pertinent questions put in the opening session at the Bible Institute of the California Teachers' Association last night by Dr. Jesse H. Newlon, director of Lincoln School, Columbia University.

Drawing from his theme, "The School in American Life," Dr. Newlon questioned that education had contributed anything of outstanding value in the past thirty years. He told of having put that same question to a keen young college senior, who replied that Henry Ford had contributed more to American life than had the schools.

WHAT TO THINK?

"Is it our function as teachers to teach the boys and girls what to think, as was done in Germany prior to the World War and as is being done in Russia today, where the schools are being used to inculcate in the minds of the children the tenets and ideals of Communism? I repeat, are we to teach them what to think, or should we just teach them to think?"

That the schools do not reflect life as it is being lived in the world of 1929 appeared to be the conviction of the speaker, who pointed out that the most constructive thing the schools have done is the Americanization of children of foreign-born parents. He questioned that the schools are as constructive as they should be, and doubted that the education we are providing makes any profound difference in the lives of the boys and girls who sit in the classrooms.

TEACHING TODAY

"It seems futile to teach boys and girls to live life as it is being lived today when we know of the swift and radical changes that have occurred in the past decade. Education has taken too much of the assumption that the world is to continue as it is today.

"It is futile to try to do thinking for our boys and girls and to provide them with an equipment that will last them a lifetime. None of the problems which my teachers and parents expected me to face have been met. By the time I had reached maturity those problems had changed, they were wearing a different face than had been presented me in the schoolroom and in my home. What we need to do is to put youth in possession of the methods by which they may solve their own problems.

CREATIVE ABILITY

"We also need to release the creative ability that will enable our boys and girls to face the problems of life. These are some of the goals at which education must aim," the speaker said in conclusion.

The audience was greeted by Robert A. Thompson, president of the California Teachers' Association, southern section, who dwelt at some length on the history and growth of Los Angeles county and its population.

A musical program and an invocation by Rev. J. M. Schaeffle, pastor of the Pico Heights Congregational Church, preceded the addresses by Mr. Thompson and Dr. Newlon.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

This morning five general sessions in the Bible Institute, Bovard Auditorium, Philharmonic Auditorium, Polytechnic Auditorium and Trinity Auditorium will open their doors to the teachers of Southern California at 9:30 o'clock.

Dr. Henry Gaines Hawn will be the speaker at the Bible Institute. The subject of his address will be "The Soul of Things." At Bovard Auditorium, University of Southern California, Dr. Ernest H. Cherington will discuss "Beverage Alcohol and the Modern Age." Teachers who attend the Philharmonic Auditorium will hear two addresses, one by Mrs. Beatrice Ensor, London, and the other by Dr. Everett Dean Martin, who will discuss "Insight vs. Animal Training in Educational Psy-

HUMAN STOCK SLUMP FEARED

Democracy in Peril, Biologist Tells Teachers, as Birth Rate Falls Among Superior Classes and Rises Among Unfit; Selective Breeding Called Nation's Need

Alarm over the declining birth rate among the more intelligent people of the United States and the increasing birth rate among the undesirables was expressed yesterday at a session of the Teachers' Institute by Dr. M. F. Guyer of the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Guyer's theme for the biology session of the institute was "Democracy, a Biological Problem." He quoted statistics gathered by specialists showing the important relationship between heredity and the trend of the individual's life, and thus to government.

"Bear in mind," he said, "that a government can do only what its people can or will do. For instance, you cannot enforce a law which the people do not want. Bear in mind, also, that the lower one-fourth of our population is producing about one-half of our next generation.

ABILITY HEREDITARY

"Education or training cannot create ability. It can only direct or refine ability. Actual studies indicate that 47.3 per cent of our population, taken by and large, rate intellectually below the age of 13 years. And yet the fate of this democracy rests with its people. The vote of the defective or the inferior citizen counts just as much as the vote of the superior citizen in a democracy.

"National deterioration is to be feared from four general causes or sources: War, an unwise charity which too frequently not only permits but encourages the reproduction of the inferior and unfit; immigration which permits the entry of persons whose attributes are deficient, and the infertility of the better stock of the nation.

"Why not look upon these human derelicts and ask ourselves why they should not be the last of their kind? I will venture to say that if you were to look into the activities of your associated charities you would find that we have been supporting year after year the same old stock of undesirables or inferiors. The families get different names, true, but you investigate and you will find that they are cousins or some relation of the family that lived on charity last year or the year before. And we find that very often the $10 we give to a noble cause goes to permit these no-goods to go on reproducing themselves. I do not mean to say that all charity cases are in that class.

"The fact is that the birth rate among defective mothers is twice that among normal mothers. And the survival among the offspring is even larger. They live because they do not worry; it is worry that kills most of us. We are beginning to

EASTERNER LAUGHS OFF MARKET PANIC

William H. Woodin

STOCK DROP MINIMIZED BY BANKER

W. H. Woodin, New York, Declares "Panic" Will be Forgotten by Spring

The recent stock market crash may have appeared at the time to have had serious aspects, but under calm analysis it is not at all alarming and by springtime will be practically forgotten. This was the opinion given here yesterday by William H. Woodin, a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, chairman of the board of directors of the American Locomotive Works and president of the American Car and Foundry Company. He is on an inspection tour of western interests.

"By springtime," he said, "we shall have forgotten all about the stock market. Conditions are quickly being readjusted and normality will prevail. There is no cause for any alarm whatever. Economic foundations are as sound and secure as ever and are unaffected. This was not a money panic in any sense of the term, merely one affecting speculation.

"I feel strongly of that opinion and am sure that the future will prove it correct. I believe President Hoover has done a great thing for the country in calling his business conferences of outstanding executives and it is most reassuring to find all reporting sound conditions."

Mr. Woodin arrived in Los Angeles from the east yesterday and last night departed on the Southern Pacific's Padre for Oakland and San Francisco for further inspection of marine engine plants. From there he plans to go on to Portland and Seattle and may go back to New York over the northern route or return to Los Angeles and travel eastward over the Santa Fe.

Pageant Float Fund Provided

The sum of $1000 to be expended in decorating a float to be entered in the parade of the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena was appropriated yesterday by the City Council. Charles P. Bayer, field secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said his organization will supply a similar sum and that for $2000 a very presentable float can be constructed.

Councilmen Webster, Randall, Lewis and McAllister voted against the appropriation. In addition to the float, three decorated automobiles containing Councilmen will be in the line of march.

QUARRY PERMIT VOTE CENSURED

Two Planning Commissioners Oppose Bell Project

Baker and Miller Explain Stand in Report

Open Hearing in Council Set for Next Month

In the opinion of Donald M. Baker, president of the City Planning Commission, expressed in a minority report filed yesterday, Alphonzo Bell and his associates utterly failed to show by a preponderance of evidence the necessity or desirability of their demands to establish cement-rock quarries and crushing plants in the exclusive residential district of the Santa Monica Mountains and that the Bell interests should not have been granted their permit at the conclusion of the recent lengthy hearing. Mr. Baker and W. J. Miller voted "No" on the granting of the permit.

Mr. Baker declares that the fact that a 1000-foot strip surrounding the 495 acres in question has been set aside as unavailable for residential districts, indicates clearly to him that the operations of the quarry and crusher will be highly detrimental to the surrounding territory.

LACK OF EVIDENCE

He also declares that there was no evidence to show if the applicant will or will not benefit through the utilization of this limestone deposit for cement manufacture and that if it had been conclusively shown, which Mr. Baker declares it was not, that a greater return could be obtained in this manner than in subdivision, it might have been found that the applicant was being deprived of a substantial property right. Such showing was not made, he says.

He also declares that nothing was introduced to show the value of profits which might be received from the subdivision and sale of the 495 acres and that the attempt was made to compare the present value of this acreage with value of stock which Bell would have received from the cement company, using as valuation of the latter the most optimistic given.

MILLER OPPOSES

The report of Commissioner Miller, also filed with the commission, goes into the matter fully as deeply. Mr. Miller states that he finds in his mind the evidence presented as being of a nature that would not warrant the granting of the permit under any circumstance.

The matter will come up for decision of the City Council in open meeting on January 12, next.

Mr. Baker agrees with the majority in that variances from the provisions of the zoning ordinance are warranted only when certain facts exist and he agrees with the statement that these facts must exist as set forth in the majority opinion. However, he does not agree with the findings of fact included in the said opinion in a number of cases.

RESIDENTIAL AREA

Disagreement with this opinion is shown by Mr. Baker in his stand on the matter of making a comprehensive survey of the entire mountainous area before it was placed in "A" zone. He declares that the findings of the Commission and a scrutiny of the files of the commission indicate that as an extensive survey as was warranted was made and that never was there any intention to make this other than a residential area. The only other change he declares contemplated was the establishment of limited areas for trading centers and wherein multiple residence uses might be allowed.

"I do not see how any survey more comprehensive could have been made under the circumstances," he declares. "Planning commissions are not expected to inquire into the mineral resources of a region which has been accessible to the public for years and which undoubtedly has been prospected time and time again. It would have been a waste of public funds to have attempted to make a subdivision layout of the area as the city would have had no way of enforcing this layout. There does not seem to be anything on the records which indicates that a comprehensive survey was lacking."

He declares that the existence of the limestone deposit might be taken as a special circumstance if the value of the same had been established.

"There is nothing in the record,"

PIONEER BANKER BURIED

Several Hundred Friends and Relatives Pay Final Respects at Funeral of John M. Elliott

With bowed heads and heavy hearts relatives and friends paid their last respects yesterday to the earthly remains of John M. Elliott, financier, who in many ways was one of the builders of the Los Angeles of the last sixty years.

They gathered several hundred strong at St. Paul's Cathedral at 2 p.m. Among them were many of the city's leaders in business, industry, the professions and civic activities. Not a few gray-haired men and women who knew him from the time when he came here as a bookkeeper for a lumber company were among the audience.

And they followed his body to Evergreen Cemetery where burial took place. Under a blanket of flowers his body was laid to rest and his good works and memories, which are legion, are all that remain.

BISHOP READS SERVICES

The body was taken from the Elliott home, 914 West Twenty-eighth street, to the church for the service. It consisted of the twenty-minute ritual of the Episcopal denomination, simple and brief and devoid of much ceremony. Dean Beal read the Scripture lesson from St. Paul's message to the Corinthians in which it is pointed out that death survives all other foes that man may have vanquished but that in death man but puts off the mortal for the immortal so that after all death is not victor. Therefore, the hearers were admonished "to abound in the works of the Lord."

Bishop Stevens of the diocese read the ritual and commended the spirit of the departed to God, uttered a prayer for its security in eternity and then invoked the blessings of the Lord upon the grieving relatives and friends. Then the assembly departed for the cemetery where the body was consigned to earth with the last of the rite.

Members of the Sunset Club, which includes many of the community's old-timers, attended the services in a body. The pallbear-

OH, WELL, Pola can have her prince back—says the twice-married Mary McCormic to the twice-married Miss Negri.

After a certain point, these fascinating hourils of the opera and screen come to view the matter of matrimony more in the light of collectors. Miss McCormic figures that the Prince will only mellow with time—and she will probably get him in the end anyhow. Meanwhile she will seize a cow puncher, she says.

Let every cowboy be on guard tonight.

FIRE SAFETY

The aftermath of the Pathe studio disaster is in line with previous experiences with the New York Fire Department. Their inspectors always make elaborate safety precautions—after the disaster.

I onced lived in Fifty-seventh street, New York, and saw an apartment-house burn—and all the occupants burned to death—because the fire department had allowed the owners to remove the stairway—leaving a jammed elevator the only means of egress. That entire street—from Fifth avenue to Sixth—consisted of old wooden fire traps—without a single fire escape.

THE MISSING RUTH

Ruth Elder's flight toward Europe seems to be mysteriously missing from the otherwise complete aviation record as contained in Ernest W. Dickman's absorbing book "This Aviation Business."

She is one flying heroine who was—and is—resented by flyers. The truth is that the delectable Miss Elder was an attendant in a dentist's office and knew so little about flying that she took frantic secret lessons after entering the recent Women's Air Race.

Doubtless her temporary fame was a pleasant relief from holding the forceps for the tooth doctor; but there is nothing pleasant about the ethics of the promoters who tried to cash in on Lindbergh's glory by sending her out to risk her life.

ARISE AND SING!

The gloom is fading from the real estate situation. More nibbles during the last few weeks than for the last three years. If January brings us good rains, this next year will open the door to the sunshine—a case of rain bringing the sun.

It is to be hoped, however, that there will never be another boom. The crash of the boom of 1923 was due to the same causes that wrecked the Wall street stock market. People sold what they did not own. They made a payment down in the hope of getting the property off their hands before it began to burn. Real estate fell into the hands of sharp-shooting gamblers who had no interest in land. To them it was just a pile of blue chips on a roulette wheel.

JUST SKUNKS

Every capture of bandits in the local market accentuates one fact: that they will not fight. They use guns on unarmed victims; but, without exception, wither like rabbits when they meet the police. If there is such a thing as total depravity, these modern machine-gun killers have sounded the depths.

MORE SIGNATURES NEEDED

The City Council yesterday warned petitioners for the widening of Adams Boulevard between Canfield avenue and La Cienega Boulevard to obtain additional signatures to the petition, they now being in a minority.

Desponding Husband Takes Own Life After Family Quarrel

BUSINESS MAN DIES OF FUMES

Young Publisher Finds Death in Love Cottage

Wife Believed Estranged by Harassed Benedict

Note Shows Mind Torn by Pangs of Jealousy

Harassed by the specter of lost love, James R. Fish, a young business man, Tuesday night swathed his head in a bath towel, clenched in his teeth a tube from a bathroom stove and as the gas hissed into his lungs went to death believing himself a sacrifice to the estranged affections of his wife. Police found his body yesterday.

For his suicide Fish chose a little bungalow at 1017 Court street which had been warmed in months past by the felicity of himself and his wife, Mrs. Clara Fish, with her 14-year-old son, Floyd. They moved not long ago to 604 North Coronado street. After a family tiff Sunday Fish went back and again rented the house of former happiness for his death nook.

DARKNESS OF DEATH

P. Dolkart, manager of the court, rented the bungalow to Fish and that night, silhouetted against the window blind, he saw his renewed tenant pacing nervously to and fro. Suddenly the house went dark and silence came over the place.

Yesterday Dolkart, troubled by the observance of the night before, went to investigate. Fish lay sprawled on the bathroom floor, the towel death-mask awry and the tube still emitting gas. He summoned police detectives.

Arriving a few minutes later the officers officially pronounced dead the man who believed love had deserted him and on a near-by table they found a letter to his widow written in haste and toned with despair. It read:

"My darling: I am sorry. I cannot live without you. You know it, so you are driving me to this. I couldn't live and know that you would be married to the tile man, so I am getting out of the way and you can go ahead with your plans. I know you trumped up the excuse today so that you could get me out of the way, so you could go ahead and marry the tile man. Well, it worked and you are free.

"I wish you luck. I hope you will be happy—as happy as you can be, knowing that you are the cause of it all. Everything I have tried, I have schemed, figured, done everything to try to make money for you. I was getting another start and you came along and wrecked the whole thing. I'll be with you, next to you every day and night. Good-by. God bless you.

"JIMMY."

WIFE PROSTRATED

At the modest Coronado-street bungalow Mrs. Fish, on the verge of a breakdown from grief, yesterday said that Fish had no grounds for his fears as to her affection for any other man. She did not know how he conceived the ideas expressed in his farewell note.

"It's all my fault," she wept. "I should have kept him here Sunday after the little argument. He went away angry, but I didn't believe he would do this.

"Why, we lived in that house only a year ago and we were so happy."

Mrs. Fish said no arrangements had been made for the funeral.

"What can I do?" she said. "We are penniless and almost without anything to eat."

Mrs. Fish said they had been married three years. She was married once before, she said, and Floyd was Fish's stepson. Fish was 36 years of age and Mrs. Fish is 35. He had a bulletin publishing business at 321 West Third street.

Fish leaves besides his widow and stepson his mother, Mrs. A. Fish, of 2208 West Pico street, according to police.

BATTLE OF BUSSES TO END TODAY

Motor Coach Company to Complete Case in Plea for Coast Road Line

The long-drawn-out battle of the busses, which has been waged by attorneys for various motor stage companies operating in Southern California for operative rights along the Coast Highway, will come to an end this afternoon, it was indicated yesterday. Begun on the 10th inst. before Commissioner Louttit of the State Railroad Commission, the hearing has been continued daily to give contending bus companies opportunity to prove their respective claims for certificates of operation.

Attorneys for Pickwick Stages System required four days to present their evidence and a strong array of witnesses. The Santa Monica Mountain Coach Lines devoted all of Monday to the same object and yesterday the Motor Coach Company had its inning. Attorneys for the latter company will complete its case today, after which the claims of the various companies will be taken under submission by the Railroad Commission.

Pickwick and Motor Coach Company are seeking through operative rights along the Coast Highway from San Diego to San Francisco. The Santa Monica Mountain Coach Lines seeks a certificate to operate local service between Santa Monica and Ventura.

STREET ROW INJUNCTION PERMANENT

Judge Puts Quietus on Plan to Cut Down Grade in Improving Seventh

Superior Judge Bishop yesterday signed the judgment which restrains permanently the city of Los Angeles from proceeding with the lowering of the grade on Seventh street between Figueroa and Lucas streets, thereby placing the final touch on litigation that has been waged in court for the last four years. The decision of the court granting the property owners, objecting to the improvement, an injunction, was made public November 19, last.

In granting the restraining order Judge Bishop held that the awards to leaseholders was not authorized, also that the grades as set out by the city's ordinance for the improvement were too indefinite.

The city had planned to cut down the grade of the street at a cost of $3,000,000. In some places it was to be lowered as much as eighteen feet. After the proceedings went through the City Council a number of property owners came into court and obtained a temporary injunction restraining the City Treasurer from selling the bonds to pay for the work. It is this order that has been made permanent.

Woman Unable to Get Damages From Dead Man

Mrs. Wilhelmina F. Mathis will be unable to recover damages she said were promised her by Godfrey Edwards, real estate operator, who died shortly after his automobile had injured Mrs. Mathis and killed her husband.

Mrs. Mathis sued for $77,619, asserting a verbal contract with Edwards.

Superior Judge Bowron held, however, that when Edwards died, January 23, 1928, all lawsuits against him died, too, and on another claim, Judge Bowron held that Edwards's statement was only a declaration of good intention, and not a contract. Mrs. Mathis wept in the courtroom when her attorney explained to her the import of Judge Bowron's decision.

NEW WHARVES WILL BE BUILT

Harbor Project Expected to Cost $1,500,000

Iron and Steel Handling Will be Aided Greatly

Board Talks of Bond Need as Funds Near Zero

Drafting of detailed plans and specifications for the construction of two large steamship wharves at three berths on the east bank of the West Basin, at an estimated cost of $1,500,000 for the two, was authorized by the Harbor Commission yesterday.

The construction will be the first major wharf constuction job in the West Basin area and will provide facilities for the berthing of any two large ships, or three smaller ones, at the same time. The two wharves will total 1250 feet in length, making them larger than former wharf construction. They will be parallel with the shore line.

The additional wharves will provide ample facilities for the handling of iron and steel pipe and beams, shipments of which have reached such a scale that congestion has resulted. The location is considered suitable because there already is a paved roadway and rail facilities back of the site, which has plenty of room for the storage of the steel and iron products in the area between tracks and the shore.

BONDS TO BE USED UP

The plans are to provide for single-story transit sheds, cargo masts and a general construction similar to that of the wharves located on the East San Pedro side of the main channel. This development will use up all of the remainder of the 1923 harbor bond funds of $15,000,000, of which the balance of $2,200,000 were sold early this year to provide means for constructing the Santa Fe permanent connection, a new case-oil wharf at Mormon Island and other improvements.

In fact, there will be insufficient bond funds to complete the West Basin wharf project and it is expected that a portion of the harbor revenues will be required.

According to the harbor board, more harbor bonds will have to be voted shortly to provide means to construct facilities to meet the rapidly growing needs of the harbor. Sixteen more steamship lines now are using the port than was the case last June and almost every line already using the harbor is expanding its service and demanding more space. The larger intercoastal lines and some of the Pacific-European services, as well as the trans-Pacific lines, are asking more room, according to the board.

EXPANSION PLANS

Some of the lines have announced expansion plans on which they have worked for three or four years and the Harbor Department is left in the predicament of being required to furnish facilities immediately, according to members of the board, who feel that some advance information of such plans would enable the Harbor Department to make preparations so that facilities could be completed when needed.

In the matter of the need for more expansion funds it is pointed out that, in addition to furnishing needed facilities for steamship lines, Los Angeles Harbor needs modern facilities or terminals for the handling of the growing number of passengers.

Other requirements are an adequate anchorage for the huge fishing fleet which is being developed, anchorage for the rapidly increasing fleet of large yachts which are considered an important asset to the harbor, larger areas for handling lumber, acquisition of the Southern Pacific frontage, construction of ferry terminals and increased facilities for the oil industry.

Favorable action by the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors on the application for government construction of the proposed 12,500-foot extension of the breakwater and completion of dredging operations in the West Basin and other points is expected to emphasize the need for voting another bond issue, according to harbor officials.

The argument by California Senators and Representatives that the government should pay the entire cost of the breakwater extension, as is done at other harbors in the United States, would save a vast sum to Los Angeles in bond funds which then could be voted for further development of the port, according to harbor officials.

JOHN HOSKIN WILL BRINGS LEGAL FIGHT

Eight Nephews and Nieces Contesting His Disposal of $99,171 Estate

Asserting that John Hoskin neglected to provide for his legal heirs, eight nephews and nieces filed a contest in Probate Court to his will, disposing of an estate appraised at $99,171.

Hoskin, who died November 16, 1928, at 80 years of age, failed to provide in his will for his nieces and nephews but left the bulk of his property to relatives of his deceased wife. The will, dated the day before Hoskin died, left $12,000 to Mrs. Eleanor Ledford, Mrs. Bessie Schiller, Miss Carol Steube, grand nieces of the decedent's wife, $4000 to Mrs. Millie Stebe, $1000 to the Orthopedic Hospital, $5000 to Arthur Hoskin, and a plot of real estate to Mrs. Minnie Hoskin.

Contestants are Jane Hoskin, A. A. Hoskin, Cora Hoskin Johnson, F. J. Hoskin, A. S. Hoskin, S. B. Hoskin, W. O. Hoskin and Mrs. M. G. Bird. They assert the testator was mentally incompetent, and unduly influenced by W. F. Young, business adviser of the decedent and named as his executor.

Mildred Mernie

ACTRESS TO DEFEND SUIT FOR INJURY

Mildred Mernie in Court to Deny Culpability for Baker's Running Down

Mildred Mernie, motion-picture actress, employed at the First National Pictures Corporation studios, appeared in the court of Superior Judge Mahon late yesterday to defend a suit for $31,727 damages brought against her and her father, Ray Chase, by Vernon Eddy, Hollywood baker, who asserts the actress ran him down with an automobile. The accident, according to the complaint, occurred at Hollywood Boulevard and Gower street on March 8, 1928.

Eddy, represented by Attorney George M. Foster, testified that he was walking across the street intersection when Miss Mernie, driving at a "pretty good clip" ran into him. He said he sustained seven broken ribs, suffered internal injuries and could not operate his business for a period of ten weeks.

Miss Mernie was in court with her counsel, Clarence W. Hull, prepared to deny that she was driving in a reckless manner. She contends that Eddy contributed to the accident by failing to use ordinary care and precaution in crossing the street; that he deliberately stepped off the curb in front of her machine.

Roy Chase, father of the actress, is made a defendant in the suit because he is the owner of the automobile Miss Mernie was driving at the time of the accident. The trial will be resumed at 10 a.m. today.

POLICE BRIBERY TRIAL NEAR END

Arguments to Jury Expected to Start Today

Accused Negro-Officer Trio All Deny Charges

Each Takes Stand and Tells of Innocence

Arguments to the jury are scheduled to get under way today in Superior Judge Hardy's court in the case of Arthur McClanahan, S. S. Wylie and C. N. Bradford, negro police officers accused of eight counts of bribery.

Testimony was concluded yesterday with all the defendants testifying in their own behalf and denying the State's charges that they accepted "protection" money from asserted bootleggers in the Central-avenue district.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. McKay will launch the State's opening argument this morning, to be followed by Defense Attorneys Thomas P. White, William Crop and William Christiansen. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison will conclude for the prosecution. The case probably will go to the jury tomorrow.

The three defendants originally were indicted on ten counts each of bribery and extortion. All the extortion counts were dismissed for lack of evidence, while two of the bribery charges were quashed because they were outlawed by the statute of limitations.

It is the contention of the defense that protection was granted bootleggers in the Central-avenue area in exchange for their testimony for the defendants in the present case.

Youthful Flyer to Arrive Today

For the first time a lad of his age has made a western flight unaccompanied by an older person, John Longyear, 9 years of age, is due to arrive here this evening on the dawn-to-dusk flight of the Western Air Express from Kansas City. The boy is coming to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Longyear.

Young Longyear, a student in a private school at St. Louis, is due to arrive at Kansas City early this morning on a train and make hurried connections with the air line. He is the grandson of J. F. Longyear, president of the Citizens National Trust and Savings Company of Los Angeles.

STREET PROJECT APPROVED

The City Council yesterday adopted the ordinance of intention for the improvement of the Hamilton-avenue and Twenty-fourth-street district. It was set for hearing January 28.

FRAUD CHARGED BY EVANGELIST

Former Attorney, of "Oppression"

McPherson Replies to Contract Breach Suit

Agreement Made About Talkie, She Declares

to the $224,500 damage against her by Crom- Ormsby, her former attorney, McPherson, evangelist of Angelus Temple, yester- charged Ormsby with "fraud oppression" in obtaining a con- asserted breach of which is the basis of Ormsby's suit.

McPherson's charges are in an answer she filed in Court to Ormsby's suit her. The suit involves a all-talking motion-picture in which Mrs. McPher- to play the leading role planned excursion to the Holy

CHANGE IN ATTORNEYS

With the filing of the answer, it revealed that Mrs. McPher- and George Acret, who suc- Ormsby as her attorney, have their legal relationship. At- W. Joseph Ford, who pre- her answer to Ormsby's suit, represents the evangelist. declined to discuss the ter- of his legal services in be- of Mrs. McPherson, but con- a report at the Courthouse in the day that the relation- ended.

Ormsby's suit against Mrs. Mc- followed closely the an- of his retirement as at- for the evangelist. In his he asserts that, under a he had with the evangelist, to handle the business and of the proposed motion- production and Holy Land and in return for his services to receive one-third of the from the two ventures. He in dismissing him, Mrs. breached the contract prevented him from re- alizing profits and fees totaling the amount sued for in his complaint.

RESCISSION PURPORTED

In her answer Mrs. McPherson incorporates a purported rescission of the disputed contract between her and Ormsby. The rescission, said to have been served on Ormsby prior to his announced retirement as her attorney, charges his contract with the evangelist was obtained "under circumstances of fraud and oppression and for the purpose of serving your own (Ormsby's) interest." It also states Ormsby obtained the contract without Mrs. McPherson "having full knowledge of all of the facts."

The rescission dismisses Ormsby as attorney for the evangelist with the statement: "You have incompetently, improperly and fraudulently handled my affairs as my attorney."

The answer sets forth that the contract between Mrs. McPherson and Ormsby, dated June 3, last, was superseded in so far as the motion-picture venture was concerned by another agreement dated October 23, last.

STEWART IN CHARGE

This latter agreement, the answer continues, was signed in Mrs. McPherson's behalf by Ormsby acting as her attorney-in-fact, and provided that J. Roy Stewart was to take charge of the production of the picture. This agreement also provided, according to the answer, that Mrs. McPherson and Ormsby were to receive 50 per cent of the profits of the venture and that of this amount Mrs. McPherson was to receive two-thirds and Ormsby one-third. The answer also charges that neither Ormsby nor Stewart has abided by the terms of this contract.

The contract of June 3, Mrs. McPherson states, was reached as a result of oral conversations with Ormsby and provided that the latter was to serve her in a "legal, business and advisory capacity."

PICTURE TO GLORIFY HER

That part of the contract dealing with the motion-picture production sets forth that Mrs. McPherson "will be the central character, said picture to be produced in such a manner as to protect her character against unjust criticism, and, as far as possible, enhance and glorify her reputation with her people and the world at large as a spiritual teacher and permit her to retain her prestige in the world as a teacher of idealistic thought and not detract from her position as a Christian winner of souls."

One portion of the answer sets forth an indicated $70,000 deficit in one of Mrs. McPherson's ventures, probably in connection with the Holy Land tour, which, if true, would preclude Ormsby from collecting any damages from the evangelist for anticipated profits in that connection. Ormsby's suit is understood to be largely for anticipated profits from the motion-picture and tour ventures. Several months ago it was reported Mrs. McPherson definitely had chartered a steamer for the proposed voyage to Palestine.

Filing of Mrs. McPherson's answer will place the case in a position to be set for trial.

DEATH MYSTERY HINTED AS AUTO FALLS INTO SEA

Possibility that an unidentified person may have drowned or been burned to death early yesterday morning when the expensive automobile of Robert E. Wharff of 1406½ North Van Ness avenue, plunged off the Roosevelt Highway a mile and one-half north of Topango Canyon is being investigated by deputy sheriffs.

Wharff yesterday was in the Santa Monica Hospital suffering from undetermined injuries and unable to make a coherent statement regarding the accident, according to a Sheriff's office report. He was taken first to the Santa Monica Police Station and subsequently to the hospital, according to the report.

Deputy Sheriffs Rodenmayer and Burger of the Fairfax substation reported they were able only to elicit the information from Wharff that he thought the machine to be in reverse when he started it sometime between 2 a.m. and 4 a.m., and that a car with occupants unknown to him was parked near his automobile and left the scene immediately after the accident.

The car fell approximately five feet into the sand and water below, having been parked at the edge of the highway, according to the deputies' report. It caught fire and still was smouldering when discovered by a passerby about 7 a.m., the report stated. From the position of the wreck, the deputies stated, there is a possibility that a companion may have been precipitated into the ocean or burned.

his report reads, "and I have searched it diligently, where by the value of this deposit may be established."

Mr. Baker takes up the effort of the Bell interests to set a value of the common stock of the Los Angeles Portland Cement Company, which was to be organized and of which the Bell people were to get one-third of the stock. He asserts that there is nothing to determine what the earnings would be and he asks the question, "What would one-third of the common stock have amounted to?"

MARKET RISE LATER

The report also says that great stress was laid on the impossibility of selling the land at the present time. As a matter of history, the report says the present real-estate market depression here is but temporary and an upward cycle will come soon.

"The applicant owns most of the land surrounding the scene of operations and from which the operations would be visible and there is no question but that he would suffer a heavy loss himself as a result of the quarry operation, and this also must be considered in the financial set-up, when the matter of the deprivation of a substantial property right is discussed," Mr. Baker declares.

Commissioner Miller also holds that he is unconvinced that the granting of the permit is essential to the enjoyment of a substantial property right.

MILLER UNCONVINCED

"I am unable to find from the evidence any information that would convince me conclusively that the value of the finished product and the consequent revenue to the applicant would establish the value of the materials on the premises and indicate them to be greatly in excess in the value of the premises themselves without the native materials proposed to be exploited," Commissioner Miller's report reads.

"I am not satisfied that even though this difference of value existed that it alone would warrant the issuance of the permit, but in so far as, in my opinion, that value has not been established the second point need not be argued."

Mr. Miller also holds that the material detriment of other property in the same district was quite clearly established. While he does not believe that physical results would ensue from the blasting, he says psychological results which would follow, would be of great and lasting detriment to the district.

"In a general sense our department studies have revealed conclusively that the dormant and decadent areas are those into which or near to which damaging uses have encroached," Mr. Miller says. "In spite of subsequent zoning restricting, the distrust in their permanency and effectiveness, due to the restrictions, newness and lack of demonstrated protection, the decay has persisted. The whole structure of zoning protection is necessarily built on the foundation of confidence. Confidence, in turn, is that which is expressed by public opinion and public opinion is the aggregate opinion of the majority and is not susceptible to the niceties of reason or technical debate calculated to establish theoretically that a thing is right or wrong. I am sincere in my belief that it constitutes the very backbone of zoning. The point, therefore, of material damage seems very clear in my mind. There will be substantial damage—there already has been."

SINGER RETURNS HERE

FITTS TESTIFIES IN LIQUOR CASE

Prosecutor Asserts Women in Pantages Plot

Says Pair Sent to "Frame" State Witness

Accused Says Absinthe Used as Cat's Medicine

Nancy Lee, film extra, was sent to an apartment-house at 1172 North Kingsley Drive by Alexander Pantages to "frame" Nick Dunaev, State's witness against the theater magnate at his recent trial, Dist.-Atty. Fitts charged on the witness stand yesterday in Municipal Judge MacCoy's court; where the girl and her half-sister, Janice Hill, are on trial on liquor-possession charges.

"I ordered them arrested because I was sick and tired of having my witnesses tampered with," Fitts replied to a question by Frank Lavan, defense attorney. He related the details of the information given him by Dunaev which led to an investigation of Miss Lee.

When ordered to dress, the girl, in her bedroom with her half-sister and Mrs. Mary Yuill, manager of the apartment-house, threw a bottle of absinthe out of the window, Fitts said. He declared a ginger ale bottle containing mixed drinks, identified by Detective Lieutenant Kling as having been found under a pillow on the bed occupied by the two girls, was found before he left the apartment. His testimony was confirmed by Mrs. Yuill and Kling.

Chief Trial Deputy City Prosecutor Eberhard and Deputy Prosecutor Avery subjected Miss Lee to a searching cross-examination when she took the stand in her own defense. She admitted possession of the absinthe, declaring she purchased it three years ago as "medicine for her cat" under instructions from a veterinary, but denied throwing it from the bedroom window.

The bottle was broken, but part of its contents, sopped up with a towel by police officers, were highly alcoholic, according to County Chemist Abernathay. Both Miss Lee and her sister, who was on the stand when court adjourned last night, denied knowledge of the ginger-ale bottle partly filled with mixed liquor.

Hamilton Takes Stand in Trial for Land Fraud

John W. Hamilton, psychology lecturer, yesterday took the witness stand in his own defense in Superior Judge Wood's court, where he is on trial on three counts of grand theft in connection with the asserted fraudulent sale of lots in the town of Ripley in the Coachella Valley.

Hamilton is asserted to have sold the lots and then to have been unable to deliver titles to his clients. He told the jury he entered a deal to take over the Ripley property in exchange for a trust deed for $100,000 and when he learned back taxes had not been paid he returned a grant deed to those from whom he purchased it.

According to the State, Hamilton obtained approximately $23,000 from three women.

It is expected the defense will conclude its case today.

Dolores Del Rio Wins Delay on Hearing in Suit

Because Dolores Del Rio, film actress, now is working on a picture, hearing on a motion to order her to appear before a notary public for a deposition was postponed until January 15, 1930, by stipulation of counsel in Superior Judge Craig's court.

Miss Del Rio is being sued by Attorney Gunther R. Lessing for $31,000, that being the asserted value of legal services for which Attorney Lessing claims the actress will not pay.

A. M. Bretinger, general manager of United Artists' studios, filed an affidavit in support of the motion for continuance.

Attorney Milton Cohen is representing Lessing, and Attorney Walter E. Burke is counsel for Miss Del Rio.

Democrats Seek to Guard Rights

Protection of Democratic party rights in the Congressional reapportionment is to be sought, it was announced yesterday by a subcommittee appointed by the Democratic County Central Committee at its meeting on the 17th inst.

Patrick J. Cooney, executive vice-chairman, presiding in the absence of Chairman Harry G. Haffer, appointed the following committee: Mrs. J. Henry Stewart, Jane C. Humphreys, Dwight Stevenson, F. M. Abbott and Patrick Cooney. The committee was instructed to confer with similar committees of other political organizations after the first of the year. The central committee was addressed by Edward Davis, Milton Bryan and Isadore Dockweiler.

Wives Feature Car-Theft Trial

Two wives and three assertedly stolen automobiles figured prominently in the life of R. A. Ollinger, it was disclosed yesterday in his trial before a jury in the court of United States District Judge Henning. Ollinger was convicted of violating the Dyer Act by transporting a stolen car from South Bend, Ind., to Los Angeles.

It was brought out that twice previously he has been convicted of violating the Dyer Act. Taking the stand in his own defense, the defendant admitted that he has a wife living in the East and that he recently married another woman. He is to appear Monday for sentence.

CASE OF FORCE

When a man has neither money, credit, nor a place to sleep he will leave Wall street alone.

IN THE RAW

It is mentioned that the girls in Indo-China are wearing exactly the same clothes their forbears wore 200 years ago. At that we'll bet their skirts are short.

REFORMED PUGS

Reported that Fred Fulton, who was a famous boxer of other days, is now running a smart shop in New York. Here is another arena for wornout pugs. It would be a fine thing if Jack Sharkey could turn milliner. We never know how ladylike some of our battlers are.

MORE POWER TO HER

With our biggest warship and plane-carrier chained to the wharf at Tacoma to give electric light and power to the community the peace possibilities of our battle fleet are given large disclosure. When we reach disarmament a lot of these coast cities will crave a private gunboat for a power station.

BACK FROM THE TOMB

Doctors are telling that a girl who died as the result of an operation was restored to life fifteen minutes later by the injection of oxygen into the blood. It is possible that the reports of her death were slightly exaggerated. Yet they are springing fresh miracles on us every day or so.

HEADLESS SKELETONS

More graveyards and cradles of the world. Near the ancient city of Peking in China they unearth a group of skeletons of prehistoric men. The specimens are thought to have priority over the so-called ape-man of Java. The odd thing is that although the bones are reasonably complete the skulls of nine of the ten subjects are missing. There was only one wise guy. The other nine must have lost their heads when the whistle blew. Some scientist will be able to figure it out.

OH, SUZANNE

Suzanne Lenglen is in a smart shop in Paris selling the newest things in sports wear to the maids and matrons of the world. It is said that she gets a fancy salary and is making considerable money. The funny thing is that by this means she hopes to regain her standing as a tennis amateur. She had to turn professional because she lacked the means of keeping her standing as an amateur. Now she embarks in business to get money enough to play tennis for love instead of dough. The lines of demarcation are finely drawn.

PILGRIMAGE PLAYHOUSE

Last October a brush fire in the Hollywood hills destroyed the unique "under-the-stars" playhouse, for ten years the home of the Pilgrimage Play, a typical California enterprise, conceived in the spirit of reverential devotion, to visualize for men and women of today the story of the life of the Redeemer. The Pilgrimage Play will start its eleventh year's consecutive presentation next June in more ornate and commodious quarters, on several acres of specially landscaped surroundings, under the same white cross that miraculously escaped the flames of last October.

At present there is no sign on the fire-scarred hills to signify such a resurrection. Between the tenth and eleventh consecutive production of the Pilgrimage Play lies a gap that will need time, thought and care to bridge and the expenditure of possibly a quarter million of dollars. To those who do not know the religious feeling that animates the people of the Southwest, and their pride in these devotional displays, six months may seem a short time to bring a finer and better playhouse from the ashes of the old structure which served the community for ten years.

But those who know the spirit evoked in Southern California by an appeal for an enterprise of this nature, where the object is purely for the glory of God and the uplifting of mankind, have no hesitancy in affirming that next June, on grounds owned, not leased, in a new outdoor theater, larger and more artistically designed, the Pilgrimage Play will resume its unbroken sequence of performances, under the great white cross on the hills of Hollywood.

SAVIORS OF CALIFORNIA

"We are going to save California for the Californians and some day the State will thank Congress for it," exclaimed Congressman Johnson of Washington in announcing a new drive against Southwest agriculture and other industry dependent upon Mexico for a common-labor supply—in other words, a revival of Box Bill schemes for the restriction of Mexican immigration, with its necessary corollary, an increase in the immigration from the Philippines and of Porto Rican negroes.

The calm effrontery of this Congressman in assuming that he knows more about the needs of California than California does and his further statement that he wants no argument about it—he opposes having hearings on his proposed bill—would be laughable if he stood alone. But his refusal to face the facts is apparently shared by others and there is a serious danger to all the border States in the situation.

The nature of a part of that danger is shown by the episode at Laredo, Tex., where a Mexico-baiting prosecuting attorney has succeeded in getting the port closed, to the great damage of commercial interests; has caused so much damage, in fact, that Gov. Moody and other Texas officials are taking a hand, somewhat tardily, to provide a remedy. Dist.-Atty. Valls of Laredo, whose threat to arrest Gen. Calles on a murder charge had to be met by action of the State Department to prevent a grave international incident, is strictly comparable to the Boxes and Johnsons and other trouble-makers who seek to disturb the friendly relations between the United States and Mexico, and like them, could accomplish nothing useful by his action.

It is reasonable to assume that if Gen. Lucio Blanco, whose death was the basis of Valls's charge, met death as the result of any act on the part of Gen. Calles, it was an act of war for which Gen. Calles was not personally responsible, either in law or in morals. What Valls's motive may be in bringing such a charge, unless to obtain personal publicity, is hard to imagine. But the result is a virtual Mexican boycott of Laredo.

A similar result may be expected for the whole United States if the wholly unnecessary and quite undesirable exclusion bill planned by Congressman Johnson is passed. He proposes a 50,000 quota for all countries of this hemisphere, including Canada, Mexico and South America, which would have the effect of shutting off approximately 1300 Mexican entrants a year!

At present, the types that would be affected by the quota law are coming in at the rate of only 434 a month, according to a report by the State Department, and the quota law would reduce these about 25 per cent, or about 108 a month!

All the restriction of Mexican immigration that is necessary, and a good deal more than most informed people consider desirable in view of the common-labor shortage faced by California agriculture, is being imposed now under State Department regulations, which have effected a 62 per cent decrease. Most of the 1566 Mexicans who cross the border monthly would not be excluded under the quota act; the former number of immigrants was about 4700 a month, 56,800 a year on the average. It is plain to be seen that the "flood" of migrants which used to be complained of has been lessened to a mere trickle and that additional legislation would not affect it enough to be talked about. Immigration from South America is, of course, negligible.

It is doubtful if, under the present restrictions, there is any net gain in the number of Mexicans in this country. It is known that thousands return across the border after a season's work here, and if those returning under present conditions number as many as they did when passage was freer there is a a net loss.

All the efforts of years in trying to cultivate better relations with Canada, Mexico and Central and South America are put in jeopardy by these meaningless quota proposals—meaningless because their effect on migration would be almost nothing, while their effect on trade might easily be disastrous.

It is no wonder Congressman Johnson does not want a hearing on his bill, because at a hearing its fallacy would be exposed.

SPENDING TEN MILLIONS

A. Harold Smith, who has difficulty in spending $10,000,000 to aid humanity, called in the public through the Chicago papers to help him. A sophomore of the University of Southern California, not on the football squad, received the award of a thousand dollars for his reply.

An entirely new plan was suggested. Yet it contacts the most vital point in human affairs today. Armond S. Fitzerm's wisdom runs something as follows:

First, student traveling scholarships are recommended. Evidently youth is becoming weary and sleepy under the second-hand, hand-me-down, knowledge of the day. He feels that he learns more easily by direct contact. Lessons from life are more dramatic and thrilling.

Language can be learned best by living among people who speak it. Geology is best acquired by examining the anticlines and slips in person. Geography is the gift of the traveler; so why not travel? A telescope can tell you more about the heavens than can any professor in astronomy. Life itself in the slums is a good cross-section of sociology.

Second, an international exchange of news is urged. This is a particularly good suggestion. It registers with the recent findings of the Riverside Conference of International Relations.

Frictions come from misunderstandings. Exchange of news would fit the bearings of one race upon another. Universal peace is largely dependent on racial sympathy. The more we know of each other, the more we sympathize.

Finally, international student conferences are suggested. Personal contacts are invaluable. Personality is the best means of propagating truth. Students are the best subjects to contact because they are more alert. And the collegian will be the commander tomorrow. To touch any problem it must be done through the youngsters—and the educated ones at that.

The three suggestions are excellent. There is little wonder that they received the award.

THE ROCKET MAIL

Germans are very persistent with their speed rockets. Now an inventor is perfecting a device that will shoot mail from Berlin to New York in half an hour. The rocket is supposed to zoom fifty miles up in the air and the rarified atmosphere at that level makes possible the speed. A gyroscopic parachute is to take care of the landing. It sounds rather simple, but we are not going to send baby by mail until we have seen the thing working a few times.

RUNS IN THE FAMILY

Kentucky mother gives birth to triplets for the second time within two years. She has also had twins and several singletons in her career. Thus proving that blue grass is good for kids. The State does not propose to run out of population.

A GARDEN BACK EAST

By James J. Montague

I like my garden in the spring
When early blooms are burgeoning,

When homing robins in the trees
Are answering the sighing breeze,

And tiny shoots, without a sound
Are thrusting upward from the ground.

When summer brightens vale and hill
I like my garden better still.

The roses blossom everywhere
And scent the quiet evening air

And from a host of blossoms rise
Great swarms of fluttering butterflies.

I like my garden in the fall
When vines are reddening on the wall

And I can hear the bees' low hum
In aster and chrysanthemum

Before they hurry droning home
To fill the last still vacant comb.

But when the winter time is here
And winds blow bleak and chill and drear

About the robin's empty nest
I always like my garden best,

For then I need not spade or sow it
Or irrigate or weed or hoe it.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

BEGGARS are few in Los Angeles except at Christmas time. Then the maimed, the halt and the blind, the man who sits on rollers and lets a dog pull him, the sightless pair of musicians who single-file through the crowd playing cheery music which makes every passer sigh, the pencil vender on crutches and all sorts of wielders of the tin cup make their appearance. Where they are all the rest of the year we know not. We hope the infrequency of their appearance results from the richness of their harvest the few weeks they work. Or can it be that only at Christmas time is the public touched and touchable?

Our opinion, after considerable observation, is that these beggars work just as hard as any of us for what they get. Their profession is not one we would choose from mercenary motives. But if one were a psychologist, that might be different. We suspect that any successful beggar in Los Angeles—any licensed professional—knows things about human nature that many a man who writes books and treatises on why we do what we do never even dreamed. There is great difference, for instance, between the one who merely sits gloomily on the sidewalk, holding out an appealing cup, and the brave chap on crutches who scorns beggary, but offers you a two-for-a-nickel pencil "at your own price," confidently expecting you to pay a quarter.

Reminder

Anyhow, we ought to be rather kindly to these folks, because we see them so seldom. But every time we do see them we are reminded how inefficient crowd charity to unknown beggars is. Whether those beggars are really in need or are as well off as we are, none of us know. The Community Chest system is far, far better, after all.

No Kick Coming—
Except on the Meter

When I saw my neighbor kick and Whip his dog, with temper vile,
After which it licked his hand, with
Not a thought of hate or guile;
When I thought of how his dog had
One day saved his little son,
Then I knew that from that day my
Friendship for that man was done.
From that day I kept a promise—
Thought of it my eyes befog,
Yet I've kept that hasty pledge that Never shall I kick a dog.

Future Farmers of America

If you are one of those who predict that soon all the youngsters will desert the farms and then the country will starve to death, it probably is because you don't know about the Future Farmers of America. It's a national organization, but is very strong in California, as you must have realized if you saw the entries from 150 California high schools in the judging contests in the junior department, at the Christmas Stock Show, in which there were more than 1000 junior exhibitors.

And in the sales ring, stock raised by these youngsters sold right along with the best stuff put up by some of the most famous ranches of the West and Middle West, ranking with it for quality.

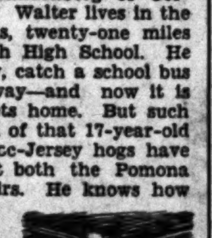
San Luis Obispo's Example

In the California Polytechnic High School at San Luis Obispo, a State school, every boy must have a "project"—must be raising something or building something. A boy may, for instance, be allowed to buy a pure-bred calf, giving his note for it and raising it according to the most scientific rules. Then when it is grown and sold he pays off his note, and the profit is his. Besides learning how to care for living and responsive creatures scientifically, the boys have the thrill of competition and the incentive of financial reward.

There ought to be a calf club or pig club or something of the sort in every rural high school in the State. Back in Missouri, we have seen that idea worked out with remarkable success, under the direction of the State Board of Agriculture. Bankers and wealthy citizens of each community would put up the money to buy blooded calves or pigs for the boys, and the result was a great spread of pure-bred stock and of valuable knowledge—and we never heard of the backers losing any money that way.

Still Finds Time

Take Walter Brandenberg of Cornell, for example. Walter lives in the Malibu mountains, twenty-one miles from Owensmouth High School. He has to leave early, catch a school bus several miles away—and now it is dark when he gets home. But such is the enthusiasm of that 17-year-old lad that his Duroc-Jersey hogs have won premiums at both the Pomona and Riverside fairs. He knows how to make big ones out of little ones and big droves out of little droves, too. And when the time comes when all the rest of us are starving Walter will know how to keep on feeding himself and his'n.



Besides which, there are so many other things a boy of 17 might be doing which are not so good.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

WIPING OUT USELESS LAWS

[Washington Post]

The idea of a special session of all State legislatures to weed out all unnecessary, obsolete and unwise statutes is gaining momentum. Gov. Byrd of Virginia advocated such a session several months ago at a dinner given in his honor by the National Institute of Public Administration. "Good morals would not suffer," he said, "good order would be better preserved and good will of the citizen for his State would be increased if we could have one session of every State Legislature at which no law would be passed except to repeal unnecessary existing laws."

The suggestion was favorably received throughout the country. It has won the support of the American Bar Association. At the convention of the association in Memphis Guerney E. Newlin, president, appealed to State legislatures to end their "orgy of lawmaking" and devote one session to clearing their statute books of rubbish.

The universal demand that legislatures confine themselves to "necessary" laws has had little effect on the legislative output because of the loose interpretation of the word "necessary." It is estimated that 40,000 new laws are added to the books of Federal, State and city governments each year, and that the total reaches 2,400,000. Vigorous attempts have been made to remedy the situation, but they usually result in a new codification of statutes without discarding the chaff or in attempts to hold the new output to a minimum. The Vermont Legislature, for example, enacted almost no new legislation this year. Its session was the shortest for twenty-seven years. But the legal rubbish was allowed to remain intact.

RECOGNIZING SOVIET RUSSIA

[Chicago Tribune]

Pending the next drive by Senator Borah and other advocates of establishing diplomatic relations with soviet Russia, the comment of the soviet press on the British government's new agreement to restore relations is interesting. The London Times, which thinks its government would better have adopted "the dignified and consistent attitude of the United States," calls attention to the fact that the Communists are bragging over what they describe as "the rout of the pseudo-Labor government by soviet diplomatists backed by the British masses"—which gets about as near the truth as other Bolshevik reports of events in capitalist countries. The Trud, organ of the all-Russia committee of trade unions, declares the British backdown as "a victory of soviet diplomacy, fraught with colossal revolutionary consequences," and asserts that "the mere fact of the re-establishment of normal diplomatic relations will facilitate the strengthening of our international proletarian connections."

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Mr. Bell, Please Note

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] To an onlooker the constant agitation for special zoning for industrial purposes gives the impression that as a community we have not reached a full esthetic consciousness and is calculated to undo much of the good work done by our civic organizations in attracting potential residents, particularly for the beautiful hill sections of the metropolitan area. The character of an entire residential district may be jeopardized at any time by the establishment of some objectionable enterprise.

Wide-awake cities in the East and Middle West who have not a fraction of the possibilities we have for creating exclusive home districts, have made the best of what they had and by rigid exclusion of anything that would tend to weaken the central idea, have built up most attractive home communities, while we through an apparent lack of fixed policy are in danger of allowing one of our greatest assets to be destroyed.

The natural location for such plants as stone quarries, cement plants, brick yards and the like, is adjacent to railroad or other transportation facilities, and there are plenty such locations without encroaching upon the beautiful hills around us which were fitted by nature for home sites. I have frequent visitors from the East and in showing them around I preferably take them over our beautiful mountain highways where there is no suggestion of industrial activity and invariably they are entranced with the beauties of Southern California.

The passing of industrial vehicles on highways in a residential territory is sufficient to break its charm, so that even a remote industry may exercise a bad influence through the necessary passing of materials and supplies. A few industries in the mountains or hills will never develop a road system. Only by the development of homes can this be done, and it is impossible to mix the two successfully.

Those who have traveled over the show drives of Europe will know how studiously everything unsightly has been kept out, which is as it should be. We have plenty of flat country to accommodate our industries. Let us confine them there in fixed territories and leave our glorious hills for quiet, restful homes and recreation, where the only suggestion is one perfect holiday. They are among our biggest assets. JOHN R. KLINE.

Scatters the Goods

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your editorial of Friday, December 13, informing the Los Angeles public of conditions existing in the operations of our Department of Water should arouse to action the people who are furnishing the money for our water supply.

In the old days, before we had a department of water, Los Angeles was furnished its water through private companies, who built their own dams, dug their own wells, built their own reservoirs, paid taxes on all of their properties, and gave our people 1200 cubic feet of water, for 50 cents per month, and made money on the deal. Also, they did their own collecting.

Now, after the city has expended millions of dollars to bring water to the intake pipes of the Department of Water, we are furnished 600 cubic feet of water at $1 per month.

Mr. Scattergood seems to be rightly named. His chief service to the people of Los Angeles is to scatter-good its people's good money, without accomplishment. What steps must be taken by the people to rid themselves of such an unworthy servant?

International Goodwill

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Since the success of the Institute of International Relations in broadcasting the proceedings of the various conferences and sessions has been due to the splendid co-operation of the Los Angeles Times, the institute takes this opportunity at its closing session of making public acknowledgment and extends its appreciation to you for your helpfulness. Through your influence the work in behalf of international goodwill has undoubtedly been widened and strengthened, and the cause of world peace advanced.

"PIGS IS PIGS"

Few people realize that hogs are raised within the city limits of the nation's capital. But this fact is strongly impressed upon those residing within olfactory distance of the pig sties, particularly in warm weather. St. Elizabeth's Hospital recently had numerous complaints on that very count. And white neighbors of Fred Brooks, colored hog-raiser on a ten-acre farm in the Kenilworth section, had him dragged into Police Court because his hogs trespassed on their property. They wanted the hogs confined in some way, and even hoped that they could make the owner get rid of them. But after hearing the case Judge Gus A. Schuldt said: "Pigs will be pigs, and far be it from me to punish them when they have been acting like pigs." And with this statement the case was dismissed.—[The Pathfinder.

"HEAR, O ISRAEL"

By William Hamilton Cline

The general oriental mind throughout all history has been prone to belittle its womenkind. Too often, they have been denied possession of a soul. Almost always, when they have broken into history it has been in some declasse way; few have been honored by them as men do their fellows—for their sheer merit or achievement.

The Jews, possibly, have been ever the one great exception to this rule. While anciently they did not confine themselves to monogamy and thus put women wholly on a par socially or elevate them to the same plane man occupied, they did recognize them as judges, prophets, rulers, even queens. And signally they paid them honor and homage as wives and especially as mothers of the race. Outstanding thus in all pre-Christian annals are the women leaders of the Jews.

That even today the same race treasures the glories of its women of the past. I have found many evidences, but none more striking than was afforded me lately. I have had the pleasure of perusing the script of "Hear, O Israel," a pageant-play, which was written by Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith and Ruth Comfort Mitchell. The former was at one time a top-notch star of vaudeville; the latter is a playwright and author of parts; both call Los Angeles home. Their pageant-play is to be given one night only, when the National Council of Jewish Women meets here in January, enlisting the services of hundreds of performers and musicians.

But it wasn't this phase which so interested me; it was rather the exultant spirit which characterizes the written text and the splendor of the women of ancient Israel which it chronicles; the way a great task was done, greatly. Sincerely, it should be put into book form as a memorial to them—a tribute from the Jewish women of today to those of their sex whose pre-eminence even the Bible has recorded. Comparatively few will see the pageant given, even in Shrine Auditorium, besides the very many, in Jewry and out, who should have opportunity to enjoy the perusal of this enchanting record. It reads better, in fact, than it ever could be played by the most skilled Thespianic talent, even though the land has been called upon to furnish its portrayers.

I shall not attempt here to give more than a hint of its processional progress down the ages. All the women depicted are, of course, biblical characters—for the Old Testament is the real history of the Hebrews. These folk are pictured in cameo-like fashion, skillfully limned in few words and actions, in brief scenes. But the note of authenticity is ever struck; the actuality of the personage stands forth from the pages in living light. From Eve, almost prophetically painted, at Eden's gate, we get the great lesson of the human race—that in toil and the sweat of honest labor is real happiness, as against slothful ease even in Paradise. We are shown the first woman pioneer—Sarah, Abraham's wife; the first woman leader—Miriam, sister of Moses and Aaron; the first woman judge—Deborah. All have had successors, but only after long ages of travail have women today reached these heights. Jepthah's daughter embodies filial affection, and Samuel's mother, the maternal love supreme. Ruth rehearses the fine faith of the bride; Michel, the love of the wife of the psalmist-king; Esther, the racial devotion that risks death for faith and an alien ruler's favor. The rare affection of the banished Jews for their Zion, as they weep beside its broken wall, is matched by the facts of today, and reiterated in the promise of tomorrow as the children yet unborn speak their desires to mother-hearts that await their coming.

So, briefly, casually, is outlined this epic story of an unconquerable race—a race which, without a country or a flag, a ruler or a home, has persisted through the ages in unbroken line. Two women have written it; richly they have embroidered it with the very words of scriptural authenticity. They have named it "Hear, O Israel." I would title it "Hear, O World; Hear, Heed and Honor."

TO PREVENT COLDS

Already many people have suffered wretchedly from severe colds. Many of these early fall colds as well as winter colds are now thought to begin in the stomach, especially when an acid condition of the stomach prevails. To counteract this condition of the stomach many doctors have been prescribing with increasing success a simply home remedy—lemon sodas. While this simple treatment is a preventive rather than a cure the combination is said to be very favorable in disrupting colds if taken in time. The dose for adults consists of the juice of half a lemon and a teaspoonful of soda in a glass of water. Do not add any sugar as that defeats the purpose of the combination. Repeat the dose every half-hour until three doses have been taken. Soda alone, half a teaspoonful in a half-glass of water will help to check a cold in the early stages.—[The Pathfinder.

INDOOR FISHING

Youngsters get a big kick out of indoor fishing. For their fishing rod provide them with a smooth stick about a foot long. To this rod attach a short cord and on the other end of the cord place a small horseshoe magnet for the hook. Next cut an assortment of small fish out of heavy cardboard and color them with crayon. Into the mouth of each fish push a small nail, pin or used phonograph needle leaving just the head of the nail or blunt end of the needle exposed. Then take a shoe box lid and color it pale blue for the pond. Put the fish in the pond and let the boys and girls go fishing. The magnet readily picks up the fish and the kiddies get the thrill of making several catches.—[The Pathfinder.

MOTORCOP TICKLED BY '13' ON CAR

Oft-Smashed-up Officer at Santa Monica Gets New Plates Deemed Lucky

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 18.—When Motorcycle Officer Bobby Clark received his new license plates today he broke into the grin which has made him popular here. Bobby grinned that same grin not so very long ago when brother officers picked him up after he had been catapulted over an automobile into which his motorcycle crashed while he was chasing a speeder. And before that Bobby Clark's list of narrow escapes has figured in newspaper reports. He has had broken bones and has recuperated on crutches a number of times.

"That's just the number I wanted!" the husky young officer declared when he drew the 13-13 combination. He had placed his order for a new license on Friday, the 13th inst., along with the rest of the Santa Monica police force.

"Want to change is?" Police Lieutenant Randall asked.

"Change those lucky numbers? I wouldn't dream of it."

And just to show how free from superstition he is Bobby carried the numbers out of the police garage, where his car was waiting, by a route leading directly under a ladder a painter had leaned against the jail wall.

Mayor's Veto on Mortuary Site Defeated

The City Council yesterday overrode Mayor Porter's veto of a Council ordinance which will permit William Strother to maintain his undertaking business in Argyle avenue, just south of Hollywood Boulevard. Mayor Porter based his veto on the grounds that a majority of the property owners within 300 feet had not signified their agreement.

Councilmen Webster and Randall, constituting a majority of the City Planning Committee, explained that Strother has been in business at the southeast corner of Hollywood Boulevard and Argyle avenue for the past twelve years, that he wishes to maintain his establishment in the same vicinity, and that it is unfair to force him to vacate the location occupied for such a long time. Only Councilmen Cooke, Holland and McAllister voted to sustain the Mayor.

FUND FOR COLISEUM PROVIDED

Council Votes $225,000 to be Expended for Concrete Seats Next Year

The City Council yesterday appropriated $225,000 from the permanent improvement fund to be expended on the Coliseum within the next year. The money will be used to reconstruct the present wooden upper seat tiers, making them concrete. The action is contingent on the Council approving the contract of the city, county, Sixth District Agricultural Association and Community Development Association for the control of the Coliseum for the next four years.

The appropriation was based on a report of the Special Allocations Committee. The way is left open for an additional later appropriation for enlarging the structure.

Banks Lend Aid in Campaign for Pilgrimage Play

Los Angeles banks and their branches in neighboring cities will facilitate subscriptions to the $200,000 fund to restore the burned Pilgrimage Play amphitheater by receiving checks or money and forwarding the amount without charge to the citizens' rebuilding committee, it was announced yesterday by George L. Eastman, president of the Pilgrimage Play Association.

"When people are in their bank on business all they need to do is to write out an extra check to the Pilgrimage Play Association and hand it to the teller," Eastman said. "The check will be forwarded at once to Pilgrimage Play restoration headquarters in the Women's Athletic Club Building, 839 South Flower street."

Wright Story by Southland Author Ready

Marking the twenty-sixth anniversary of the epoch-making conquest of the air at Kitty Hawk, N. C., Little, Brown & Co. are publishing "The Wright Brothers: Fathers of Flight," by John R. MacMahon of Beverly Hills, and yesterday advance sheets of the work arrived in the home of the author's brother, Henry MacMahon in Beverly Hills. They refer to the Virginia origin of the Wrights, which was commemorated this week by a festal day at Hillsboro, Va., and the placing of a memorial at the birthplace of Susan Koerner Wright.

After publication of his book Mr. MacMahon will come to Los Angeles for a survey of the world's most intensive aviation development. Originally he was a New York reporter, detailed to the early attempts of aviation, and is the author of several popular works, "The House That Junk Built," "Toilers and Idlers" and "Success in the Suburbs."

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Morse in Hillcrest avenue, Pasadena, was the scene yesterday afternoon of a beautifully appointed tea, when from 4 to 6 o'clock, friends of the hosts called to welcome their charming young daughter, who made her formal bow to Dame Society.

The house was a bower of flowers and ferns, and numerous bouquets and baskets of fragrant blossoms were sent to the debutante.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Isaac Milbank, Mrs. Milbank Johnson, Mrs. Lawrence B. Burck, Mrs. Harold Cook, Mrs. Arthur Norman, Mrs. Genevieve Morse-Hay, Mrs. James Salisbury, Mrs. Lyman Ross McFie, Mrs. Donald O'Melveny, Mrs. Arthur Cecil, Mrs. Wilfred K. Luncheon Intime

One of the lovely affairs of yesterday afternoon was the luncheon intime with which Mrs. Daniel Murphy entertained at her home in West Adams street, honoring Mme. Nina Koshetz, the charming Russian singer, who is passing several days in the Southland. The guests included several of the Russian friends of the honoree, thus giving her an opportunity for a charming little visit with them.

Luncheon Party

Honoring her daughters, Mrs. Rachel Yerge, Mrs. G. Bromly Oxnam and Mrs. Wayne H. Fisher as well as Miss Dusolina Giannini, a beautifully arranged luncheon was given Tuesday afternoon at the Los Angeles Country Club by Mrs. Walter Harrison Fisher of the Talmage, the several large tables being centered with great Christmas candles in a nest of English holly and mistletoe, baskets of poinsettias and pines also adding an artistic touch to the yuletide motif.

After luncheon a program of Christmas music was given by a string trio. More than 100 guests were bidden.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. William Armstrong Moses, Mrs. Fred Gooding, Mrs. Chester Wallace Brown, Mrs. Grantland Seaton Long, Mrs. George McCoy, Mrs. William Oscar Jenkins, Mrs. James Catlett Ernst, Mrs. Leon Deane Godshall, Mrs. Robert Thomas Burge, Mrs. Edward G. She is accompanied by her charming young daughter, Miss Betty Ruth Oxnam. Miss Giannini was among those who took the trip to Australia last year with Mrs. Fisher and her daughter, Mrs. Yerge, a close friendship resulting form the trip.

Christmas Party

Celebrating the monthly meeting of the Halcyon Club, with a Christmas dancing party, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Elon Huntington of Hollywood were hosts Monday evening at the Mary Louise, when a beautifully decorated tree stood in the center of the room, furnishing with its many colorful lights the only illumination for the gay scene.

A merry group of young folk led by Miss Winnifred Huntington, charming daughter of the hosts, sang Christmas carols as the doors were thrown open, and a jolly old Santa Claus appeared with a great pack on his back from which he distributed well-filled stockings to the 100 guests.

Supper Party

Adrianné Mihesina, Mrs. Albert Griffith Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eugene Verbeck, Miss Marjorie Harriman, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Hanford Furman, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ferie, Alice Gentle and Jacob Probstel, Dr. and Mrs. Artur Rodzinski, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blissett Fix, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tipton Steck, Mr. and Mrs. Josef Borissoff, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schallert, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gunster of New York, Nathan Milstein, Dr. Alexis Kall, George Stewart McManus, Desider Vecsie and Horace Fisher of Santa Monica. An informal reception and wedding supper at the home of the bride's parents for the bridal party and immediate relatives will follow the ceremony.

For Bride-Elect

In honor of Miss Hazel Miller, whose wedding was an event of yesterday in Montecito, a charmingly arranged dinner party was given Thursday evening, the 19th inst., by Miss Helen Van Slyke of 1628 Crenshaw Boulevard at the Mary Louise. The round table was lovely in its decorations of holiday-hued flowers, tall whip candles and satin streamers carrying out the same motif of red and green. Among the guests were included Miss Miller and her fiance, Waverly P. Waggoner; Mrs. Anna T. Gibbon, Mrs. Augusta Rundel, Mr. and Mrs. Bem R. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Arthur Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Holmes, Peter Call and the hostess.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

This and That

Painted shelves are most easily cared for.

Linseed oil will remove rust from the gas stove.

Keep the broom on its handle when not being used.

Wipe off the broad-leaved palms occasionally with soapy water.

Never starch linens that are to be stored, as they are liable to crack.

Don't try to polish furniture with the dust cloth that removed the soil.

Be sure the floors are even and smooth and free from nails before linoleum is laid.

Clean and Shining

Start right in with the new pans by scouring them outside as well as inside and you will never accumulate that ugly brown on the bottoms of the pans. It is never hard to clean after one using but it certainly is difficult after several.

Other Days, Other Ways

The old-fashioned feather duster is useful for moving dust from one article of furniture to another, but for no other purpose. A hemmed square of cheesecloth or one of the dustless dusters is much more satisfactory. This sort will gather the dust and hold it, and yet it is easily washed.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

JEWISH SHALLET

Line a deep pie dish with a rich pastry, and cover thickly with a layer of sliced apples, sprinkle with cinnamon, grated lemon peel, and dot with small pieces of butter, cover with another piece of pastry, and on top of this place a layer of sliced apples, finely chopped nut meats, and seedless raisins, add a tablespoonful of syrup, a little more lemon juice and dot with bits of butter, cover this with a top crust, brushing the edges of the crust with the beaten egg, brush the top with melted butter and bake in a moderate oven.

SCOTCH BAKED POTATOES

Peel and slice six medium-sized raw potatoes, very thin, beat one egg, add to it one tablespoonful of melted butter, place the potatoes in a shallow baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and add just enough milk to cover the potatoes, add the well-beaten egg, sprinkle the top with bread crumbs and place in the oven and bake.

FRUIT AND NUT CAKE

One cupful of butter, two cupfuls of sugar, four eggs, one and one-half cupfuls of milk, five cupfuls of sifted flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two teaspoonfuls of nutmeg, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, two cupfuls of chopped walnut meats, two cupfuls of seeded raisins, chopped, two cupfuls of seedless raisins, cream the butter and sugar, then beat in the eggs one at a time, sift together the flour, baking powder and spices, mix with it the nuts and fruit, add a little of this mixture to the creamed butter and sugar, then add the remainder alternately with the milk. Place in oiled and floured loaf cake tins, and bake in a slow oven.

FRUIT BARS

Beat to a cream three-fourths of a cupful of shortening and beat into one and three-fourths cupfuls of sugar, one-half a cupful of molasses, three slightly beaten eggs, sift six cupfuls of flour with six level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of nutmeg, add the flour mixture to the first mixture, alternately with half a cupful of boiling water, and work it to a smooth dough, add one and one-half cupfuls of seedless raisins, one cupful of seeded raisins and one cupful of chopped nut meats, chill the mixture for two hours, then divide into pieces the size of an orange, roll out in a long thin strip, place on a baking sheet, three inches apart, brush with an egg beaten with a teaspoonful of water and sprinkle with granulated sugar. Bake from ten to fifteen minutes in a moderate oven and while still hot cut in slices.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

HOOTY'S HOPES ARE REALIZED

Some folks there are who do not see Persistence may a virtue be.
—Hooty the Owl.

Hooty the Owl was growing impatient. Yes, sir, he was growing impatient. He had followed Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy a long distance and now they seemed to be simply wasting time. They had stopped. Hooty had thought at first that they must have reached the farm where the turkeys were. But he had circled around and found no farm. Those two foxes had stopped in a piece of woods and were actually lying down. Hooty didn't know what to make of it. But having followed them this far, there was nothing for Hooty to do but to wait to see where they would go next. So he perched in the top of a tree, and kept his eyes fixed on those Foxes. He had no intention of allowing Reddy and Mrs. Reddy to slip away unseen.

The moon was very late in coming up, and then it was only a quarter-moon. But it gave light enough to hunt by. You know the eyes of Hooty the Owl are very wonderful. He loves to hunt in the moonlight. It is just the kind of light that suits him. It was just after this silvery light of the moon came creeping in through the treetops that Reddy and Mrs. Reddy got to their feet, stretched, yawned, and started on, Reddy in the lead.

By and by they crossed some open fields. They were making straight toward some far buildings that Hooty could see. From his position up in the air, of course, he could see much farther and much more clearly than he could have seen had he been on the ground. It didn't take him long to discover that there were some old apple trees over near the barn. He remembered what Reddy had told him about the turkeys and how they roosted in a tree. One glance at Reddy and Mrs. Reddy was enough to let Hooty know that they had reached the end of their journey. You see, those Foxes were approaching those farm buildings very cautiously. They were approaching very cautiously indeed. Could you have been there you would have known just by watching them that they were hunting something.

"This is the end of the journey," thought Hooty. "I don't need to watch them any longer. All I have to do now is to locate those turkeys. If they are in a tree, it will not take me long to find them."

He flew straight over to the barn and alighted on the top

So Hooty paid no more attention to Reddy and Mrs. Reddy. He flew straight over to the barn and alighted on the top. Almost the first thing he saw was an apple tree with eleven great black objects in it. Hooty almost chuckled aloud. Those black objects were the turkeys. He didn't need to be told that. All he had to do was to pick out the one he wanted. Turkeys in a tree might be safe from Foxes, but they were just where a big owl would rather have them.

Now, Hooty the Owl is a very bold fellow. Hooty didn't have to watch out for a dog as Reddy and Mrs. Reddy always had to watch out. The only thing that Hooty fears is a man with a terrible gun. And, because he hunts mostly at night, Hooty seldom has occasion to watch out for a terrible gun. He didn't even give the matter a thought this time. He turned his head swiftly each way. Everything was dark save for the faint moonlight and everything was very, very quiet. Apparently, those turkeys were sound asleep. Hooty spread his great, broad, silent wings and for all the world like a great drifting shadow, he floated back and forth above the tree, picking out the turkey he would have for dinner. All his hopes were now realized. He had found the turkeys and that was all he asked. He would do the rest.

Woman Helps Veterans as She Buys Gifts

A woman who "knows her gifts" wandered into the Buddy Shop at 6755 Hollywood Boulevard yesterday and picked up a paper-pulp gardenia.

"This is beautifully made," she remarked to the attendant. "What part of Rumania did it come from?"

"It wasn't made in Rumania," she was told. "It was made in the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle—by a disabled veteran. So was everything else on display here—made in invalid wards—by the soldiers, some of them by men still confined to their beds."

The woman bought the decorative flower, and when she learned from Mrs. Weirick, in charge, that every penny from sale of the articles goes to the disabled soldier-craftsman, she bought six more, as well as an odd hooked rug, a painting and a batik scarf.

Women of the Post-War Service League conduct the Buddy Shop for the veterans, with the help of C. E. Toberman and Otto K. Olesen, who donate the store space and lights, respectively.

Commemorating Woodrow Wilson's birthday, a dinner and a meeting have been arranged for the night of the 28th inst., under the joint auspices of the Woodrow Wilson Club of Southern California and of the League of Nations Association of Southern California. The dinner will be at the Alexandria at 6:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo, son-in-law and daughter of the wartime President of the United States, are to be guests of honor. The speaker announced is Frederick W. Roman.

The organizations commemorating the seventy-third anniversary of President Wilson's birth have announced that the seating capacity of the dining-room is limited, and that early reservations are requested. It was added that those unable to attend the dinner are invited to attend the program commencing at 8 p.m.

Fresh and Dry

Some people do not realize that cellar windows are for ventilating as well as for lighting purposes. They should be opened for a while each day to allow a draught to sweep through and purify the atmosphere of both cellar and dwelling.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

THE FONTANEL SHOULD CLOSE NORMALLY AT 18 MONTHS

The so-called soft-spot, technically the fontanel, occasions mothers much useless worry. They have heard that if a baby is hit on this spot he will die immediately. While I know of nothing to the contrary, it seems a rather negligible danger. It was very canny of nature to put this danger spot on the top of baby's head, where it would be almost impossible to fall. In fact, I've never heard of a baby dying because of an injury to the fontanel, have you?

Mrs. C. D. is curious about the soft spot. She says: "I wish you would write about the soft spot on baby's head. What makes the difference in size, and how soon is it supposed to grow over? What effect would it have if it grew over too soon? I have seen babies with the soft spot covering a large portion of the head, others only half the size, and the other day a 3-month-old baby with a spot the size of a quarter. Will the large places grow over as quickly as the smaller ones?

"Words cannot express my appreciation for your department and the benefit I get from it. Yet there are mothers who read it and still keep on rearing their babies in the old-fashioned way. I could shake them, but it does no good to argue with people like that."

Thank you for your generous praise, Mrs. C. D.

The soft spot is a division between portions of the skull. At birth it allows for the maximum of compression of the head and during the first year it allows for expansion and room for the brain to increase in size. The brain increases its weight enormously the first year, more than in any year after that.

There are two soft spots at birth a V-shaped spot between and slightly above the eyes, called the anterior fontanel, and the one on top of the head called the posterior one. The first closes very rapidly. The second increases in size up to 6 months, when it is about the size of a quarter. After that it slowly decreases in size and at about 18 months is entirely closed.

Those large spots, usually depressed instead of slightly elevated, are usually due to malnutrition and the whole body is likely to show faulty boney development. If the spot closes over too rapidly it may prevent the brain from developing to its proper size. This last leads us into the realm of abnormal conditions which is outside this department's province. It is enough for mothers to remember that if the soft spot doesn't close between the 14th and 22nd month there is a reason for it. If it shows signs of closing much before the first year she should consult her family physician.

Building Owners Have Fun Affair

Construction questions, building operations, traffic problems and other propositions that customarily occupy the attention of the Los Angeles Building Owners' and Managers' Association were sidetracked yesterday for the annual Christmas party at the Clark, with an attendance that taxed the meeting place to capacity.

J. B. Van Nuys, recently elected president of the association, gave the welcoming address. L. T. Clark presided and presented Bob Illmo as master of ceremonies for the entertainment program which was arranged by Irene Jones. A Santa Claus distributed gifts and special favors were presented to all present.

Outward Appearances

The neighbor who has not access to your home is very apt to judge what sort of a housekeeper you are by the outside appearances. Wash your windows, polish your brasswork, keep your yard clean and your porch tidy. It will not only be a credit to you but to the entire neighborhood.

NEW UNIVERSITY TO GET PERMANENT AUTO PARK

Official recognition for need of the use of automobiles on the part of students and members of the faculty of the University of California at Los Angeles, has been accorded by the Board of Regents in the appropriation of $24,000 with which to develop a permanent automobile park on the campus. This announcement was made yesterday by Assistant Comptroller Robert M. Underhill, who said the park and roadways leading to it will be developed immediately.

According to statistics gathered over a period of several weeks, approximately 2400 automobiles are parked each day in the two temporary auto parks on the campus and on the adjacent streets. The two temporary parks, one just east of the bridge at the east entrance to the campus, and the other on the athletic field on the sites for the two gymnasiums, will not be practical, it is believed, during the rainy season because of mud.

The permanent auto park will be developed south of the new education building and east of the site for the Mechanic Arts Building. A permanent pavement will be laid in the parking area, as well as on the approaches. The plans provide that entrance to the park will be from Stone Canyon Road past the site for the Mechanic Arts Building. Exit will be over a road leading south from the park intersection with Le Conte avenue near Hilgard avenue.

"It is not anticipated that the permanent park will accommodate all of the automobiles brought to campus by students and faculty," stated Mr. Underhill. "It still will be necessary to park machines on the paved streets adjacent to the campus. But the use of the permanent park will eliminate any need for the two temporary parks, and will make it possible to park machines so that none of them will be farther away than a half mile from the central group of university buildings."

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

LAXATIVE APPLE CIDER

Real apple cider is one of the finest quick "pick-up" drinks known. While it is not a heavy, concentrated food, its nourishing qualities are quickly assimilated, with almost no digestive effort.

The delicious flavor of the natural sweet of the apple has caused cider to be a deservedly popular drink in the United States and Canada. It appeals instinctively to children to whom it makes a very fine drink, one that is rich in mineral elements, and because of its mildly laxative nature is a very good help to prevent constipation. This laxative effect of the apple juice is often demonstrated during a fast on apple cider. On this regime one glassful of apple juice is used every two hours during the day. While ordinarily a fruit-juice fast will not cause the bowels to move and the enema must be employed, the patient on the apple-juice fast frequently has several daily movements.

When the juice is taken on a regular diet it should be used in place of a meal or between meals rather than at meal time, although a small amount can be used with a protein meal if no starch is used. It is the best policy not to use apple juice with any form of starch, since this combination sets up a fermentation in the intestines.

The fall and winter apples make the most delicious cider, as a good cider apple must be firm and tart. The longer the apple has hung on the tree without the frost touching it, the better its flavor. For this reason all the old cider dances at which the farmers of the countryside gathered to celebrate the apple harvest, the late apples of October and November were used, since these were thought to make the finest cider.

Cider is best when used as soon after pressing as possible. It should be kept in a cool place, as it ferments readily. The apples used in making the cider should be firm and well ripened and any which have started to spot should be discarded. One bad apple may impair the flavor of a large batch of cider.

If it is desired to keep cider for a long time it can be pasteurized in cans or bottles without the addition of any preservative. Prepared in this way it will keep indefinitely, but should be used after opening, as it will spoil the same as fresh cider.

The usual temperature for pasteurizing is 175 deg. F., and then the juice is placed in sterilized bottles, and the tops placed on with a capper.

Those who like apple juice may drink it freely since it is beneficial and when taken without cereals makes a healthful and delicious fall and winter drink.

BEVERLY HILLS TO HAVE YULETIDE FETE TONIGHT

The Beverly Hills Community Players, led by President Gold Madden Craig, plan to be hosts to Los Angeles county this evening when, in conjunction with the Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce, the University of California at Los Angeles, and the joint choirs of all Beverly Hills churches, a Christmas program will be presented in the auditorium of the Beverly Hills High School.

Carols, instrumental music, soloists and the spirit of Christmas will make the program enjoyable for everyone.

An immense vested chorus of the combined church choirs will form an impressive processional under the leadership of Hazel Landers Hummel.

Catherine Jackson, concert harpist, will be a soloist. The Uplifters' Club Orchestra will play. Wilbur Evans, winner of the national Atwater Kent radio contest last year, will sing. Both the girls' and boys' glee clubs of U.C.L.A., and also a male quartet will sing carols.

The Beverly Hills Community Players, under the direction of Robert Cressy, will present a one-act sketch.

The program will begin at 7:45 p.m.

The Story of the World War
298—The North Sea Mine Barrage.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

ONE OF THE GREATEST FEATS OF THE UNITED STATES NAVY IN THE WORLD WAR WAS THE LAYING IN 1918 OF A MINE BARRAGE IN THE NORTH SEA TO PREVENT GERMAN SUBMARINES REACHING THE ATLANTIC, A PROJECT WHICH THE ORDNANCE BUREAU OF THE NAVY HAD BEEN PLANNING SINCE APRIL, 1917. —
THE PROJECT WAS DELAYED BECAUSE FOR A LONG TIME THE MANY DESTROYERS NEEDED TO SCREEN THE MINE-LAYING VESSELS COULD NOT BE SPARED FROM CONVOY DUTY, AND ALSO BECAUSE THE TYPE OF MINE THEN IN USE WOULD BE UNEQUAL TO THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE BARRAGE UNLESS USED IN SUCH VAST NUMBERS AS TO MAKE THE PLAN IMPRACTICABLE.

HOTEL AND SANATORIUM TO BE BUILT

Warren's Well Project Costing $2,500,000 Backed by Los Angeles Finance

Plans for a $2,500,000 sanatorium and hotel project for Warren's Well, a desert community forty-two miles east of San Bernardino, yesterday were announced by R. M. Anderson, manager of the enterprise.

The project is declared to be financed and backed by a number of Los Angeles medical and business men. Backers include Dr. James E. Hunter, Dr. James C. Moore, Dr. Frederick Eppelen, Ernest M. Lotz, Attorney Livingston B. Steadman and Attorney H. A. Savage of Fresno.

Architect Albert C. Martin is preparing plans for the sanatorium, which will be one story in height and cover a ground area 80x250 feet. Approximately 250 cottages will be built adjacent to the sanatorium and twenty-five more near a two-story hotel which is included in the plans. Ten additional cottages will house employees and executive offices, Anderson declared.

Recreational facilities for patients are to be provided in a nine-hole golf course. Dairy and poultry units are to be operated in connection with the sanatorium. The entire enterprise will cover some 200 acres of land and work is scheduled to begin next spring.

Spanish architecture will be followed in the design of the hotel, sanatorium and cottages. R. W. Brown of Riverside has been selected to supervise construction, with C. E. Johnson, San Bernardino, in charge of laying out the grounds.

Porter Guest at Wilmington

Mayor Porter was the guest of the directors of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce at lunch yesterday aboard the Lassco coastwise liner Harvard, which stopped here five hours en route from San Francisco to San Diego.

The gathering, it was explained by Capt. P. J. Picherie, president of the chamber, had no special significance and was but a periodic visit of the Mayor to learn the needs and wishes of Wilmington and shipping interests centering there. Ralph J. Chandler, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, joined the party, which later toured the water front and residential area of Wilmington.

Indian Yuletide Fiesta Planned

A Christmas tree for Indians living in Los Angeles was one feature planned yesterday at a conference of fifty-three representatives of women's clubs meeting at Ramona Village to discuss Indian welfare. The women represented clubs of Southern California interested in ways and means of helping the red man. Mrs. Robert Glasby presided. The gathering expressed approval of work being done for Indians at Ramona Village.

An Indian marathon race is being arranged for the 30th inst., and the fleetest red runners are to contest.

PEDESTRIAN HIT BY TWO CARS DIES

Hurts Follow Attempt to Cross Sunset Boulevard; Tuesday Victim Expires

Struck by one automobile and thrown in the path of another, Henry Gremmler, 47 years of age, of 1112 Marion street, was fatally injured early yesterday morning.

The accident occurred at Marion street and Sunset Boulevard. According to a police report, Gremmler was crossing Sunset Boulevard when hit by a truck and knocked in front of a machine driven by W. J. Burwick of 506 North Lake street. The right front wheel of Burwick's car ran over the victim as he fell headlong.

In the confusion which followed the name of the truck driver was not obtained. Police are searching for him. Gremmler died soon after he was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

An inquest will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Failing to rally from injuries received in an automobile accident Tuesday night, Frank Le Brand, 76, of 336 West One Hundred and Third street, died yesterday in General Hospital, police reported. Le Brand, a pedestrian, was struck by a car while crossing at One Hundred and Third street and Broadway.

A Coroner's inquest into the death of Mrs. Maria Rubesalnan, 55, of 3709 Charlotte Boulevard, will be conducted at 3 p.m. today in the funeral parlors of Ives & Warren, Pasadena. Mrs. Rubesalnan died while being taken to a hospital Tuesday night following an automobile collision at Atlantic and El Portal streets, Monterey Park.

With Mrs. Henry A. Jack, her son, Charles, 10, and Miss Ida Russell, 16, all of 129 East Avenue 39, Mrs. Rubesalnan was riding in a car driven by Mrs. Clara Ulrey of 2906½ Pasadena avenue. While making a turn into El Portal street, according to a Sheriff's office report, the car was struck by a car driven by Charles B. Ellinghoe, 25, of 3 Primrose avenue, Alhambra.

The collision caused both machines to turn turtle. Suffering a fractured skull and internal injuries, Mrs. Rubesalnan died in an ambulance. Ellinghoe was hurled through the windshield and received lacerations about the head and face. The others sustained abrasions and bruises. All were taken to Garfield Hospital, Monterey Park.

Following a collision of cars last night in which a man and his wife were injured seriously, the driver of one car, J. F. Christie, 69 years of age, a farmer of Paso Robles, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving. Edward Sharples, 49, of 4376 Mentone avenue, Palms, suffered a skull fracture, and Mrs. Ella Sharples received cuts and a possible fracture of one arm. They were taken to the Santa Monica Hospital, where Sharples's condition was said to be critical.

Police of the West Los Angeles division arrested Christie, following charges that his car hit the other at the intersection of Wilshire and Westwood Boulevard after Sharples had nearly cleared the crossing. Both cars were wrecked.

TOWNSHIP COURT ACTS IN SECRET

Sheriff's Office Learns Too Late Drunk-Driving Case Was Settled Tuesday

Disposition of the charge of drunkenness against Peggy Franklin, 24 years of age, was made last Tuesday in the court of Justice of the Peace Billings of Beverly Hills Township, it was revealed yesterday by deputy sheriffs of the Fairfax substation.

The young woman, arrested on the 11th inst. when the automobile which she was driving is asserted to have collided with another car at the intersection of Willoughby and La Jolla streets, made her appearance in court and, changing her plea of not guilty to one of guilty, paid a fine of $50 as an alternative to a ten-day jail sentence, according to Deputy Sheriff Kunou.

According to Kunou, who, with Deputy Sheriff Guasti, was assigned to represent the Sheriff's office in court, the case originally was scheduled to come up for trial today. It was not revealed to the Sheriff's office until today that she had made her appearance in court, he said.

Christmas Seal Payment Asked by Association

Tuberculosis is the most destructive and fatal disease of Americans in the productive ages, it was stated yesterday by Dr. F. M. Pottenger, in urging public support of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association by buying Christmas seals. Dr. Pottenger, who is first vice-president of the association, stated that the tuberculosis death rate has been reduced 50 per cent since the formation of the National Tuberculosis Association. Despite the educational and preventive work, this disease in 1926 took 91,568 American lives, of which 56,746 were lives of persons between the ages of 15 and 45 years.

These figures, Dr. Pottenger said, emphasize the need of continuing the fight against tuberculosis with redoubled vigor. The association sent 100,000 letters, each containing $2 worth of seals, to residents, and urges prompt remittances.

DORSEY TROPHY GOES TO POTTER

Entrant of University High Wins Oratorical Meet

San Pedran in Second Place, Chinese Takes Third

Three Others Given Prizes for Compositions' Merit

Sterling Potter yesterday brought home to University High School, one of the youngest in the Los Angeles school system, its first oratorical trophy. He also won $25 for himself and the distinction of first place in the Oratorical Contest on World Friendship conducted at the Manual Arts High School.

Young Potter was one of six contestants from as many high schools and had chosen as his subject "World Friendship through Peace Consciousness." His oration was well thought out and he spoke with a sincerity and conviction that won the respect of the fifteen judges who passed upon the youthful contestants.

HANDSOME TROPHY

The trophy won by the speaker is known as the Susan M. Dorsey World Friendship Cup. It is a handsome silver piece that will be displayed in the trophy room of the University High School, formerly known as Warren G. Harding High School, until next year, when it will again be contested for. It was presented by Bolivar Roberts, president of the Ephebian Society, honor society of the Los Angeles schools.

Haskell Tidwell, San Pedro High School, was awarded second place and a prize of $20 which was presented by Frank A. Bouelle, superintendent of schools. His subject was "An Era of Peace." Arthur Chung, Los Angeles High School, an American-born Chinese, spoke feelingly on "Anti-Foreignism, a Challenge to World Peace." He was accorded third place and was presented with a check for $15.

OTHER WINNERS

Roku Sugahara, Manual Arts High School, talked on "What Price Peace?" and presented his subject in an able manner. John McKinney, from John C. Fremont High School, and Lucille Lynch, Venice High School, together with Sugahara were given fourth, fifth and sixth places, and awarded prizes of $10 each.

The Oratorical Contest on World Friendship is a part of the City Teachers' Institute, and since it was first instituted the silver trophy, given by Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, former Superintendent of Schools, has gone to Manual Arts, Jefferson, Fairfax and San Pedro High schools.

ROAD-TRACK SEPARATION TO BE TOPIC

Luncheon Friday Noon at Chamber Will Take Up Grade-Crossing Program

Grade-crossing elimination was announced yesterday as the topic of a conference luncheon, called for tomorrow noon at the Chamber of Commerce, by Shannon S. Crandall, president. He has invited the mayors of all cities in the county, city officials, the County Board of Supervisors, the grade-crossing committee of the Automobile Club, and railroad officials.

Crandall said that the time seems appropriate to launch an immediate and comprehensive grade-elimination program as part of the industrial and construction activity requested by President Hoover. Acknowledging the grade-crossing elimination work already done, he urged that the conference consider speeding up the remaining work. This, he stressed, will have two good effects: It will provide work, and it will save lives.

"We of the chamber are cognizant of the good work already done by city and county governments toward elimination of grade crossings," he wrote. "Likewise of the work done by the railroads and the Automobile Club of Southern California. But I feel that the time is ripe for some move to be made to speed up this program."

OLIVE BORDEN ENTERS HOSPITAL FOR REST

Olive Borden, screen actress, went to the Good Samaritan Hospital yesterday for a rest following several weeks of strenuous work in pictures. It was explained at the Fox studio that Miss Borden is not ill but that her physician prescribed the hospital as the best place for a rest after much night work in pictures and in view of the approach of Christmas. Miss Borden and her mother plan to distribute many packages to the needy.

realize from our studies that most of the down-and-outers are such, not because of lack of opportunity, but because of lack of ability. The pace is too fast for them.

"What is more alarming is the declining birth rate among those in the higher reaches of intelligence and ability. Are they not, after all, race-slackers? We talk about the war slacker. Why go out and fight for a race or nation that is dying out? To my mind it is just as important to give lives to your country as it is to give lives for your country. College men and women are making a sorry showing in this respect.

"However, the world is not in need of an increase in population. What is needed is what might be termed selective breeding. We are in danger of submerging the superior type with the inferior type in this country. It has happened to other civilizations, why not ours?"

Remedies? There are two, the lecturer said. First, prevent the mating of the unfit and curb the mating of the undesirables. Second, encourage the mating of the desirables.

Again, one of the most interesting of the sessions of the institute was that held at the Metropolitan High School where the products and progress in visual education passed in review. Children stepped out of the humdrum of rote and reading and put on some real shows, as it were. Pupils of the Thirty-sixth-street school under Mrs. Lillian Gray took some glances at book friends. From the Laurel-avenue school came a troupe who stepped, one after another, up on the platform before the auditorium full of teachers and gave brief sketches of the people of various nations as colored lantern slides were thrown on the screen.

The work of the Mt. Vernon Junior High School students in putting life into their English course by pictorializing Evangeline was shown under the direction of Miss Ettie Lee. It was called shadow screen work and Millicent Varham told how it is done.

The pictures themselves were drawn by a young Japanese student, Matsuo Shiroki. Eugene List stepped up on the platform and with materials aptly displayed in lecture-like fashion told how the slides were prepared. And then before titles and pictures were shown there was some fine music by the school quintet including Sofia De Mos, piano; Emily Sedgwick, flute; Mory Lifshitz, flute; Phil Anis and Elik Brodskey, violins, and Rose M. Chappelear, director of music.

SHAKESPEARE'S POLITICS LECTURER'S SUBJECT

PASADENA, Dec. 18.—Shakespeare was a powerful advocate of a strongly centralized monarchal form of government and a staunch defender of the established order, asserted Prof. Charles Read Baskerville, who spoke on "The Politics of Shakespeare's Plays" at the afternoon session of the local Teachers' Institute in Culbertson Hall, California Institute of Technology, today.

Prof. Baskerville, who is head of the department of English literature at the University of Chicago, was introduced by Prof. C. K. Judy of the California Institute. At present he is doing research work at the Huntington Library on the humanism of the Renaissance in England.

ARISTOCRATIC STUNT

The Chicago authority expressed the opinion that Shakespeare "usually disregards the democratic movement in his writings and when he does allude to it does so in an unfavorable light."

During the civil strife in Sixteenth Century England the nobles held the belief that only the King and themselves were rational beings and Shakespeare, subscribing to this view, wrote "King Lear" to show the horrors resulting from attempts to overthrow royal authority and the convention of primogeniture, declared the speaker.

ELECTRONS EXPOUNDED

Last night local and visiting teachers heard Prof. William V. Houston of the California Institute of Technology speak on "Electrons—Are They Waves or Corpuscles?"

Prof. William B. Munro of Harvard University and the California Institute will address the teachers tomorrow at 2 p.m. on "The Three American Revolutions."

Tomorrow at 8 p.m. Dr. John A. Anderson, Mount Wilson Observatory astronomer, will discuss problems in connection with the construction of the 200-inch telescope recently financed by the International Education Board of New York City.

CHEST DRIVE SETS RECORD

Largest Amount Raised in Any Year Already Reported With Plans for Collections to Go On

With expectations of [illegible] more before the campaign draws to a close, the Community Chest fund yesterday reached $2,634,327, the highest figure attained in the Chest's history of six years in Los Angeles.

The announcement of the total reached, and the prophecy that the fund will soar to $2,800,000 by the time the last subscription has come in, were made yesterday noon at the final report-of-progress luncheon of 1929 by J. A. H. Kerr, vice-president of the Security-First National Bank, and chairman of last year's and this year's Community Chest campaigns.

Mr. Kerr's farewell talk to the workers assembled in the Biltmore was greeted by enthusiasm, and a rising vote extending to him the thanks and appreciation of the army of campaign workers for his work in this campaign. The motion for a vote of appreciation and pledge of support in next year's campaign to Mr. Kerr was made by Galen Welch, Collector of Internal Revenue, himself a prominent Chest worker. The whole assemblage arose and cheered the chairman.

The amount raised to date, $2,634,327, represents not only the highest amount ever raised in a Community Chest campaign here, but is $22 000 higher than the amount with which the previous campaign closed. On account of the extraordinarily high quota of $3,200,000 set by the Chest's budget committee at the outset of the campaign, the present total represents only 82.32 per cent of the amount needed, and leaves $565,675 to be procured if the Chest is to go over the top.

Chairman Kerr praised the campaign workers for their courage and unselfishness, stating that he never believed that it would be possible to get more than $2,900,000 or $3,000 000; and ended by expressing high hope of reaching approximately $2,800,000.

chology." Dr. Martin is director of the People's Institute of New York City.

TWO LECTURES

Dr. Lois Coffey Mossman, Teachers' College, Columbia University, will present the teacher's responsibility in the educative program at Polytechnic High School, and Dr. Edward C. Elliott, president of Purdue University, will be heard in Trinity Auditorium. He will discuss "Equality of Educational Opportunity."

The annual business meeting of the teachers will be held at Trinity Auditorium at 3:30 p.m. The result of the election of officers will be heard with keen interest as the two candidates who are competing for the office now held by Robert A. Thompson, president of the association, have a strong following. Frank A Henderson, superintendent of the Burbank city schools, and Richardson D. White, superintendent of the Glendale city schools, seem equally popular with the teachers of Southern California.

THE SOCIAL SIDE

A series of breakfasts, luncheons and dinners have been arranged to bring the teachers together in a social way and yet carry on the work of the institute. General discussions of pertinent subjects will be led by speakers prominent in the educational field.

The afternoon will be given over to sectional meetings on specialized subjects. Each of these sections will be addressed by a leader in that particular field of education.

Tomorrow morning general sessions will be held at the Bible Institute, Philharmonic Auditorium and Trinity Auditorium. A final afternoon session will open at 1:30 o'clock at the Bible Institute with Dr. Edward C. Elliott, president of Purdue University, as the speaker.

IDAHO-UTAH MEETING

Idaho and Utah residents of this city will meet tonight in Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street. A short play will be presented by the Wallis Dramatic School, and Patricia Stevens will offer readings.

FALK FUND GIVER WINTER VISITOR

Pittsburgh Philanthropist at Hotel Huntington

Donor of $10,000,000 Gift Explains Purposes

Assistant Navy Secretary of Coolidge Regime Here

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 18.—Maurice Falk, Pittsburgh capitalist and philanthropist, who recently gave away $10,000,000 to be devoted to educational, religious and charitable interests, arrived here today for his annual winter visit.

Legal details and formalities incident to the transfer of the huge sum of money to the City of Pittsburgh by the head of the Federated Metals Company, were completed a few days ago.

MEMORIAL FUND

The gift of $10,000,000, which must be spent within thirty-five years, is a memorial to the wife of the capitalist, he explained. Mrs. Falk died last year.

The decision to turn over a part of his fortune to charity before his death brought about the formation of the Maurice and Laura Falk Foundation. This organization, which is composed of seven trustees and an executive head, is empowered to direct the expenditure of the $10,000,000 and interest along such lines as will serve the most helpful channels.

"Mrs. Falk died a year ago and I decided that the gift should be a memorial to her," the Pittsburgh capitalist said. "I have enough to fulfill all my wants, even though they may be luxurious, and I take the view that the surplus money belongs to those whom it can serve the best."

TO SPEND AS NEEDED

In explaining his desire that the fund be distributed within thirty-five years he said that he wanted the money to be released for needful purposes as needed, believing that ample opportunity to place the entire amount to advantage will come within the time specified.

Last year Mr. Falk, who is at the Hotel Huntington, accompanied by his secretary, Richard Victor, gave $1,000,000 to the clinic of the University of Pittsburgh.

ROBINSONS GUESTS

Another prominent Huntington guest is T. Douglas Robinson, assistant Secretary of the Navy in the Coolidge administration from 1924 to 1929. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are visiting their son, Douglas, who is a resident here at the Pasadena Athletic and Country Club.

Indicative of returning prosperity, is the announcement of S. H. Royce, Hotel Huntington manager, that he has not received a single cancellation of reservations thus far.

The hotel has booked a capacity list of reservations for February and already has been forced to decline more than fifty additional reservations for that month.

Warning on Holly Given by Forester

The annual warning against picking holly and chopping Christmas trees on private and forest reserve property was issued yesterday by Spence Turner, county forester.

It is against the law, Forester Turner explained, to uproot or cut any plant without written consent from the property owner. And the county forester has instructed his deputies, who have charge of the enforcement of this law, to require any person selling holly or a Christmas tree chopped in Southern California to show such a written permit to avoid arrest.

One exception is made in the case of students of a legitimate school or college who can collect a small number of plants for the purposes of botanical study.

Wales's Travel Companion to be at Club's Party

Vivian Guy, an English painter who accompanied the Prince of Wales on the India trip and won fame for his pictures of oriental events in that connection, will be an added feature at this evening's Christmas party of California Art Club. Those in charge of arrangements discovered Mr. Guy's presence here and made a place for him on the club's last dinner of the year. It will begin at 6 p.m.

He spent three months traveling across the United States by motor. He intends to open a studio here and exhibit his paintings for a time. He is staying at 1843 North Cherokee avenue.

SHRINERS TO LUNCH WITH THEIR SONS

Al Malaikah Gathering Will be Followed by Fete at Orthopedic Hospital

Shriners and their sons will sit down together at noon today at the Biltmore, at the first father-and-son luncheon to be given by Al Malaikah Temple. An entertainment program and a special menu have been arranged.

A record crowd has been arranged for and Potentate Le Roy M. Edwards has had tables placed in every available part of the Sala de Oro, where the luncheon will be held.

Noble Sidney B. Hodemaker will have charge of the entertainment. Hal Roberts and his Golden State Band, the Glee Club of the University of California, athletic stars, Al Malaikah Temple's own band, the Shrine Chanters and others will feature the program.

Following the luncheon many of the Shriners, led by Potentate Edwards and Chief Rabban Fred J. Wadley, Jr., will go to the Orthopedic Hospital, where a Christmas party will be given for the eighty crippled children. Both Potentate Edwards and Chief Rabban Wadley will wear Santa Claus costumes and distribute gifts to the youngsters. Christmas trees will be arranged by members of Al Malaikah's Patrol Company A, in charge of Noble Dr. Loren Hollingsworth.

Life Ended as He Gazes on Sunlit Ocean

Facing the sunlit sea yesterday afternoon, Arthur L. Shannon, 65 years of age, of Lomita, ended his life by shooting himself while in his automobile near Point Firmin Park. On his body was found a verse which apparently had fitted his mood, as follows:

"The glistening waters of the sunlit sea
Sprayed with mystery, beckon me.
From the shores of hope to the dark unknown,
I swing into space as a petal blown."

Two boys heard the shot and ran to find Shannon dying. He left a note to his widow, Mrs. Leota Shannon, R.F.D. No. 1, Lomita, and to his son Raymond and his mother, Mrs. N. M. Shannon. In this note he said he had learned that he had cancer and "to avoid being a burden to my beloved ones, I am taking on myself to pass on." Detective Captain Farrell found evidence that Shannon pulled trigger on two cartridges before exploding the third. The body was sent to the Cleveland undertaking establishment, San Pedro. Shannon was a dock checker.

Negro Convicted for Gun Theft

Theft of a revolver and the badge of a mail clerk at Fresno led Herbert Lewis, a negro, into double trouble, it developed yesterday in the court of United States District Judge Henning. Lewis was convicted by a jury on a charge of theft of government property.

It was brought out that he was accosted by detectives in a railway yard here some time ago. He told them he was a mail clerk. When they doubted him, it was stated, he fired several shots at the detectives, but caused no injuries to them. He served a short term in jail for assault. He will appear on Monday for sentence on the Federal charge.

ASSISTANCE LEAGUE PLANS PARTY MONDAY

The Christmas celebration for the children of the Assistance League Day Nursery will be held next Monday. The dinner, donated by H. Herman of Beverly Hills and Washington, D. C., to which a number of the prominent members of the league who are interested in the nursery have been invited, will be at 12 o'clock. Immediately following the feast of turkey and trimmings, the children will present a short program and then Santa Claus in the person of Dr. I. H. Jones will appear to dispense the gifts and candy which also have been donated.

BAY CITY PLANE GOING ON TO AGUA CALIENTE

Extension of the San Francisco-Los Angeles line of Western Air Express to Agua Caliente on a daily schedule was announced yesterday by C. W. H. Smith, general traffic manager. The change will take place next Tuesday. The southbound San Francisco plane will arrive at the Valley Boulevard airport at 12:10 p.m. daily, and depart five minutes later, Smith said. The customary stops at Long Beach and San Diego which have been made on the previous Saturday and Sunday schedules will be continued, with the plane arriving below the border in time for the races. The return trip will be started at 4:45 p.m.

AQUEDUCT ERROR PATCHED

Chief Engineer Weymouth Denies Abandonment of Gravity Project, as Reported

Disavowal of even any inference that the engineers of the Metropolitan Water District have abandoned the idea of a gravity aqueduct from the Colorado River was voiced yesterday by Chief Engineer Weymouth of the district.

Talks given before a Glendale business men's organization by A. J. Wiley, Weymouth and others connected with the project from the engineering point, apparently were misconstrued, Weymouth said, to indicate that the consulting board of engineers and Weymouth had thrown out the gravity route for the aqueduct and had decided on the much-discussed pumping project.

"What Mr. Wiley meant," said Weymouth, "when he said that we no doubt would have to make up our minds to do some pumping was that some pumping would have to be done at this end of the aqueduct, whatever route was selected. Even the Bridge Canyon route would bring the water at this end at so low a level that some of it, at least, would have to be pumped to certain portions of the district.

"No, we have not come to any definite conclusion yet as to the feasibility of the gravity route. The consulting board of engineers is over on the river now studying the Bridge Canyon site. It is expected that before long now the consulting engineers will make a report narrowing down the field of study to a few possible routes and will recommend intensive study of these routes."

MAIL WOOING PAIR INDICTED

Charged With Defrauding in Love Correspondence

Federal True Bills Against Twenty-four Found

Youth Trying to Enter Films Named as Burglar

In sixteen true bills returned yesterday by the Federal grand jury, twenty-four persons were indicted on various charges. Among those indicted are John Weisert and his wife, Elsie, who are accused of using the mails to defraud in the operation of a personal matrimonial agency.

It is charged that the couple answered various matrimonial advertisements in the United States and Canada and asserted that Mrs. Weisert was a young unmarried healthy German, a good cook and housekeeper and was willing to marry, but needed money for transportation and expenses. Various fictitious names were used by her, it is charged. The couple are said to have obtained about $1000.

An indictment also was returned against Leslie R. Perry, 23 years of age, who came to Los Angeles from Illinois to enter motion pictures. It is asserted that, becoming hungry, he burglarized a small store at Universal City to get something to eat, not knowing it was a branch postoffice. He is charged with breaking into a postoffice.

Other charges mentioned in the indictments include violations of the tariff act, the Dyer Act, the immigration act and the national prohibition act.

Suspect Denies Wreck-Plotting

Deputy Sheriffs Brewster and Croushorn yesterday took Leonardo Faschino over the section of Union Pacific track where two large chunks of metal had been placed in a train-wrecking attempt Tuesday at a point east of East Los Angeles. Fuschino, who was held on suspicion of attempting to derail a train, denied any connection with the case.

He asserted that he did not enter on the railroad property nearer than a point a half-mile east of the spot where obstructions were found.

SIX GRADUATE FROM CHIROPRACTIC SCHOOL

Six new chiropractors yesterday began professional careers, following their graduation Tuesday night from the Ratledge System of Chiropractic Schools at 2415 South Western avenue. Dr. T. F. Ratledge, dean and president of the college, presented dipomas to the members of the 1929 graduating class, composed of Drs. Salem David, Ruth B. Elwell, Robert A. Keulemans, Robert T. Scott, Aleda York and Homer York. Rev. Charles Hampton delivered the invocation. Dr. J. K. Gilkerson, D.C., of Glendale, acted as master of ceremonies. Dr. H. B. Logan, State executive of the California Chiropractic Association, gave the address of the evening.

WIFE'S ASSERTIONS BACKED BY SISTER

Miss Fern Toons and Mrs. Betty Jordan

Otho Jordan, motion-picture cameraman, took a trip to Maine to visit his mother and when he returned he told his wife there was no use of them trying to get along as man and wife, Mrs. Betty Jordan testified yesterday before Superior Judge Gould when asking for a divorce on the grounds of desertion.

"He said," Mrs. Jordan declared, "he didn't want to settle down and refused to live with me."

Mrs. Jordan, represented by Attorney Jay Chotiner, was given a decree and the custody of a minor child, Clarice Fern Jordan, 1 year of age. Her testimony was corroborated by her sister, Miss Fern Toolis.

Word of Officer Acquits Woman

Hazel Chaffen, 30 years of age, was acquitted by Municipal Judge MacCoy yesterday of charges of possession of a truckload of liquor valued at $10,000, which was seized by officers on September 27 after a gun battle with supposed hijackers at 1[illegible]7 Holly Vista Drive.

Police Captain Justin, wounded in the arm during the fight, testified that he led a raiding squad to the Holly Vista address after being informed that hijackers were to have a rendezvous there. He declared the woman was a visitor at the house where the battle occurred and had no connection with the liquor found on the truck.

SIX VOTERS WILL DECIDE ANNEXATION ISSUE TODAY

Six voters will go to the polls tomorrow to vote on the proposition of whether the 300 acres of land, consisting of the railroad classification yard area purchased by the harbor department more than a year ago for $1,800,000, shall be annexed to Los Angeles.

The election is to be conducted by the city on petition of the residents in the strip, with permission of the County Supervisors. The area is approximately 12,000 feet long and 1000 feet wide lying on the west boundary of Long Beach, from End street on the south to Wilmington street on the north, in county territory.

The southern portion of the classification yard, between End street and Anaheim Boulevard, purchased separately, already lies within the city limits. The 300 acres was purchased from the Dominguez estate and the Watson Land Company for $6000 an acre, through the efforts of President Allen of the Harbor Board, although the court had fixed the price at $8500 an acre.

The voters, who have resided on the land for more than a year, include Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Dollar, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Brumley and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Smith.

Reputed Liquor Ring Leaders Deny Charges

Jane Wilson, 41 years of age, and James B. Roberts, 35, asserted by Deputy City Prosecutor Kaufman to be distributing agents for a Hollywood liquor ring, yesterday pleaded not guilty to liquor charges before Municipal Judge Lahey. Their jury trial was set by the court for January 17, next.

According to Kaufman, Miss Wilson was arrested by Detective Lieutenants Sergeant and Stewart when she drove an automobile containing $5000 worth of liquor up to 918 North Kingsley Drive, apparently to make a delivery. Roberts was arrested by the same officers an hour later at 1426 West Adams street in an automobile which contained a five-gallon can of alcohol, they reported.

Women Start Trojan Building With Donation

A subscription of $10,000 toward the erection of a new wing of the women's residence hall at the University of Southern California was announced yesterday by Mrs. R. B. Von KleinSmid, presiding at a meeting of the Town and Gown Club. This sum was subscribed by the Women's Counselors, a recently organized group interested in the housing of co-eds at the Trojan institution.

The club's afternoon program included a number of musical monologues by Peter Gawthorne, British actor. Jack Norman, for two years organist at Gaumont Palace, Paris, played accompaniments for Helen Hayes, soprano, and Baron Harold Von Oppenheim, who sang a number of selections.

Return 2000 Bowl Ticket Applications

Arnold Eddy, graduate manager of the University of Southern California, yesterday announced that 2000 of the applications for tickets to the Tournament of Roses game at Pasadena, between Pittsburgh and the Trojans, had been returned, with the 70,000 seats completely sold out. This will send a record crowd to the Rose Bowl. Last New Year's Day 68,000 saw Georgia Tech defeat the Golden Bears of California, 8 to 7, while the year before, 64,000 witnessed the 7-to-7 tie between Alabama and Stanford. The tickets were taken entirely by application, with no public sale instituted.

BOSTON DEBUT FOR CARNERA

Gigantic Italian to Take on Maloney in January

BOSTON, Dec. 18. (AP)—An announcement indicating that Primo Carnera, gigantic Italian heavyweight, would make his American debut in Boston was made today by Eddie Mack, Boston Garden boxing promoter.

Mack said that Leon C. and Walter Freedman, Carnera's European managers, had cabled him acceptance of a match with Jimmy Maloney of Boston, on January 17. The 6-foot 10 Italian, who weighs 280 pounds, will sail from England on the 24th inst. and arrive in New York on the steamship Berengaria on the 30th.

ARIZONA WILL PLAY TROJANS

Wildcats Get Date Between Bear, Card Games

Utah's Championship Squad Certain to Perform

Strategy Board Meeting is Called for Today

BY RALPH HUSTON

The University of Arizona Wildcats will furnish the "breather" between the Stanford and California games for the Southern California Trojans next season. Announcement to this effect came yesterday from Tucson, where Arizona officials announced they had received the November 1 date on the S. C. schedule.

HOWARD JONES.

Neither Gwynn Wilson nor Arnold Eddy could be reached last night to confirm the announcement, but Coach Howard Jones admitted that the Wildcats had been considered for one of the open dates on the Trojan schedule. It was understood that Arizona had applied for a date several weeks ago, and had just been accepted.

UTAH MAY PLAY

Coincident with this announcement, it was learned that the University of Utah was almost a cinch to have another place on the Trojan card—probably November 15, the week following the California game. Utah has not been defeated in the past two years, going through eight contests without a defeat or a tie this year, and being unbeaten but tied the year previous. In 1927, Utah dropped a 13-to-6 game with Northwestern. Coach Ike Armstrong's elevens have wone five out of the last six Rocky Mountain championships.

Although it was impossible to obtain definite information on this date last night, it was believed to be reasonably certain that Utah would be met here November 15. It was also discovered that the following Saturday, falling just before the Thanksgiving Day contest with Washington, would remain definitely open. The following Saturday, the 29th, naturally will be open.

This leaves only October 18, the week before the Stanford game, the only open date on the Trojan plan of action, unless a postseason game after the Notre Dame contest, is

Hack Wilson Training His Wild Temper

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Hack Wilson, the burly Cub outfielder, is in training at his winter home in Martinsburg, W. Va., but not for a ring battle with Arthur (The Great) Shires. He is training his explosive temper so he can laugh off the shouts of "Sunny Boy" that are almost certain to greet him every time he steps on a diamond next season.

"It's going to be tough listening to them call me 'Sunny Boy' because I lost that fly ball in the sun during that world series game in Philadelphia," Hack said, "but it's all a part of the racket. I'm training myself to control my temper and laugh it off. But they hadn't better get insulting," he warned.

BRUINS ANNEX THIRD STRAIGHT

Hollywood Club Beaten by U.C.L.A. Five, 44-32

Caddy Works's Westwood Bruins won their third straight basketball game last night, this time the Hollywood Athletic Club falling before the fast collegians, 44-32. The game was played on the Movie City courts and the Bruins were in the lead from the start.

"CADDY" WORKS

Works started three second-stringers, Piper, Soest and Knowles and before the game was three minutes old, Knowles had given the Bruins a heavy lead. Knowles was high-point man of the game, being credited with 12 points. At one time in the first half, Hollywood trailed, 28-8. When half-time was called, U. C. L. A. was leading, 30-17.

Capt. Larry Wildes was way off form, only sinking 7 points. In both the other games played, Wildes led the Bruins' scoring. Last Friday, Works's squad walloped La Verne,

NEW STARS FOR 1930

Bill Lane, often called the Hard-Rock Miner, was a busy individual during his recent journey east, scouting for new talent to bolster his Hollywood ball club for the coming campaign. Here are two of the athletes he purchased that figure to make the Sheiks hard to head off from their second pennant. The top gent is Mike Gazella, flashy third-sacker, who was bought from the Yankees, while the lower figure is Emil Yde, southpaw pitcher, obtained from Detroit as part payment for Elias Funk.

ARMY BRINGING RECORD SQUAD

Total of, 110 Players Make Trip to California

Cadets to Tackle Stanford Cards on 28th Inst.

Crowd of 500 Students Give Players Big Sendoff

WEST POINT, Dec. 18. (AP)—Carrying 110 players on Army's first football invasion of the Far West the "West Point Special" steamed away this afternoon, bound for Palo Alto, Cal., where the football season will be closed with a game with Stanford the 28th inst.

RED CAGLE

The football players were cheered on their way by 500 cadets who were left behind, the vocal encouragement being made possible by a last-minute reversal by Maj.-Gen. W. R. Smith, the superin-Gen. W. R. Smith, the superintendent, of a previous order. Gen. Smith had ruled that the cadets could not be present at the departure on account of examinations, but relaxed later to the extent that 500 were free for most of the afternoon and could send a hearty cheer ringing clear about the little West Point station as the train pulled away.

There were two football players who found little joy in the occasion. Letzelter, former Carnegie Tech man, and O'Reilly, a linesman, members of the plebe squad, fell short of passing marks in English in the December examinations and were not permitted to make the trip.

The plebe, or freshman, team will furnish the practice opposition for the varsity along the way.

The first stop of the special train was to be made at Syracuse. At Galesburg, Ill., tomorrow afternoon a practice will be held. The party leaving this afternoon number 140, including 110 varsity, scrub and plebe players.

WILSON ELECTED PRESIDENT

Trojan Graduate Manager Selected to Association Leadership; Coast Meeting is Ended

BY RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Smoke of the annual battle of words; football schedules and rules, cleared up today as graduate managers and faculty athletic representatives of the Pacific Coast Conference finished their three-day 1929 confab and departed for home campuses.

Election of officers by both bodies, selection of places for the 1930 spring and fall meetings and settlement of two questions of some import were worked in today's brief sessions.

GWYNN WILSON

Gwynn Wilson of Southern California was elected president of the Graduate Managers' Association, while Earl Campbell of Washington was named secretary. They succeed Carl Lodell of Oregon State and Steven Cunningham of the University of California at Los Angeles, respectively.

The faculty representatives made no change in their administrative officers, returning W. B. Owens (Stanford) as president and H. C. Willett (Southern California) as secretary.

Graduate managers turned down a proposal to open the football practice season September 10 instead of September 15. The latter opening date has been in effect for many years. Another problem, pertaining to colors of jerseys, was decided in

New York Cops Deny Snubbing West Pointers

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. (Exclusive) The New York Police Department did not snub the West Pointers at the time of the Army-Notre Dame game last month; the Army football team was furnished all the escort it asked for to reach the Yankee Stadium from its City Island quarters, Police Commissioner Grover Whalen declared today. He insisted the police showed the cadets, and their gridiron heroes in particular, every courtesy.

Whalen's protestations followed the statement of Maj. Philip Fleming, graduate manager of athletics at West Point, that the Army would take the Notre Dame game elsewhere next year unless accorded courteous treatment by New York City authorities.

Maj. Fleming did not dispute Whalen's contention that the police escort was furnished, but he declared it was first refused and was not granted until a short time be-

SHIELDS INELIGIBLE FOR OREGON FOOTBALL TEAM

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Ruling that the year Marshall Shields, University of Oregon football player, played as a member of a junior college teams should be counted as varsity football, the faculty members of the Pacific Coast Conference have decided Shields ineligible for football competition next season.

Under a conference ruling a player is permitted only three years of varsity competition. Shields played on the junior college team after having played a season with the University of Oregon, and then returned for another season with the university.

PANTHERS PLAN DEFENSE FOR NEW YEAR'S CLASSIC

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 18. (AP)—How to stop the University of Southern California backfield in general and Russell (Racehorse) Saunders in particular, was the problem tackled today by the Golden Panthers of the University of Pittsburgh who have a football engagement with the Trojans at Los Angeles on New Year's Day.

Coach Jock Sutherland drilled his undefeated proteges in defense. The fact that Pitt is none too strong defensively against an aerial attack has afforded its followers little comfort since the Trojans filled the air with footballs against Carnegie Tech, the 14th inst. And the other defensive worry for Pitt

St. Mary's Will Play Intersectional Game Next Season With Fordham Universi

GAELS ARRANGE EASTERN CLASH

Fordham Game Scheduled by St. Mary's Eleven

Gridiron Battle to be Held at Polo Grounds

West Coast Squad Was Only Scored Upon Once

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. (AP)—The "Mighty Mikes" of St. Mary's will meet the football eleven of Fordham University at the Polo Grounds, New York City, next November 15. Negotiations for the game were completed today.

St. Mary's emerged from the 1929 season with the best record of any major football team on the Coast and the best defensive showing of any college eleven in the country. The Gaels went through the season unbeaten and tied but once. But the tie was scoreless, with California taking half the honors. The University of Oregon was the only eleven to push a touchdown across St. Mary's line. The total of seven points was the only blot on St. Mary's escutcheon this year.

Coach "Slip" Madigan of St. Mary's fashions his football teams out of material from a student body of only 700. The New York game next year will be the first appearance in the East of the "Mighty Mikes."

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. (AP)—Fordham expects to play before one of the biggest football crowds of its season when it meets St. Mary's next November 15 at the Polo Grounds here, Jack Coffey, graduate manager of athletics, said today. Coach Frank Cavanaugh's stalwarts this year won seven games and tied two.

Baseball Notes

The Mission Reds' safe-hit total of 2284 in 1929 is the highest total made by a Coast League club since Salt Lake batted out 2384 safe hits in 1925. The league record of 2385 safe hits was established by the Salt Lake club during the 1923 season.

The California league operated for several years before the Pacific Coast League was formed. The California League during the 1901 season ran exactly eight months starting on March 31 and ending on December 1. That was the world's record for long playing seasons.

Roy Mahaffey of Portland twirled 370 innings in 1929, the most innings pitched by a Coast Leaguer in four years.

In sixteen seasons between 1876 and 1892 Pop Anson took part in close to 1600 games and batted out more than 2200 safe hits for a grand batting mark of .344.

In the early days of baseball the catcher had to be as graceful and alert as a cat to live for he worked without gloves, mask, chest protector or shin guards. The best of the old-time catchers had a way of protecting their heads and breasts with their arms. The career of John O'Neil was cut short when a foul tip caught him in the hollow of the shoulder and ruined his throwing forever.

Rogers Hornsby's batting mark of .397 in 1921 was the highest attained by a National League player since 1899, when Ed Delehanty of Philadelphia led the league with an average of .408.

In the Venice-Sacramento contest of October 19, 1913, Jimmy Shinn of Sacramento stole five bases, twice stealing his way from first to third.

Robert Caruthers has been rated among the greatest right-handed pitchers the game has ever produced. He learned to play baseball in Chicago, his native city. He joined Von der Ahe's famous St. Louis Browns about forty-five years ago. He developed into a remarkable pitcher and helped Comiskey's team to win the American Association championship three seasons. He also pitched the St. Louis Browns into a world's championship by defeating Pop Anson's Chicago team. Caruthers not only was a great pitcher but also a hard batsman. When in his prime with the St. Louis Browns he and Foutz shared between them the task of pitching and playing outfield, each alternating between the two positions throughout the complete season.

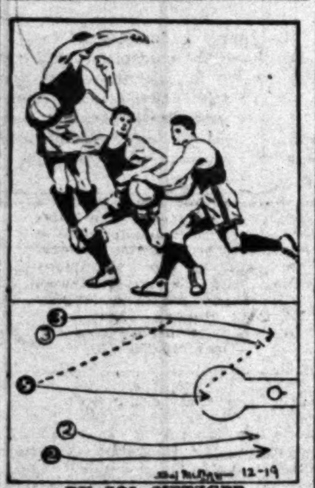
KAUFMANN OBTAINED BY ST. LOUIS CARDS

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18. (AP)—Tony Kaufmann, former pitcher and later an outfielder, has been obtained by the St. Louis Cardinals from the New York Giants by the waiver route. Kaufmann was used as a pinch hitter by the Giants last season. It is understood here that he will be sent to the Rochester club of the International League.

BRUIN PUGS SCHEDULE MEETS

The boxing team of the University of California at Los Angeles has scheduled two meets for the coming season, according to Coach Pat Malone, Bruin fisticuffs mentor. The Westwood leather pushers will have two dual meets with the University of California at Berkeley and with Stanford, both contests to be held in Los Angeles. The local boxing team will also compete in the Pacific Coast intercollegiate boxing tournament to be held next April in Seattle under the auspices of the University of Washington.

Long-Short Pass Attack is Deceptive



BY SOL METZGER

A Tennessee development of the long-and-short pass attack in basketball is of especial interest because it takes care of a difficult situation. Perhaps you recall the start of this play, a quick break by the two forwards, Nos. 2 and 3, and the center, No. 5, when they note their guard taking a rebound. A fast overhead pass to No. 2 follows. No. 2 immediately passes to No. 5.

No. 5 usually passes to the other forward, as is being done here, at the point in the attack where we take up the play. But No. 3 is driven to the corner as he dribbles. Meantime, Nos. 2 and 5 have gone on down the court.

Tennessee works one of two stunts here. No. 3 either hook passes to No. 5, or in case No. 5 is covered, he hook passes for the basket. If the latter shot fails then the chances are even that Nos. 2 or 5 will get the rebound and have a closer shot, or else they start a new series of passes leading up to a close-up shot for the basket.

George Sisler to Quit Active Baseball List

BOSTON, Dec. 18. (AP)—George Sisler, for years one of baseball's leading first basemen, will retire from the active list this year and confine his activities to coaching and an occasional pinch-hitting assignment, Bill McKechnie, new manager of the Boston Braves, announced today. Johnny Nuene, a newcomer, will be given the first-base assignment if he can manage it.

BILL COOK MAKES GOOD ON NEW JOB

Bill Cook, former University of Southern California star quarterback, has just completed a highly successful season as coach of the Santa Ana Junior College eleven, his squad having won the Southern California Jaysee Conference championship. The Saint Jaysees lost but one conference game and that to the Chaffee J. C. team, which was coached by Bert Heiser, a former guard and running mate of Cook on the Trojan varsity.

Cook's Santa Ana eleven tied the Trojan freshman team at the start of the season. That this was no small accomplishment is shown by the fact that the Trobabes won all of the rest of their games, including contests from the California and Stanford frosh.

JOE BITTO KAYOES FRASER IN NINTH

Joe Bitto, the eccentric fighter from the beaches, knocked out Wally Fraser in the ninth round of their scheduled ten-rounder at Santa Ana last night. Fraser was no match for the hard-hitting Bitto. Geno Chavez made short work of Jack DeBodes in the semi-wind-up, putting him away in the second round.

COUGARS WIN OVER ST. CHARLES CAGERS

PULLMAN (Wash.) Dec. 18. (AP)—The Washington State College basketball team defeated Mt. St. Charles of Helena, Mont., 44 to 29, tonight, making a clean sweep of the two-game series. The score at half-time was 25 to 8, for Washington State.

PAYNE TO MEET WINNER

Kentucky Flash Signs to Battle Victor of Mill Between Baby Sal and Goldie Hess

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams booked another January bout yesterday. He signed Cecil Payne, spectacular Kentuckian, to meet the winner of the Goldie Hess-Baby Sal Sorio match.

Payne goes to the post the 7th of the month. Hess and Sal box next Monday night. The club is moving up a night so as to avoid the Santa Claus parties of Christmas Eve.

GOLDIE HESS

The Olympic will show on New Year's Eve, setting aside the old tradition of closing down for the Yule days. Other cities hold their biggest fights on this date with success so Jack Doyle will test it out for Los Angeles.

It is likely that Les Kennedy will be the December 31st headliner with some other top-notch heavyweight. Long Beach fans are enthused over prospects for a Kennedy-Frankie Campbell bout, but that one is impossible to make until after mid-January. Campbell will remain at his home in Oakland until after the holidays.

Payne made himself an attraction here by defeating Hess in his debut a few weeks ago. A rematch was in line, but Goldie accepted the Sal fight in the meantime.

Hess and Sal are boxing at 135½ pounds. The half pound is the result of a little "Shylocking" on the part of the managers of the fighters. Harvey Pettit wanted the weight set for 135 while Grafton asked for 136. It is said the two managers argued until 3 o'clock in the morning, finally agreeing on the compromise to split the last pound.

Sal is heavy now. He made his last fight as a junior welter when he got a draw with Johnny Adams. The young Mexican is a socker and his appeal in this role makes the Hess card attractive.

If Sal should win over Hess by a keyo it would make the Payne battle a hot natural. Payne is booked in the East for February so will have to do his Los Angeles shopping right away. There is a possibility that Payne may face Joey Sangor on January 21.

Fidel LaBarba and Ignacio Fernandez are slated for the January 14 date.

New Track in 1931 Planned by California

BERKELEY, Dec. 18.—A new track, adequate in every respect for the needs of the sport at the University of California, is virtually assured for the season of 1931.

This was the announcement today at the Berkeley institution by W. W. Monahan, graduate manager of the Associated Students. Monahan's announcement followed the completion of preliminary plans for the removal of buildings now standing on the so-called "southwest area" recently acquired by the university.

Lack of proper facilities has in recent years materially handicapped Coach Walter Christie's charges. With a new track in sight, prospects for the sport are brighter than they have been since the great days of 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923, when California was undefeated in dual meets and established the remarkable record of taking three I.C.4-A. championships in as many years.

While plans for the laying out of the track and the construction of bleachers are still in an indefinite state, Monahan explained, definite plans have been made for the wrecking of the buildings now standing on the property and the grading of the site. The track will adjoin the new southwest football practice field. Inside the quarter-mile track will be an area sufficient for field events which may be converted to a football field for use during the fall season, according to tentative plans.

The type of bleachers to be constructed has not yet been determined, nor has the probable seating capacity. However, the intention is definitely to provide a track that will compare favorably with others on the Pacific Coast. The work of clearing and leveling the land will not be started until after the heavy rains are over.

The varsity track schedule for the coming spring, still incomplete, will include meets with Southern California, Stanford, Washington, the Olympic Club and an all-star team of Southern California junior college athletes.

NEW DIAMOND FOR BEAR BASEBALLERS

BERKELEY, Dec. 18.—Clinton "Clint" Evans, newly appointed varsity baseball coach at the University of California, will begin his duties next spring with a new playing field.

The Southwest practice field, used for the first time this fall for football practice sessions, will be converted into a diamond for use during the baseball season. Turf will be skinned from the field for the infield, and bleachers erected to seat approximately 1500 spectators, according to plans. At the close of the season the stripped-off turf will be replaced to prepare the field for service during the 1930 football campaign.

WHITTIER FIVE WINS

Whittier College basketball varsity defeated the General Petroleum cagers, 47-38, last night in a closely contested game played in the Poets' gym. Reitz was high-point man for the collegians with 15 points. In a preliminary game the Whittier Y.M.C.A. beat the Pomona Y.M.C.A. five, 46-23.

RUDOLPH AND GREENLEAF TIE

Billiardists Play Extra Game to Decide World's Title

DETROIT, Dec. 18. (AP)—Erwin Rudolph of Chicago and Ralph Greenleaf of New York went into a tie for the world's pocket billiard championship tonight, as Greenleaf defeated Rudolph, 125 to 79 in ten innings in the final game of the tournament here. They will play an extra game tomorrow night to decide the issue.

Greenleaf got away to a long lead by running eighty-nine in the third inning, but Rudolph came back with a run of fifty-four in his half and brought his score to seventy-three in the sixth inning with Greenleaf at ninety.

Greenleaf ran nineteen in the ninth but missed an easy shot with his score at 113. He completed his triumph with an unfinished run of twelve in the tenth inning.

Frank Taberski of Schenectady, N. Y., clinched third place in the tournament by defeating Onofrio Lauri of Brooklyn in the first game on the afternoon program here, 125 to 71, in twenty-three innings. In the second game Pasquale Natalie of Detroit, was the victor over Marcel Camp of Detroit, 125 to 64, in twenty-two innings.

Four players finished in a tie for fourth place in games won and lost at three won and four lost, but on the basis of point total, Lauri took fourth with 685, Camp fifth with 668, Natalie sixth with 629 and Spencer Livsey of Los Angeles, seventh with 578. As a result Lauri automatically qualified for the next world's title tournament as the first four to finish are eligible. Third place was $900, fourth $800, fifth $700, sixth $600 and seventh $500.

Taberski was forced to make a determined uphill fight to finish third. He was trailing by 60 to 1 in the first half of the third inning, but managed to stop Lauri. Later a run of 46 helped but a few innings later he suffered three scratches in a row and lost 18 points, bringing his total to 87 to Lauri's 70. After a few innings of safety he ran out in the twenty-third with a run of 33.

WILSON HEADS COAST GROUP

Stanford's favor. Both Stanford and Oregon State have adopted white jerseys for football games. It was thought that when these teams met confusion necessarily would result with twenty-two players all garbed in the same color. In such cases, it was decided the home team would have the preference but also that each college would have priority rights to its own colors. It gave Stanford the "break" as the former's college colors are cardinal and white while Oregon State's are orange and black.

No action was taken on a track schedule for 1930 and no reasons were given for a failure to draw up these dates, which must be completed within the near future. It is expected however, that the graduate managers will communicate on the subject shortly after the first of the year.

Action on a proposition to bar all kinds of "motion-picture scouting" was not forthcoming. The rule which prohibits use of such pictures before a game with the team involved was held satisfactory.

Dates for the meetings of both bodies next year were agreed upon as follows: June 2, 3 and 4 in Seattle and December 8, 9 and 10 in Los Angeles.

The graduate managers gave no further consideration to a demand of increased salaries made yesterday by members of the Professional Football Officials' Association. The officials, who now draw down $100 each for important games, asked for a new graduated scale of pay ranging down from $250. The proposition was turned down flatly by the managers but it is understood the two associations may adjust matters satisfactorily at the spring meeting.

Bears Jaunt Southward on New Year's Day

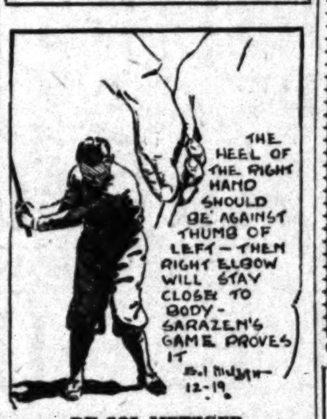
BERKELEY, Dec. 18.—Invading Southern California on a fifteen-day barnstorming trip the 145-pound basketball team will leave Berkeley on New Year's Day to travel as far south as San Diego. The middleweight team is coached this year by Emory Curtice, last year's track captain, and gives promise of being one of the best 145-pound outfits turned out at California for several seasons. Eight players, including the manager and Coach Curtice, will make the barnstorming trip.

The tentative schedule and itinerary for the trip is as follows:

January 1—Leave Berkeley.
January 4—California Christian College at Los Angeles.
January 6—Riverside Y.M.C.A. at Riverside.
January 7—Redlands University at Redlands, or Riverside Junior College.
January 8—San Bernardino Junior College at San Bernardino.
January 9—Escondido All-Stars at Escondido.
January 10—San Diego Y.M.C.A. at San Diego.
January 11—San Diego (picked team) at San Diego.
January 13—Santa Maria Moose at Santa Maria.
January 14 — California Polytechnic Junior College at San Luis Obispo.
January 15—Arrive home (Berkeley.)

The eight players who will make the trip will be selected from the following squad: Forwards—Francis McCarty of San Francisco; Elwood Murphey, Clyde Morton of Berkeley; Roy Jorgenson, Hayward, and Jack Ernst, Oakland. Centers—Harry Bryant, San Jose; Paul Watson, Berkeley; Tom McGrail, Calistoga. Guards—Paul Fry and Austin McFarlin, Oakland; Ed LaFrancie, Santa Maria, and Allen Bowie, Berkeley.

Sarazen Grip is Effective



THE HEEL OF THE RIGHT HAND SHOULD BE AGAINST THUMB OF LEFT—THEN RIGHT ELBOW WILL STAY CLOSER TO BODY—SARAZEN'S GAME PROVES IT
Sol Metzger 12-19

BY SOL METZGER

Experiments will quickly prove that one's grip on a golf stick has much to do with the result obtained with any club. The fact that there are three standard grips in use is proof. They are the eight-finger grip, employed by Jimmy Johnston, United States amateur champion; the interlock, used by Gene Sarazen, former United States open champion; and the overlap of Bobby Jones.

One of the results of ineffective gripping is the way the right arm behaves. Unless you get the heel of the right hand pressing against the club the right elbow tends to stray from the right side during the backswing. No one can overcome the slice that follows without looking to his or her grip. You must keep the right elbow tucked in close to the right side, especially on such compact shots as those played with the irons.

So get the heel of your right hand against the thumb of the left, as does Sarazen, and let it press slightly. Then your swing will be orthodox.

The action of the knees, the hips, the arms on the backswing and at time of impact is well described in Sol Metzger's leaflet on The Pivot. He will send it to any reader requesting it. Address Sol Metzger in care of The Times, and inclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

fore the game, following energetic Army protests.

Fleming's position was that the discourtesy consisted in the original refusal, and that it should not have been necessary for the military academy authorities to make a special appeal to get the refusal rescinded, especially as the escort had been granted without any hitch to the Notre Dame team.

In reply to reports that the 1930 game would not be played in New York City, E. G. Barrow, secretary and business manager of the New York Yankees, stated that an agreement already exists for the game to be played at the Stadium next year, as it was this year.

"While no contract has been signed for the game," said Mr. Barrow, "the agreement has already been reached. No suggestion for any change has come to us."

Gilmore Lions Trip Bears, 1-0

The Gilmore Lions nosed out the Sun Freze Bears, 1-10, in a wild, Sunfreze Bears, 1-0, in a wild, ter Garden Ice Palace last night. Swindel scored the winning goal in the first three minutes of the first period. From then on there was no scoring, but there was plenty of action. Hayton, star goalie for the Lions, did some fine defensive work in the last period when the Bears threatened to score.

PABLO DANO STOPS KETCHELL IN THIRD

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Pablo Dano, former flyweight champion of the Orient, gave Jimmy Ketchell an all-round beating before stopping the Seattle flyweight in the third round of their ten-round fight at the National Hall tonight.

Segrio Radam, Filipino bantamweight from Manila, and Johnny O'Donnell of Denver, Colo., fought a six-round draw in the semi-wind-up. Tony Passich, San Jose light-heavyweight, knocked out Jack Connell, San Francisco, in the second round of a six-round bout.

Mercury Five to Take Jaunt

Los Angeles Athletic Club basketball players go to San Bernardino tomorrow night to meet the Gate City Junior College quintet in a court clash. The San Bernardino Jaysee has a strong team this year and their game with the Mercuries should prove a fast encounter. Coach Twogood of the Mercuries will probably start McHose and Rariden, forwards; Wilcox, center, and DeMers and Gage, guards.

Boxing Show for Newsies is on Tonight

Pasadena holds its annual Christmas boxing show for the newsboys tonight at Promoter Morrie Cohan's club. It is the third anniversary of the event.

Profits of the show will buy Christmas dinners and provide toys to the youngsters. Promoter Cohan makes his card the most extensive of the year on this occasion.

Besides the regular fight program which consists of a double main event featuring Don Kennedy vs. Manuel Trevino and Trip Limbaco vs. Sailor Jimmy Lucas there will be a dozen vaudeville acts and music.

The Kennedy-Trevino bout is a "natural" for the Crown City arena. Kennedy has never been defeated, while Trevino has fought himself up to a real rival.

Trevino fought Hymie Miller two sensational draws. The weight is 124 pounds. Kennedy is believed capable of mixing with the Fidel La Barbas and the Bud Taylors. He is still in school and has delayed his ring campaign thus far except for local appearances.

The three preliminaries will be Andy Dumiler vs. Boom Cannon, Clown Bobo vs. Frankie Abendino and Bennie Rodriguez vs. June Lagera. Dumiler and Boom are heavyweights.

Cohan makes it a practice to show his fans the big club stars in exhibitions on his Christmas show. He has Ace Hudkins, Mushy Callahan, Billy Papke, Jr., and Georgie Marks scheduled.

Jim Jeffries, Billy Papke, Sr., Tommy Ryan and Frank Moran will serve as referees. Gus Edwards, Chuck Reisner, Joe E. Brown, B.B.B., and Dan Tobey will act as masters of ceremonies.

RECORD BROKEN BY RELAY TEAM

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. (AP)—The Chicago Athletic Association 160-yard swimming relay team of Wilcox, Greenberg, Breyer and Bryant tonight bettered the world record for the event, during a meet in which it defeated Northwestern University tankmen, 41 to 34.

The C.A.A. quartet covered the distance in 1:14 2-5, two-fifths of a second faster than the former marks established by Northwestern in 1927.

KENNY LA SALLE BEATS HAYDEN IN BEACH GO

Kenny La Salle defeated Bobby Hayden over the six-round route in the main event at the Ocean Park Arena last night. Rudy Mendez outpointed Fred Hemfold in the six-round semi-wind-up. Williard Norton won on a technical knockout over Bert Wagner in the fifth round of the special event. Dave Leibas beat Jimmy Agilipay in four rounds, while Solly Smith won from Tommy Moran in the opener.

BLADES TO COACH CARDS

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18. (AP)—President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals today announced he has signed Ray Blades as coach of the Cardinals to help Manager "Gabby" Street in the 1930 campaign. Blades formerly was an outfielder for the Cardinals and later coached the Rochester club of the International League.

NATIONAL MOTORCYCLE TITLE AT STAKE SUND

The national three-mile motorcycle championship will be at stake Sunday afternoon when a dozen of the leading handlebar demons of the country compete over the curves of the American Legion Speedway as an added feature of the huge Yuletide racing program.

Wells Bennett of the Western Federation of Motorcycles announced yesterday that the A.M.A., which governs the motorbike competition throughout the country, has awarded the three-mile titular event to the local track. It was decided to hold the race Sunday.

At the present time many well-known daredevils who have long been prominent in motorcycle circles are on hand, which makes Sunday's race an interesting one. Jim Davis of Columbus, O., is here and will head the list of entrants. Davis caused a sensation at the Dry Lakes on Armistice Day when he rolled up a speed of 114 miles an hour in winning the twenty-five-mile event.

Among others who will be out Sunday to battle for the national crown are "Dusty" Rhoades of Santa Ana, "Tuffy" Jacobs of Los Angeles, Miny Waln of New Jersey, and Leroy Bethel of England.

In addition to this race, a side-car event of ten laps is on the lists and an automobile polo game will be offered between King Brady's Hollywood Blues and Earl Hovenden's Washington Grays. It will be the first appearance of Brady at the oval in several years. He is an expert at this spectacular sport and fans will remember him for his performances of several years ago when Ascot was a new track.

Entries for Sunday's auto races are pouring into the offices of A. C. Pillsbury of the A.A.A. and a list of forty-five cars and pilots are expected to be ready for the fireworks.

The 100-lap Yuletide sweepstakes will headline the program with a twenty-four lap consolation race, ten-lap special event, and helmet dash rounding out what should be a big day of thrills.

ional Swim Stars Compete Tonight in Southland Title Meet at Hollywood A.C.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

LANE AND THE STARS

BILL LANE bounced home from the frigid East with a lot of baseball news in his system—and players for his Hollywood club. He got Yde, former Pirate heaver; Brannon, former St. Louis second baseman; Mike Gazella, former New York Yank utility infielder, and that isn't all, the Star owners hints.

Of considerable interest to Coast League followers is the possibility that Jack Hendricks may be induced to buy out the Moreing interests at Sacramento.

Lane says the eastern man will buy the club—if the price is right. Hendricks was part owner in the Cincinnati club for five years, and his wealth of major and minor league experience would make him a valuable man for the Coast League.

The Hollywood boss is tickled over the acquisition of his new players. He says Yde because of his hitting may be transformed into an outfielder. The chap with the funny name is a comparative youngster, and is anything but washed up, according to Lane. Yde is 28, which means he should have several years of active baseball in his system.

The story of Gazella's purchase is that of another gent who was taken in the stock market. He cut in on each of the Yanks' winning world series' dough, and became so hefty in the market that he didn't play ball last year except on Sundays. Now he's got to go to work again. Lane plans to play him at third.

Uncle Bill nearly froze to death in the East, and he says the first sunshine he saw in three weeks was when he hit California.

He took in the Fainting Phil Scott-Von Porat fight in New York, but came away thoroughly disgusted—and $25 poorer for two seats.

THE ARMENTROUT CASE

A LOT of folks were tremendously impressed by the hard running and terrific hitting of a Carnegie Tech back named Murray Armentrout at the Coliseum last Saturday.

After watching him in action they were curious over the failure of Coach Walley Steffen to start the 191-pounder either in the first or second half.

He was used as a sub in both halves and then only for a short period. And yet the big fellow was just as hard for the Trojans to stop in the first half as was Saunders for the Skibos in the second half.

He tore off several nasty runs around end, scored one of Tech's touchdowns with a smash over tackle, and figured heavily in the other score made by the visitors.

The writer confesses a curiosity about Armentrout that was not satisfied until George Shaffer, the local Chicago Tribune man, revealed the secret.

Shaffer is an old fraternity brother of Steffen's, and he visited the Skibo coach in the dressing-rooms after the game.

Steffen told him the story. It seems that Armentrout apparently is physically perfect. He can pass every examination given by a doctor with flying colors.

But he can stand only so much football. Something gives way, and he gets palpitation of the heart. That's why Steffen doesn't use him as a regular—only as a relief man.

And at the least symptom of a physical letdown Steffen jerks him from the game and sends him to the bench.

"Do you think I wouldn't use Armentrout as a regular if I could?" queried Steffen. "He's one of the hardest running backs in the game today."

BRICK MULLER AGAIN

IT IS always interesting to read the rehashes of Brick Muller's famous feat of passing to Brodie Stephens from the middle of the field for a touchdown in the Ohio State game nearly nine years ago.

But it would be much more interesting if the chroniclers would stick to facts and forget that 70-yard idea.

To throw 70 yards in that particular game it would have been necessary for Muller to have faded back 32 yards from the line of scrimmage, which was established on Ohio State's own 38-yard line at the time.

There never was a game in which the heaver ran that far back of his line of scrimmage for a pass, and the California-Ohio State game was no exception.

Jack Elder's pass in the Notre Dame-Southern California game this year was as long a completed pass as the conductor of this column has ever seen.

It was a 55-yard pass, as it traveled from the Notre Dame 35-yard line to the Trojan's 10-yard line, where it was caught by Conley. The scrimmage line was on the Notre Dame 46-yard stripe.

Compare the situation here with the one in the California-Ohio State game and you realize the absurdity of the 70-yard idea. Elder faded 11 yards back of his line of scrimmage. Muller went back a little farther—between his own 45-yard line and the middle of the field—before he made his throw. Stephens caught the ball on the goal line, just to the right of the south goal posts in old Tournament Park, and the goal posts in those days were on the goal line—not 10 yards back.

by Bill Simkins. Neither "Pug" Parkinson nor Franklin Hood can be expected to toss the pigskin around so wildly, but if the Pitt passes are similar to those used by the Cards, the receivers are certain to be well covered.

Heavy practice for the Panther affair is scheduled to start tomorrow morning. Jones will get his varsity gridders out on Bovard Field and start intensive work for the New Year's struggle. The athletes have enjoyed a complete vacation since the Carnegie Tech slaughter, and are expected to be ready to go.

CORBETT MAY MEET FIELDS

Thompson (Los Angeles negro) in Chicago or New York before I can come to the Coast."

Efforts to match Fields and Corbett have been under way for more than a year, before Fields won the welterweight title. The pair are the greatest drawing cards San Francisco fans have turned out for in many years.

Promoter Hoffman, who has been sojourning on his ranch near Sacramento, was reported on his way to San Francisco to talk terms with Larry White, Corbett's representative here.

The bout, if made, will be held in the San Francisco baseball park. Various estimates on gate receipts for such a fight have ranged from $50,000 to $75,000.

Corbett, a southpaw, has lost but one decision in something like three years. He has been on Fields's trail for many months. Efforts to make a match have failed repeatedly, most of the time because of financial differences. At one time, Rooney declared he would not let Fields fight a southpaw.

ARIZONA GRIDDERS VOTE OUT CAPTAIN

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 18. (AP)—For the first time in the history of the institution, letter men of the 1929 University of Arizona football team, gathered at a banquet given by the "Town Cats," local boosters organization, voted not to elect a gridiron captain for 1930.

The ballot was 17 to 7. Coach J. F. McKale will appoint a leader before every game next season.

JOCK MALONE LOSES TO WESLEY KETCHELL

OAKLAND, Dec. 18. (AP)—Wesley Ketchell, Salt Lake City middleweight, forged to the front in the last two sessions to win a close ten-round decision from Jock Malone, veteran St. Paul boxer, at the Arcadia Pavilion here tonight. Ketchell's youth and punch proved too big a handicap for the wily Malone, who tired after the eighth round.

VANDALS BEAT WHITMAN

PASADENA ENTRIES CLOSE

Hagen, Diegel, Von Elm Numbered Among Famous Stars; 72-Hole Tourney Begins Tomorrow

diligently yesterday in an effort to find starting times for the record-breaking field of 222 amateurs and professionals, and were forced to announce that those who find they cannot complete their eighteen holes tomorrow will be permitted to finish at 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

ENTRIES CLOSED

Entries closed last night, and those who failed to sign up are just out of luck.

Hagen and Diegel, arch enemies of the links for years—with "Larruping" Leo having the better of "Sir Walter" the last few times they have clashed—will be paired with A. K. Bourne of the Annandale Country Club, sponsor and backer of the Pasadena tournament. They will tee off at 11:50.

In order to give the fans an opportunity of seeing all of the leaders in action, feature threesomes will tee off at stated intervals as follows:

10:20—Al Watrous, Tommy Armour and Al Espinosa.
10:45—Horton Smith, Craig Wood, and Chet Beer.
11:10—Joe Turnesa, Harry Wesbrook and Johnny Farrell.
12:00—George Von Elm, Tom Kerrigan, and Joe Kirkwood.
12:10—Bobby Cruickshank, Fred Morrison, and Neil Christian.

Competition will be terrific in the Pasadena open, and don't be surprised to see a number of the favorites drop by the wayside, when the field is cut to the low 100 after the first eighteen holes on Saturday morning, and then to the low 50 and ties for the final thirty-six holes Sunday.

In past years a few outstanding professionals and a small percentage of unknowns have played through the midwinter tournaments. This year, due to the national professional championship being played here, not only the greats, but the near-greats of professional golf have flocked to Los Angeles. Some of these youngsters from the East and Midwest have already made it tough for the favorites in money tournaments, and the going will be stiffer right along.

WOOD MAY REPEAT

Wood is undoubtedly one of the longest, if not the longest, of the professionals off the tee. The New Jersey youngster smacks 'em a mile, and he should make a good showing in defense of the tournament he won last year.

If Von Elm is hitting the ball, he will give the pros a real tussle for first place. Hagen and Diegel have both been laying off after a strenuous campaign in the national P.G.A., and they are both about due to produce some of the golf that has made them world famous.

Should Hagen and Von Elm be near the top after the first thirty-six holes, you will see some brilliant golf in the final rounds. Last year in the Long Beach open, "The Haig" beat out Von Elm in one of the most interesting tournaments of the season. Von Elm goes out to "get" Hagen every time they meet, and that means fireworks for the gallery.

CRUICKSHANK DUE

We rather look for "wee" Bobby Cruickshank to come through at Pasadena. Bobby has some great golf in his system when he is really playing, and he is about set to produce in a money tournament.

In order to get the field over the course, the first threesome is scheduled to tee off at 7 a.m., with the last of the players starting at 1:40 p.m.

Following are the complete starting times for the first round:

7 a.m.—Walter Matchlett, Claude Self, Tex Watson.
7:05—C. H. Pellono, Arnold Leonard, Bob Swanson.

CHOCOLATE TAKES NOD OVER DOMINIC PETRONE

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. (AP)—Kid Chocolate, brilliant Cuban negro featherweight, gained the referee's decision over Dominic Petrone of New York, in a stiff ten-round bout tonight at the Coliseum. Chocolate thus overcame the strongest opposition of his current invasion of New York rings. He won by a wide margin.

Chocolate was outweighed by three pounds, coming in at 126½ pounds to 129½ for Petrone.

The Cuban had his troubles in the early rounds as Petrone came out from the start to make a fight out of it. During the first two rounds they fought toe to toe in a series of furious mix-ups, but the Cuban weathered the storm better and piled up a margin in the later rounds. Petrone was the aggressor in the first two frames and made Chocolate miss frequently with his deadly right-hand punches.

The Cuban adjusted his timing after the third and pounded the New York Italian almost into helplessness before the end. The better boxer, Chocolate evaded the heavy-punching Petrone while landing frequently and effectively in the latter part of the fight.

During the last three frames, Chocolate was never in trouble and tried only to put over a knockout punch. Petrone, staggering but game, was able to stand off the Cuban's rushes and even attempted to attack again in the tenth.

Jack "Kid" Berg, English welterweight, won on a foul over Tony Caragliano, of New York, in the second round of their ten-round semifinal. The bout was stopped early in the second round after Berg had been struck several times by low blows. The last almost doubled him up with pain and brought Caragliano's immediate disqualification.

Berg weighed 137½; Caragliano 133½.

In another ten-rounder, Rene De Vos, of Belgium, outpointed Babe McGorgary, of Oklahoma. They both received cuts over the eyes, but the bout was slow. The weights: De Vos, 165½; McGorgary, 169.

Jose Martinez, Spanish junior lightweight, won his first important battle in the United States in the opening ten-rounder, defeating Young Leonard Zazzarino, talkative Jersey City lad. Martinez had a wide margin over the Jersey puncher, inflicting much punishment with his body attack. He weighed 128; Zazzarino 133½.

SONS AND SPANIARDS OUT TO WIN SUNDAY

Two second division teams of the City Soccer League will be out Sunday to boost their averages in league play at Loyola field. These clubs are the Sons of St. George and the Spanish Americans. The Sons meet the L.A.A.C. Mercuries, a first division squad, in the 1 o'clock opener, while the Spaniards tackle the Scots in the second game. At this time the Sons and Spanish Americans are tied for fifth place with nine points each.

The league-leading Hollywood Sheiks play at Tournament Park Sunday against the Richfield club and figure to win handily. The second Pasadena game may prove the best clash of the day as it brings the Pasadena A.C.C. squad, a fast improving eleven, against the Vikings, now in second position.

BATTERY CHARGED TO "PRO" GRIDDER

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. (AP)—A warrant was issued by Judge Max Luster today for the arrest of William P. Fleckenstein, a member of the Chicago Bears' professional football team, charging him with assault and battery on Carroll (Pat) Flannigan, radio announcer of the WBBM Air Theater.

Fleckenstein is alleged to have broken Flannigan's nose during the Shires-Trafton fight at White City Monday night when he became angered at the announcer's request he stop swearing near the microphone.

IOWA SCHEDULES GAME WITH DETROIT TITANS

DETROIT, Dec. 18. (AP)—University of Detroit athletic officials announced today that they have booked a football game with the University of Iowa here next November 1. Coach Charles E. Dorais of the Titans said negotiations for the game were stated soon after the Iowa school was excluded from the Big Ten Conference.

HOLTZER FAVORED IN BOUT

French Feather Figured to Defeat Sparks in Go at Hollywood

Maurice Holtzer is considered by some fans, the best French featherweight since Eugene Criqui became champion of the world. Holtzer is fighting Ward Sparks of Detroit in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium tomorrow night and the French boy is the favorite. One of the ringsiders will be Georges Carpentier, whose former manager Francois Descamps, discovered Holtzer.

The Frenchman has the appearance of one of the best boys to be in a main event at the stadium in a long time. He is a body puncher and displays form that may get him some big shots, including bouts with Fidel La Barba, Earl Mastro and Ignacio Fernandez.

Hollywood fight fans are very apt to get a surprise when they see Ward Sparks perform. The Detroit fighter is going better now than at any time since he has been in California. Sparks is a good fighter but got off to a poor start in Los Angeles.

The semi-wind-up and special event are considered good fights by boxing men. Sid Torres, Filipino bantamweight, is said to have too much on the ball for Charley Sullivan, Bakersfield boy, and Jack Charvez, the Mexican middleweight, should beat Bobby Near, navy champion. Jess Mongaray and Cecil Geysel, welters, fight one four-rounder, and Boom Canon fights Sig Ecklund in the curtain raiser. They are light-heavyweights.

Van Fleet Ice Team Favored

Although the ranks of the Arrowhead Valley Club ice hockey team have been bolstered by the arrival of several Canadians during the past two weeks, Hector Proulx and his Van Fleet-Durkee pucksters will be favored to grab tonight's Southern California senior league contest at the Palais De Glace rink.

The Van Fleet-Durkees have been virtually skating their heads off in late games, and although some critics declare they have been playing over their heads, the fact remains that the most sensational forward line attack of the year has been presented by the station men. Monday night they drubbed the Shell Oilers for the second time in two weeks and when they trimmed Ernie Miller's sextet they beat the leaders of the league.

Art Palfrey has improved greatly and this center forward's work has been a big reason for the success of the aggregation. The Proulx brothers—three of them—are dependable enough and Russell Gruye and Walt Richards, two new men, have given the team the necessary defensive strength.

HOLLYWOOD FACES SHEIKS

League-Leading Oakland Squad Bound for Second Title Unless Millionaires Stop Them

Seemingly on the road to their second consecutive California Hockey League title, the champion Oakland Sheiks will return to the local territory tonight for the first of two games, meeting Arthur Guy Empey's Hollywood Millionaires at the Winter Garden Ice Palace at 8:30 p.m.

That is, the Sheiks are title-bound unless the other teams do something about it, particularly the Los Angeles clubs.

Oakland has been setting a hot pace all season and there is no sign of a let-up, so it is up to the other teams to equal the pace of the champions. Should the Oaks trip Hollywood tonight and the Los Angeles Richfield Monday night, they can return to the bay area feeling that the title is almost a cinch.

The Oaks won their last two games here, first belting Hollywood, 1 to 0, and then taking the Oilers into camp, 3 to 2.

However, the Hollywood win was hung up late in November and there is considerable difference in the present Hollywood team and the Millionaires of November. The Millionaires haven't been winning with any regularity but they are much better than they were then.

There is plenty to make Hollywood battle. Over the heads of some of the players hangs the threat of release unless they do better, while some of them face trading to other clubs. It has been brought out in recent games that Hollywood needs its new manager, "Smokey" Harris, but the team may get on its feet before he arrives.

Mel Malwick, part owner of the club, has demanded some winning games. He should not have to demand this, but players like "Peaches" Headley, Paul Maher and "Wolf" Peltier haven't been getting the results they should.

Hollywood's battling spirit never was more evident than in the 2-2 tie played with the Oilers Monday, and with the same spirit tonight the Empey clan may be able to tumble the league leaders. If rough style of play like that of Headley will suffice then the Millionaires will win, but there is a tough row ahead, with such players in the Oak line-up as Herb Dafoe, George Giroux, George Bond, Phil Stevens and Bud Cook.

Line-ups:

HOLLYWOOD		OAKLAND
T. Carrigan	Goal	Fowler
Headley	Defense	Stevens
Lanksbury	Defense	Bond
Comber	Wing	Sandercock
Wells	Wing	Horn
Maher	Wing	Bud Cook
D. Carrigan	Wing	Miller
Peltier	Wing	Dafoe
Braconier	Wing	Volkas
O'Connell	Wing	G. Giroux

DAVIS TO VOICE RADIO APPEAL

Chief Will Ask Co-operation in Fight Against Crime

Twenty Thousand Children to be Heard Via Chain

Atlantis Suite Selections on KHJ Group Schedule

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Broadcasting an appeal for individual co-operation with the police department by citizens of Los Angeles toward minimizing crime, Chief Davis will talk for fifteen minutes over KHJ at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Owing to a special broadcast of the St. Louis Symphony and a chorus of 20,000 children, to come over the Columbia Broadcasting System at 12:30 p.m. today, the regular world-wide news period has been advanced to 12:15, for today only.

The children will sing Christmas carols and the event should prove an unusual feature. The St. Louis Symphony is an eighty-piece organization and will be under the baton of Frederick Fischer. It now is in its fiftieth year and is the second oldest organization of its kind in the United States. Mr. Fischer has been with it twenty-five years. The program follows:

Orchestra—Introduction to Act III "Lohengrin."
Chorus—"Hour of Rest," Beethoven.
Orchestra—Massenet's "Pete Boheme" and "Angelus."
Chorus—"Silent Night."
Orchestra—"Dance of the Hours," from La Gioconda.
Chorus—"Come All Ye Faithful."
Orchestra—"American Fantasy."

ATLANTIS SUITE

Raymond Paige and the Sierra Symphonists will play four numbers from the Atlantis suite by V. F. Safranek at the Don Lee station, 7:30 to 8 p.m. The suite tells the story of the lost continent Atlantis, mentioned in Plato's History and the subject for volumes of research and fiction. Sound effects will play a large part in the effectiveness of this musical narrative. KHJ is probably the only station in the West that boasts a staff "sound-effectician." He is Charles Forsythe.

This will be a large and colorful day at KHJ, for other features of the broadcast will include Edward Everett Horton and Mary Astor, 7 to 7:30 p.m. and a continuity, "The Bells of San Gabriel," 8 to 9 p.m.

ADVENTURE OF ANATOL

Mr. Horton and Miss Astor, now playing in "Among the Married" at the Majestic Theater, will bring to the KHJ microphone another adventure of the gay and naughty Anatol. It is called "Christmas Shopping," and, of course, is from the pen of Arthur Schnitzler, Viennese playwright.

The "Bells of San Gabriel" in its original form a story-poem, was written by Arthur Justin Stephens of Los Angeles. The theme song for this production also is titled "The Bells of San Gabriel" and was made famous by Ernest R. Ball and members of his company in a stage presentation of years ago. The playlet opens with the young couple visiting the Mission Play in San Gabriel, and then taking a stroll through the old mission. They meet a Franciscan father who, in pointing out objects of interest, tells of "Dolores and Anselmo," the Spanish boy and girl of the story. The balance of the hour is devoted to this beautiful love story with its constant changing of moods, first to a Spanish fiesta and then to plots and cunning and then back to—but the ending must not be told. Van C. Newkirk has gleaned the story in modified form from the original book and put it into the mouth of the Franciscan father to tell, Leslie Brigham playing this part.

FINE SYMPHONY HOUR

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Alfred Hertz, will be heard over KFI at 7 p.m. and will present the following program: "Marche Militaire," Schubert; "Funeral March of a Marionette," Gounod; "Mignon: Entr' acte Gavotte," Thomas; "Mignon Overture," Thomas; children's corner, suite, Debussy, and "Spanish Caprice," Rimsky-Korsakoff.

TRIO RETURNS

Three college girls who made good on the legitimate stage will feature the 9 to 9:30 hour over KEJK Thursday evening, when the Co-ed Trio, singers, will make their initial Los Angeles appearance after a successful season in New York. The KEJK Dance Orchestra, with Joe Mitchell, vocal soloist, has prepared for the balance of the half hour a special program in which only the latest dance selections will be used.

Baby Blossom Le Mori, who, when she was 4 years of age, read her first story book on the former KHJ children's hour, is to appear at the Paramount Theater today, singing a song, "He Is So Unusual." Baby Blossom is now 8 and has just returned to Los Angeles. She toured the Orpheum circuit last summer.

APARTMENT DEAL RUED BY WRITER

Lois Weber Would Break Contract for Purchase on Grounds of Fraud

Lois Weber Gantz, known by her first two names as a scenario writer, filed suit for rescission of contract in Superior Court yesterday, claiming damages of $205,000 if the contract is allowed to be consummated. She also asked a temporary restraining order, which was signed by Superior Judge Craig, and the hearing set for the 23rd inst., in Superior Judge Gates's court.

Mrs. Gantz asserts there was fraud used to induce her to sign a contact for the purchase of the Park Lane apartment-house at Fourth and New Hampshire streets. She names as defendants Herman Balsam, Annabelle Balsam and Jennie Stack, from whom she purchased the apartment, and the realty firm which negotiated the deal.

Mrs. Gantz asks the return of a promissory note of $100,000 and one of $5000. She asks that the defendants be restrained from disposing of the property or their interest in it, represented by a trust deed. She says she was told the income of the property was $9000 a month and its appraised value, including furnishings, as $640,000. Later, she says, she discovered the value of the apartment-house was only $300,000 and the income not more than $6000 a month.

MARY PICKFORD SECURES PLAY

James Hall Placed Opposite Jeannette MacDonald; Radio's Sweetheart Signing With Universal; May Boley to Be Featured by M.-G.-M.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Now that Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks are on their way home, expecting to arrive in Hollywood early in January, we find that they are, according to the word received by friends here, already arranging for their next United Artists productions.

Miss Pickford is planning to make a talking picture of a play which ran successfully on Broadway last year. It is a dramatic piece, we learn, and one that will afford the star excellent opportunity to display her acting gifts. The play is now being negotiated for, and therefore the title is being withheld.

In the meantime, the Pickford-Fairbanks starring vehicle, "Taming of the Shrew," is to open at the United Artists Theater on Christmas Day.

JAMES HALL PLAYS SOUTH SEA LEAD

When Jeanette MacDonald starts work on her next Paramount starring vehicle, "Let's Go Native," she is to have a most excellent cast, according to announcement made yesterday.

JEANETTE MACDONALD

James Hall will play opposite her, while Skeets Gallagher will have a leading comedy role. He will indeed be teamed with Jack Oakie, the two to be co-featured as a comedy pair.

Leo McCarey has been borrowed from Pathe to direct the picture, which is to be commenced at once.

Radio Star With Universal

One by one the favorite singers on radio are coming out of their visual obscurity and becoming visible on the screen.

Now it is Jean Lang, who has long been known as "Radio's Sweetheart," whom everyone will have a chance to see as well as hear.

Miss Lang has been signed by Universal to do a specialty in Paul Whiteman's revue. She has been taking screen and talking-and-singing tests, and is said to have a face that for beauty matches her lovely voice.

It is said that Miss Lang, following the Whiteman engagement, is likely to sign a long-term contract with Universal.

Miss Lang is a protege of Charles Erwin, master of ceremonies in the revue.

May Boley With M.-G.-M.

May Boley, famous vaudeville and musical comedy star, was yesterday chosen by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play the role of Fannie Kaye, the jazz queen, in "The Song Writer," epic of Tin Pan Alley, which Marshall Neilan will direct with Lawrence Gray and Merna Kennedy in the principal roles.

MAY BOLEY

The comedienne, famous for her work in "Hit the Deck," "So Long, Letty" and other stage hits, will play the chief comedy character in the Neilan picture.

Louise Dresser Busy

Louise Dresser is to star in a big Fox special within the next few months. In other words as soon as a story suitable to her ability has been found.

LOUISE DRESSER

In the meantime the star is appearing in a leading featured role in M.-G.-M.'s "Immoral Ground," which William De Mille is directing.

"Immoral Ground" is, in fact, being remade. As completed a few weeks ago, it was a tremendously strong and dramatic story. However, being a war story, it involved some angles that M.-G.-M. officials felt might be displeasing to certain foreign nations, and so the story was rewritten and is being refilmed. Miss Dresser is now playing the same central role, that of a soldier's mother, which she portrayed in the original picture.

Milton Sills With R.-K.-O.

It is likely, we learn, that Milton Sills will soon sign a contract with R.-K.-O.

Sills's wife, Doris Kenyon, is now playing the lead in an R.-K.-O. picture.

Sills's last work as a star was with First National, where Miss Kenyon was also a contract player. Miss Kenyon recently closed in a New York stage play.

Ned Sparks In It

Ned Sparks has been given the feature comedy role in "Yonder Grow the Daisies," a new mystery film which goes into production soon after the first of the year.

Sparks is now making a new fame for himself in the talkers. His performances in "Street Girl" and "Love Comes Along" at R.-K.-O. have brought him into most favorable notice.

Lelia Karnelly Signs

Lelia Karnelly, blond Russian girl, is the latest addition to the cast of "Slightly Scarlet," the continental melodramatic romance in which Paramount is co-starring Evelyn Brent and Clive Brook.

The actress made her theatrical debut in the stage production of "The Swan," with Edward Everett Horton. She next took the part of the Russian girl Olga in "The Cock-Eyed World," and she completed a role in "Married in Hollywood" shortly before joining the "Slightly Scarlet" cast.

Englishman Spoofed Her, What, What?

M. H. Seymour, he assured Mrs. Nora E. Seymour, according to her testimony in Superior Judge Fleming's court yesterday, was not only an English baronet who signed himself "Sir Edward Seymour, Bart.," but was a veteran of the British R.A.C.

Seymour's qualifications as a husband were further enhanced by his purported license as a transport pilot, Mrs. Seymour asserted.

"But all these representations were false," said Mrs. Seymour.

"It looks as though you had been 'had,' as the British say," commented Judge Fleming.

"Yes," admitted the plaintiff," he spoofed me, what, what?" said Mrs. Seymour, having the last word as the court signed her decree.

Council Told of Chance to Save on Public Work

On motion of Commissioner Wirsching, the Board of Public Works yesterday directed a communication to City Engineer Shaw and to the City Council stating that the prices at which public improvements now can be obtained are "exceptionally low" and that great savings to assessment payers can be assured if needed public work is contracted for while the low costs prevail.

The number and value of public works contracts awarded during the past several months have dropped off materially, with the result that contractors and material men find equipment idle and stocks quiet, combining to create a state of keen competition.

Three Injured in Room Blast

A blast of flame seared three men yesterday when they entered a room on the seventh floor of the Hollingsworth Building, Sixth and Hill streets, to do plumbing work. Police report that gas had escaped in the room, and that some one lighted a cigarette. The explosion did little damage to the room.

The injured men are J. H. Morsch, 42 years of age, an elevator operator, of 1625 East Eighty-first street; Louis Kimble, 36, a plumber, of 2125 Overland avenue, Westwood, and Arthur Gustafson, 33, a plumber, of 5201 Coringa avenue. Each man received third degree burns on face, hands and neck. They were treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

Santa to Attend City Hall Party

To take part in the gala Christmas party of the City Mothers at the Los Angeles City Hall Saturday noon, Santa Claus of "Santa Claus Lane" in Hollywood, will depart with his reindeer from his film colony headquarters for the only time this year.

Accompanying Santa will be Col. Harry M. Baine, president of the Hollywood Boulevard Association, who will extend formal invitation to Mayor Porter to be Santa's sleigh guest Saturday night.

FINANCIER GIVES SELF UP

John A. Evans Surrenders Following Indictment and Obtains Release on $20,000 Bond

John A. Evans, president of the John A. Evans Company, investment concern, yesterday surrendered to Capt. Fox of the Sheriff's fugitive detail on three counts of grand theft charged in an indictment returned by the grand jury Tuesday. Capt. Fox assigned Deputy Sheriffs Willey and Pennywitt to accompany Evans to Judge Doran's department of Superior Court, where he deposited a property bail-bond of $20,000 and was released.

Judge Doran, who accepted the bond in the absence of Judge Aggeler, before whom Evans ordinarily would have been taken, did not fix a date for arraignment, but it is probable it will take place today. With the suspect when he surrendered was his attorney, William Simpson.

The indictment against Evans, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Cooper, is an outgrowth of three transactions negotiated during the early months of 1927 and involving a total of nearly $14,000. In one Evans is asserted to have obtained $5013.67, in another, $7000, and in the third, $1900.60.

When notified he had been indicted Tuesday Evans, through his attorney, characterized the charges as having resulted from an inter-family disagreement, and said he would welcome the opportunity to clear himself.

JACK OAKIE WILL TAKE STAGE BOW

Popular Comedian Plans Appearance at Paramount; "Sweetie" to Start

HELEN KANE

The freckled-face comedian of the screen, Jack Oakie, will appear in person tonight at the Paramount Theater. "Sweetie," the tuneful musical comedy in which he is featured together with Nancy Carroll and Helen Kane, opens at the Paramount today.

Considered as one of the most versatile "wisecrackers" in the picture business, Oakie creates a riot in "Sweetie" by his singing of "Alma Mammy," it is said. In this film, rollicking humor, tuneful melodies and romance dominate. Among the high spots are Miss Carroll's dancing and singing of "Sweeter Than Sweet," Helen Kane's baby-voice "boop-boopa-dooping" the latest songs, and Jack Oakie handling his clever slang.

A song cartoon, "Old Gray Bonnet," is one of the short subjects on the program. Paramount Sound News will also be presented. Milton Charles has arranged some new organ numbers, symbolic of the Yuletide season.

Actor Deserts High Finance for Film Roles

Jack Oakie was a social success long before he became a footlight and screen favorite. In fact, his appearance in the Junior League Follies in New York in 1919 was so successful that he left Wall street to struggle along as best it could without him and accepted a part with Lulu McConnell in "Innocent Eyes."

Oakie's screen record for the last seven months includes ten talking pictures and ten distinct personal hits for himself. Since his appearance in "Street Girl," Radio Pictures' have considered him an outstanding star and this attitude led to the casting of Oakie in the star part of "Bilge" Smith in "Hit the Deck," the picturization of the popular musical comedy, which has been chosen to reopen the Orpheum on Christmas morning.

Importance is added to the world premiere of "Hit the Deck" by the fact that the picture was chosen by R.-K.-O. circuit officials from a long list of special productions to introduce the Orpheum in its new dress. Luther Reed directed "Hit the Deck."

Quaint Customs Seen on Screen at Boulevard

"Christina," the Janet Gaynor starring vehicle which is having its first local showing at the Boulevard Theater today, has as its locale the small island of Marken, off the coast of Holland. All the quaint costumes, customs and scenes have been stressed.

She portrays a little Dutch girl who lives in a world of dreams for the happiness of her father, a blind toy maker. She dreams that some day her Prince Charming will ride into the village and claim her . . . and that is just what he does.

The story was written by Tristum Tupper and directed by William K. Howard. Others in the cast are Charles Morton, who played opposite Miss Gaynor in "Four Devils," and Rudolph Schildkraut.

BEAUDINE FINISHES

William Beaudine will film the concluding scenes of "His Woman," a First National production with an all-star cast, next week and will not start another picture until after the new year. In the cast of the talkie are Lila Lee, Monte Blue, Betty Compson and William Boyd.

"SHANNONS" NOVEL CHRISTMAS GIFT

James Gleason

James Gleason wrote "The Shannons of Broadway," the Universal all-talking comedy starting today at the Million Dollar, as a Christmas present to his wife, Lucile Webster Gleason, in 1927. A few months later it was presented on Broadway and broke records at the Martin Beck Theater with a run of thirty-nine weeks. It has been playing steadily ever since on the road and in stock. New features have been added to the screen version in which Gleason and Mrs. Gleason have the title roles.

"This Thing Called Love"

Carmelita Geraghty

Portrays a prominent part in the film comedy of married life which starts today at Loew's State Theater. Constance Benentt and Edmund Lowe are costarred. A Laurel and Hardy picture offers additional entertainment.

Noted Musical Director Signed for "Susanna"

Constantin Bakaleinikoff, noted musical conductor, has been engaged to direct the orchestra at the Mayan Theater for "Oh, Susanna!" the musical romance of the gold rush days which makes its debut on the 27th inst.

Bakaleinikoff conducted the orchestra at the Mayan Theater when this house first opened more than two years ago. Since that time he has appeared as conductor of the Egyptian, Warner Brothers and Criterion Theater orchestras. During the past year and a half he has been associated with many of the major motion-picture studios applying his talents and ability in conjunction with sound pictures.

The music that Aubrey Stauffer has written for this sparkling stage play will afford this conductor an opportunity to display more of his talents than any musical production he has been associated with during the past five years, it is said.

Carlotta King and Wallace MacDonald have the leading roles in this production.

Chinese Plans Gala Matinee

Kriss Kringle's Midnight Frolic at Grauman's Chinese Theater, where "Condemned," starring Ronald Colman, is now current, will offer the Pom-Pom girls in a return engagement. So successful were they at last week's late show and so steady the demand for their appearance that the management of the Chinese will present them again in new and more spectacular dance formations.

In addition, other entertainment will surround the Pom-Pom Girls. Negotiations are under way for the appearance of Muriel Stryker, former Ziegfeld dancer; Arline Langan, who appeared locally with Ted Lewis; Montgomery and Ward, Danny Joy, and the Carla Tornay Girls.

Nils Asther to Attend Ski-Jump

Motion-picture stars are not always the fine athletes which their film accomplishments make them appear. However, this is not true of them all, either, as several motion-picture stars like Douglas Fairbanks, Victor McLaglen and Nils Asther have definite records for athletic achievements.

Next month there is a ski-jumping tournament in Gary, Ill., and Asther, who is an expert skier of years' experience in this sport in Norway and Sweden, is making plans to attend the affair if possible and probably capture some of the prizes offered the winners in the games.

Radio Dramas Prove Popular

Edward Everett Horton has brought an interesting innovation to radio programs. Mr. Horton, who has done long and short pictures for the screen, long and short plays for the stage, is now doing one-act sketches for the radio.

He recently gave "The 99th Commandment" from one of the local broadcasting stations, which brought hundreds of enthusiastic letters from radio fans.

COLORED PLAYERS MODEL NEW GOWNS

The feminine members of the Lafayette Players, who are this week presenting "Paid in Full" at the Lincoln Theater, are fast becoming the fashion models for the women of Central avenue and the surrounding colored district.

No sooner do Evelyn Preer, Cleo Desmond or Theresa Brooks appear on the stage in a new costume than a few days later that same gown may be seen duplicated several times in the smart gathering places for colored people.

ACTRESS DONS CORK

Betty Farrington, who has just been cast for the role of Camilla, the colored sweetie of the rivals, Moran and Mack, in Paramount's "Two Black Crows in the A.E.F.," was last seen on the stage in Los Angeles at the Belasco Theater in support of Doris Keane in "The Pirate."

'Sunny Side Up' Continues Run at Fox Palace

"Sunny Side Up," marching toward new record marks throughout the country, reopened at the Fox Palace Theater yesterday in continuation of its premiere showing at Grauman's Chinese.

The original Fox Movietone musical, the creation of De Sylva, Brown and Henderson, has been toppling records with regularity, studio reports disclose, and the extension of its first run at the downtown Fox Palace will add Los Angeles to the list of cities where records have been established.

Revealing Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell as the principals of a gay musical romance, "Sunny Side Up" has achieved its success by virtue of its abundance of melodies which received instant popularity. David Butler, the director, and Seymour Felix, who staged the dances, have vested the production with a rich beauty and massiveness. El Brendel, Sharon Lynn, Marjorie White, Frank Richardson and Joe Brown add to the production.

Barrymore Has Father Role in 'General Crack'

Like father—like son. John Barrymore, the eminent stage and screen star who is said to resemble his noted father, Maurice, in appearance and mannerisms more than other members of the "royal family," has an opportunity to portray a father in the prologue of "General Crack," in which he enacts the stellar role at Warner Brothers Hollywood Theater.

In the prologue of "General Crack" many important sidelights bearing on the story are established. Barrymore appears as the father of his own characterization in the story, while Philippe De Lacy plays Barrymore's role as a youth, twenty years previous to the unfolding of the romantic adventure of Gen. Crack.

Lowell Sherman, Marian Nixon, Armida, Hobart Bosworth, and man others have important roles in support of Barrymore. Alan Crosland directed.

"Diamond Lil" Material Taken From Real Life

When "Chicago May" Churchill, reformed criminal of international notoriety, died recently, at a Philadelphia hospital, two days before she was to be married, Mae West, author and star of "Diamond Lil" coming to the Biltmore Theater for two weeks only beginning Sunday evening, lost a friend and an ardent admirer.

Some of the material for "Diamond Lil" came from the underworld lore of the woman who passed away at the age of 52. "When I was writing 'Diamond Lil' I needed atmosphere and the argot of the underworld as applied to several of the characters in the play. It was then that I had the good fortune to meet 'Chicago May' Churchill," said Miss West. "She had reformed and was living a quiet, decent life. She helped materially."

"Hot for Paris" Includes Songs by El Brendel

One of the notable comedy songs introduced in "Hot For Paris," Raoul Walsh's Fox movietone production, which opens Christmas Day at the Criterion Theater, is "The Cuckoo Song," written by Walter Donaldson and Edgar Leslie and sung by El Brendel, noted comic.

Brendel made his singing debut on the screen in "The Cock-Eyed World." For many years, on the stage, Brendel was one-half of the comedy team of Brendel and Bert. The other half of the team was Flo Bert—in private life Mrs. Brendel.

Brendel plays the role of Axel Olson in "Hot for Paris," in which Victor McLaglen, Fifi Dorsay, Charles Judels and many others are seen and heard in many hilarious comedy situations.

STAGE STAR SIGNED FOR 'REAR CAR'

Betty Pierce, Eastern Player, to Essay Leading Vine-street Role

In accord with his policy of building up his casts with outstanding players, Franklin Pangborn has just signed Betty Pierce, New York stage star, for a leading role in "The Rear Car," which opens Christmas afternoon at the Vine-street Theater.

Many Manhattan leads have been played by Miss Pierce, but she is best known for having created the role of Tondeleyo in the original New York production of "White Cargo."

Gay Seabrook, local favorite, is to have the other feminine lead. Pangborn himself will play the detective role in this comedy melodrama.

Mervyn Le Roy New Champion of Ping Pong

MERVYN LeROY.

Shades of Achilles and the poisoned arrow! Another weakness in the life of filmland's citizens has just been unearthed.

It has just been discovered that the ancient game of ping pong is now the craze among the screen's elite. For the past few months, competitive matches have been held between numerous of the film folk, with the result that recently the two outstanding players who survived the tournament, Mervyn LeRoy, First National director, and Arthur Freed, prominent lyricist, engaged in a sanguine and hectic "battle" for the championship.

LeRoy, let it be said, triumphed over his adversary and is now the champion ping pong player of Malibu Beach. He is also responsible for the direction of "Little Johnny Jones," now playing at Warners' Downtown Theater.

Nathan Milstein to Play Tonight at Philramonic

Nathan Milstein, the brilliant 25-year-old Russian violinist, who will appear as soloist with the Philharmonic Orchestra of Los Angeles, Dr. Artur Rodzinski, conductor, tonight and tomorrow afternoon, began his first American tour in October of this year, and made his orchestral debut in this country with the Philadelphia Orchestra, under Stokowski.

This young artist was born in Odessa, and studied first in his native city under Prof. Stoliarski, and later in Petrograd under Prof. Auer. During the revolution period he managed to study and play, making a series of tours with his friend, the famous pianist, Vladimir Horowitz, who will appear as soloist with the Philharmonic Orchestra, January 2-3, next.

Opera Stars to Visit Chinese

This afternoon the entire Columbia Grand Opera company together with Alberto Conti and his celebrated orchestra will be guests of honor at Grauman's Chinese Theater at the matinee of Ronald Colman in "Condemned."

The invitation was extended by the managing director of the Chinese, and Alexander Bevani, director-general of the opera company, readily accepted for his organization. Many prominent opera lovers of Hollywood and stars of the films are planning to stage an informal reception for the opera stars in the Chinese forecourt.

NO VOICE DOUBLES FOR NOTED ACTRESS

Carmel Myers

"A voice is part of a personality." says Carmel Myers, who has a leading role in "Broadway Scandals," the film starting today at the R.-K.-O. Theater. "I don't believe in voice doubles for talking picture actors. My voice apparently issuing from another's mouth would be no more convincing than my head on another's shoulders." In "Broadway Scandals" Miss Myers plays the part of an actress who assumes a French accent which slips now and then.

SAD CASE OF BOOB, ONE CAMEL-CLIPPER

King Solomon, presiding over Common Pleas Court No. 7, yawned right royalty. There had been a swill—I mean swell—banquet in his place the night before and providing amusement for his thousand wives had proved really tiresome.

"Case of Boob, the camel clipper, caught with the goods," bawled out the court crier.

Boob, the camel clipper, dangled forth with his camel clippers at his belt.

"What's the matter with you?" asked the King, with a frown.

"This Boob fellow, oh, most wise, was found in a tent outside the city making shekels out of tomato cans!" cried an officer of the guard.

"A-ha! A kounteerceiter—pshaw! I mean counterfeiter!" quoth the King, leaning upon his jeweled scepter.

The prisoner adopted a sad, repentant air and lowered his eyes, the better to appeal to the well-known softness of the wisest King. But seeing the famous lawyer, Plee, nearby, he managed to whisper in his ear:

"Oh, Plee, if you can induce the King to sentence me to but five years at marble splitting my fortune of two talents, one cow and five wives shall be yours!"

"Done!" said Plee, and he got the King's ear long enough to plead into it.

"Five years at marble splitting!" was King Sol's verdict.

II

"Thanks, Plee," said Boob, warmly shaking friend lawyer's hand. "Here's the deed to all I promised you, signed, sealed and now delivered. Thanks, old fellow. Did you have much trouble in persuading the King?"

"Yes, I did," admitted Plee. "He actually was going to acquit you." — [Detroit Free Press.

GAS COMPANIES TO ARGUE CUTS

Local Utilities to be Heard by Commission Today

One Will Protest Against Any Rate Slash

Making Most Reductions Out of City Other's Desire

Hearings involving the rates and practices of two Southern California gas distributing companies are set for today before Commissioner Carr of the State Railroad Commission. The companies involved are the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and the Southern Counties Gas Company.

The hearings are the outgrowth of the commission's State-wide campaign of investigation of public utilities with a view to forcing lower rates for consumers of gas, electricity and telephone service.

BATTLE EXPECTED

A stiff battle against commission engineers' claims, made at a previous hearing, that the utility gas earnings are excessive and should be reduced is expected to develop when attorneys for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation open their defense before Commissioner Carr this morning. Similar claims by the engineers concerning the company's electricity earnings resulted in a voluntary reduction of $757,000 for 1930 from the company.

In the matter of the claims of State engineers that earnings of its gas distributing department are excessive, however, it was indicated by Atty. Herman Phleger, special counsel, the company will fight these assertions and offer documentary evidence to the contrary. The hearing may last several days.

The hearing in connection with the State Railroad Commission's investigation into the rates of the Southern Counties Gas Company, however, is expected to be brief. At a recent session company officials offered to reduce earnings for 1930 by $200,000. They were directed by Commissioner Carr to submit at today's session three alternative schedules of rate reductions to show just how the $200,000 cut would be distributed throughout the company's various Southern California systems.

The company serves a large number of communities outside of Los Angeles and informed the commission that it prefers to apply at east two-thirds of the proposed reduction to the Santa Monica Bay region. Attorney Edwards will represent the company at the rate hearings.

DOCTOR'S BODY FOUND IN OCEAN

Prominent Beverly Hills Physician Said to Have Taken His Own Life

The body of Dr Harrington Bennett Monroe, 51 years of age, prominent Beverly Hills physician, was washed ashore yesterday at Ocean Park, and according to the police report, the physician met death by suicide. The body was discovered and identified following a search for Dr. Monroe which was started when he failed to return to his home, 522 North Alpine Drive, Beverly Hills, Tuesday evening, after he told members of his family he was going to visit one of the beach clubs at Santa Monica for the evening. The body was found fully clothed beneath the automobile park pier at Ocean Park.

Santa Monica police found Dr. Monroe's car at the Deauville auto park. He was a member of the Deauville Beach Club, and dined there Tuesday night, seemingly absorbed in thought, according to a waiter. He left the club at 9 p.m. Tuesday.

Dr. Monroe was a brother of Dr. William Bennett Monroe, head of the history department of the California Institute of Technology and a brother-in-law of T. J. Reynolds, 714 North Elm Drive, Beverly Hills.

Dr. Monroe was a native of Canada and received his medical degree at McGill University at Montreal and also attended Queen's University at Kingston, Ont. He had been a resident of Los Angeles and Beverly Hills since 1917. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Norval Monroe, but no children.

Members of the family said last night that arrangements for the funeral had not been completed but services probably will be conducted Saturday.

PETITION ASKS FOR RECALL OF MAYOR

SOUTH GATE, Dec. 18.—A petition in twenty-two parts requesting the City Council to call a special election for the purpose of deciding whether Mayor A. J. Schoby should retain his official position in the City Council or be recalled, has been filed with City Clerk Herbert Pieffer. The petition contains the signatures of 815 persons, 673 signatures, or one-fourth the number of votes cast at the last city election, being all that are necessary.

The petition charges that "said Mayor has favored extravagant paving and lighting proceedings in the city of South Gate to the extent that taxes and assessments have become very burdensome to the people; and has not in general conducted himself as such member of the board (of trustees) for the best interests of the city of South Gate, and has been unfaithful to his trust."

BANDITS GET $150 IN LAUNDRY HOLD-UP

Held up at the point of a revolver last night, Fred G. Winter, manager of the Grand Hand Laundry at 2215 South Grand avenue, was left bound in the plant by two robbers, who stole $150 from him. Winter was alone in the front office when one man shoved a revolver against his back and marched him into a rear room, where he was left bound and gagged. A second robber ransacked the office while the first one took the money from Winters. After they left, Winters hobbled to an adjoining poolroom and was untied.

Holiday Cheer Assured for Needy

Gifts Galore Packed for Distribution
Katherine Hoppe, Dorothy Davis and Mildred Hilton busy helping Los Angeles Lodge of Elks in its Christmas effort.

ELKS HEED GREAT EXAMPLE

Word of Master Followed in Bringing Joy Into Lives of Unfortunate Children of City

"Mr. Elkes—Dear Friend, I wish you all would help us. We need help very bad. My father is sick and is not able to feed us. My mother has seven children she have to work hard to feed us. We need clothes and I wish you would bring us some toys for Christmas. Yours truly, James Junior."

What would most persons with an iota of imagination do with a plea like that? Well, that is just exactly what the Big Brother Committee of the Los Angeles Elks is doing, except that instead of one James, Jr., to whom it will play Santa Claus, there will be several thousand Jimmies and their sisters.

Under the direction of George F. Bradley, chairman of the Big Brother Committee and of the Christmas committee, in accordance with an annual custom, Christmas will be made a day really worth remembering for about 9000 children of the city, who otherwise might have no reason to rejoice at at all.

ORPHANS' APPEALS

Some 4000 boys and girls from the various orphanages of Los Angeles write letters each year to the Big Brothers and as nearly as is humanly possible their hearts' desires are fulfilled. In addition each child is completely outfitted from head to toes, with even a hanky thrown in for good measure.

Besides these, boxes with clothes and toys are sent to approximately 5000 more children who have written to the Elks of their needs and, along with the clothing and such, there goes a basket containing turkey and all of the fixings for the family.

This year an additional treat for the children of the Olive View Sanatorium is a pony with saddle and bridle for the girls and another one for the boys.

YEAR'S EFFORT

After spending almost the entire year purchasing materials and assembling the things which go into the children's boxes, Bradley, with a staff of sixteen Big Brothers, starts a concentrated order-filling campaign in the Christmas room of the club right after Thanksgiving so that every parcel is ready for delivery the day before Christmas, when about 1000 volunteer cars are on hand and the work of delivery of the 9000 boxes is accomplished before the day is over.

In conjunction with the Santa Claus part played by the Big Brothers all of the Elks of Southern California unite to dispense Christmas cheer to the residents of the county poor farm. Every man receives tobacco and a pipe, a handkerchief, suspenders, tie, knife and a new silver dollar and each woman a box of candy, a handkerchief and a silver dollar.

Grocer Buys Crated Stones

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 18.—This man will count his eggs before they are purchased. The police here today were investigating a lucrative business that left Donocian Gil, grocer of 1222 Park avenue, short about $10 and in possession of a box of fine quality, full-sized, hand-picked, well-assorted stones.

According to Officer Joe Rye, who with Sergt. Coste investigated, an American appeared at Gil's store last evening and offered to sell what appeared to be a case of Grade A eggs. Gil bought the case, paying the stranger $13.20.

This morning Gil had a call for several dozen of eggs for breakfast. He used up the top layer and pulled off the cardboard separator. The bottom of the case was filled with small stones packed in the cardboard containers, so as to give just the right rattle. He called police.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 18.—Members of Robert McColley Post, American Legion, have arranged for their annual Christmas entertainment for the children, which will be given Monday night at Patriotic Hall, the program to be provided by Culver Stanton.

A Santa Claus will be present to distribute gifts among the children. The members of the post will go to the San Fernando Hospital Friday night, where they will play Santa Claus to the veterans in that institution.

The post membership has now reached 170 for the year 1930.

PAIR TRIED IN ROBBERY OFFER ALIBI

Eight Witnesses Called for Kavanaugh and Wife in Theater Safe Theft

Efforts to establish an alibi for Edward Kavanaugh, 33 years of age, and his wife, Mary, were launched yesterday in Superior Judge Wilson's court where the Kavanaughs are on trial on charges of burglary and grand theft growing out of the disappearance August 19, last, of $12,800 from the safe of the United Artists Theater.

The State charges Kavanaugh entered the office of the theater shortly after midnight and robbed the safe of its contents while his wife stood guard outside the theater lobby.

Defense Attorney S. S. Hahn yesterday called eight witnesses to support the defense alibi. Four of them, employees of the theater, admitted they did not see Kavanaugh or his wife in the theater the night the safe was plundered. The other four are neighbors of the Kavanaughs and they testified they saw Mrs. Kavanaugh at home about midnight of August 19, the approximate time of the robbery.

It is expected testimony will be concluded today and the case probably will go to the jury tomorrow.

BANDIT GANG SUSPECT HELD

Police Believe Prisoner "Master Mind" of Band That Preys on Petting Parties

With the arrest of Sam Castro, 19 years of age, of 1639 East Thirty-third street, police yesterday expressed the belief they have in custody the "master mind" of the hold-up men who have been terrorizing petting parties recently in all parts of the city. Castro was apprehended in a room at 701 East Fifty-fifth street by Detective Lieutenants Rath and Maxwell, working under direction of Capt. Cahill, chief of the Central robbery squad, who has led the concerted search for the gang. He was booked on suspicion of robbery.

With the arrest of Sam Castro, 19 years of age of 1639 East Thirty-third street, police yesterday expressed the belief they have in custody the "master mind" of the hold-up men who have been terrorizing petting parties recently in all parts of the city. Castro was apprehended in a room at 701 East Fifty-fifth street by Detective Lieutenants Rath and Maxwell, working under direction of Capt. Cahill, chief of the Central robbery squad, who has led the concerted search for the gang. He was booked on suspicion of robbery.

According to the detectives, Castro confessed to participation in three recent burglaries and eight robberies he characterized as strong-arm jobs in which pedestrians and couples parked at roadsides were robbed by force.

Castro is asserted to be the leader of a gang which came to police attention last Saturday night when Hollywood officers arrested four youths who they charge were acting suspiciously in an automobile. The suspects are Perry Wall of 1308 West Fifty-ninth street, Frank Maliza of 4515 Ramsdale avenue, La Crescenta, James Frabasilo of 8224 Long Beach Boulevard, and Roy Jensen, no address. All are held on suspicion of robbery.

In a police show-up arranged last Monday night, the four were identified by the victims of thirty-six recently reported petting-party hold-ups, according to the detectives.

JURY SYSTEM'S REVISION URGED

Newlin Would Excuse None From Court Service

Ex-National Bar Head Tells Club of Reforms

Comment on Evidence by Judges Called Need

Advocating changes in court procedure to include both the abolition of exemption from jury duty of any class of citizens and the right of judges to comment to juries on evidence submited, Gurney E. Newlin, former president of the American Bar Association, in an address at the City Club yesterday said that evils of the jury system should be cured by constructive remedies instead of doing away with the entire system.

"There is an increasing distrust throughout the country of the efficiency and justice of the system of trial by jury, a distrust shared by many of the leading jurists," said Mr. Newlin. "However, I do not believe there ever has been offered a better plan than the jury system for determining facts and obtaining justice. I would like to strike all exemption clauses from the laws for it is reasonable to believe that the cause of justice would be enhanced by allowing intelligent men and women, such as members of the National Guard, preachers and teachers to serve upon juries.

OBLIGATIONS GREAT

"The obligations upon a citizen to serve his country are as great in times of peace as in war time and if citizens do not defend their laws and institutions in peace time, our government will fall just as surely as if they fail to rally to the colors in time of strife."

Declaring the law which deprives a judge of the right to make comments to the jury amounts often to a "muzzling of justice," Mr. Newlin said that to change this law would be to substitute for passion, prejudice and the appeal of counsel an impartial statement of the case to the jury by the trial judge.

VERDICTS REVERSED

"We have the record of hundreds of cases in which the Appellate Court has reversed verdicts of the lower courts because those verdicts were given under the influence of passion or prejudice," said the speaker. "If trial by jury is abolished we shall lose what we have considered the safeguard of our judicial system."

More than 200 lawyers attended the meeting which was sponsored by a committee of City Club members consisting of Attorneys W. H. Anderson, E. T. Bishop, W. J. Carr, Kimpton Ellis, William Hazlett, Joseph Scott, H. A. Hollzer, W. B. Mathews, L. W. Myers, Nathan Newby, Paul Overton, Marshall Stimson, S. B. Robinson and J. E. Stephens.

Missing Realty Dealer Sought on Coast Road

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Mystery in the disappearance of J. H. Rogers, a real estate dealer, led police today to make a search along the shore highways from Manhattan Beach to points far north of here. Rogers, whose address was the real estate office of C. H. Ashford, 1623 Montana avenue, Santa Monica, drove away Monday to see a client at Manhattan Beach regarding some real estate. He has not been seen by associates since.

Ashford reported finding Rogers's car at the rear of his office yesterday morning. Windows were broken and on the bumpers was rubbed white paint as though they had struck a white guard rail. Drops of blood on the car seat and on the office towel and washbowl led Ashford to believe that Rogers had been injured.

A check of all hospitals failed to locate the missing real estate man. Ashford and Policeman Bray today made inquiries along the shore in an effort to learn of any accident in which Rogers might have been injured.

Claims Against Bonelli Taken Up by Official

Hearing of sixty-four labor claims amounting to $3800 against William G. Bonelli, growing out of the latter's last election campaign, was undertaken yesterday by Deputy Labor Commissioner Lowy. Nearly a score of claims were disposed of, and twice that number, it is expected, will be aired today.

Mrs. L. Kathleen Michaels, clubwoman, entered a claim for $170. Commissioner Lowy allowed her $85. The claim of L. E. Fuller of Glendale for $946.98 was disallowed when it developed that the claimant had been paid $500. Col. O. C. Wyman, campaign manager of Bonelli, testified Fuller had not been hired for any definite time. The claim of Douglas Churchill for $433.35 was continued until January 6, 1930, when he refused to accept an allowance of half the sum in settlement.

Claims of Guy L. Benson and R. V. Fritzer were dismissed when the claimants failed to appear, and those of Charles Brittingham and Charles S. Gibson were dismissed for lack of evidence.

MME. SANTA CLAUS GETS BUSY

She Will Entertain Throng of Children

Feminine Patron Saint to Spread Joy
Mme. Yvonne Clos, superintendent of the French Hospital, with an armful of gifts for her annual Christmas party standing in front of the Christmas tree which will be enjoyed by North Broadway district youngsters.

DESPITE the yearly controversy in youthful minds over the existence of Santa Claus, at least there is a Mme. Santa Claus—in the person of Mme. Yvonne Clos, affectionately known to hundreds of North Broadway youngsters as the feminine patron saint at Christmas time and every day as the superintendent of the French Hospital.

Mme. Clos has a real claim for the title; she was born December 25 and her maiden name was Nicholas, but further she is preparing for her sixth Christmas party for children in the dining-room of the French Hospital. Last night Mme. Clos told how she won the title of Mme. Santa Claus and the friendship of her "family" of children.

"Six years ago," she said, "I decided to have a Christmas tree for the nurses here in the hospital and invited a few children in to share the fun. Since then the idea has grown until now we will have about 200 youngsters for our Christmas party next Tuesday evening."

Mme. Clos said the French pronunciation of her name is the same as Claus in English and that her maiden name of Nicholas was the same as the French name for St. Nick.

Tuesday evening Mme. Clos will give dolls, games and toys to her 200 wide-eyed children and in addition will entertain them with a program featuring child motion-picture players. The Watson family with Coil, 13 years of age; Vivian, 12; Gloria, 11; Louise, 9; Harry, 8; Bell, 6; Delmar, 4, and Baby Watson, 2, are scheduled for a series of dances and songs and other children will include Buster Davern, Dot Werner, Don Werner, Bagy Maylin, Madelin Lifur, Jean Groger, Mary Jane Lathrop, Florence Lathrop and Lawrence Lathrop. Harry Gallup, a motion-picture actor, will be master of ceremonies and Jetta Goudal, motion-picture actress, and French Consul Didot have agreed to help Mme. Santa Claus with her party.

Elks Give Honor to Youngworth

Leo V. Youngworth, Imperial Potentate of the Shriners, last night was honor guest at a banquet at the Los Angeles Elks' Lodge in their temple, Westlake Park, to mark his return from a nation-wide tour on Shrine activities. Mr. Youngworth is a Past Exalted Ruler of the lodge.

Members of the lodge with their officers, headed by Edward A. Gibbs, present Exalted Ruler, joined with the Elks drill team, chanters and band, in a gesture of welcome to Mr. Youngworth. The festival was attended by members of the Elks in addition to Shriner members of the lodge. The program following the banquet was featured by a number of exhibitions by the drill team, chanters and band, reviewing in miniature the national conventions of the Elks and Shriners held in Los Angeles during 1929.

Wilshire Group Discusses Fares

Possibilities of obtaining universal transfers for Los Angeles between yellow and red cars was the subject of discussion last night at the meeting of the Wilshire Community Association, the gathering assembling at 501 South Western avenue.

A committee was appointed to see if it is possible to get the matter started through various organizations in the western part of the city. Representatives of the Pico Business Men's Association, West Adams Chamber of Commerce, Beverly Boulevard Association, the VermontShire Association and the Northwest Chamber of Commerce were selected as members of the committee.

FREIBURG PLAYERS BREAKFAST GUESTS

The Freiburg Players, performers of the "Passion Play," who are on their first visit to the United States, are announced to be guests this morning at the holiday meeting of the Hollywood Breakfast Club in the clubhouse at Sunset Fields, 4201 Angeles Mesa Drive. The actors, who hail from Baden, in the Black Forest of Germany, are to appear at the Philharmonic Auditorium beginning tomorrow under management of L. E. Behymer. Judge Ira F. Thompson of the District Court of Appeals will be the principal speaker at the breakfast. His subject will be "A Message of Friendship." Entertainment will be contributed by "The Paramount Ramblers," vocalists, and a ten-piece harmonica band under direction of O. K. Hanason.

FIRE SQUAD FANS SPARK IN INFANT

Tipton Baby Given Hope of Life After Two Days of Constant Battle

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 18.—The 18-day-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Pearson of Tipton district was able to breathe naturally for intervals of from thirty to forty-five minutes this morning, following almost forty-eight hours continuous effort on the part of members of the fire department to save its life. It is now believed to have a chance for recovery.

Fire Chief Ross Gardner, who remained at the child's bedside most of yesterday and last night, was still at his post this morning, directing operations of an inhalator to provide artificial respiration for the little one when needed. He is being relieved in the operation of the inhalator by various members of the department. Dr. Newton Miller is the physician in charge.

This is the third time the local fire department has been called in such a fight against death. They won in one case, while their efforts were unavailing in the other.
